Soviet Arms Chief Killed In Yugoslavia Air Crash

28 Others Die On Mountain

BIRYUZOV
. . . war hero

Biryuzov, the Soviet chief-of-staff, was named deputy defence minister only three months ago by ousted premier Nikita Khrushchev.

He had been considered close to Khrushchev and accompanied him on a trip to Czechoslovakia in July. Killed with him were seven top army officers.

The Yugoslav civil aviation department said the Ilyushin 18, a four-engine turboprop plane, hit Mount Avala 10 miles from Belgrade while flying a delegation here for Yugoslavia's 20th anniversary celebration of its liberation from the Nazis.

PREPARING TO LAND

The plane struck the 1,700-foot high mountain at the 1,312-foot level near the tomb of Yugoslavia's unknown soldier. It was preparing to land.

The seven officers killed with Biryuzov were veterans of the fighting which drove the Nazis out of Belgrade. They were to have been guests of honor, but all performances and festivities were cancelled.

Biryuzov was chief-of-staff of the Soviet armed forces and first deputy minister of defence. He also was a member of the central committee of the Soviet communist party.

Biryuzov was an aide to Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, the Soviet defence minister. But he was top military officer through his post as chief-of-staff of the armed forces. Khrushchev named him head of the strategic rocket forces in 1962.

RADIO CONTACT

The Tanjug News Agency said the IL-18 was to have flown over Mount Avala at an altitude of 3,600 feet. It was in regular radio contact with the Belgrade Airport at Surcin but at 11:34 a.m. it disappeared from a radar screen.

Rescue teams, including members of a fire brigade and the Yugoslav people's army and ambulances, rushed to the scene but all were dead.

Biryuzov, a veteran of the Battle of Stalingrad, was named chief-of-staff early last year, replacing Marshal Matvei Kakharov who had held the posts since 1959.

MANY DECORATIONS

Biryuzov was the holder of many decorations, including the Order of Hero of the Soviet Union.

He was one of the Soviet army leaders who rose to heights during the Second World War. He became a lieutenant-general in 1943 and a colonel-general a year later but it was not until March 12, 1955, that be became a marshal.

Biryuzov once boasted that Soviet nuclear power was the

House Urged to Bar Queen 'Sit-Downer'

OTTAWA (CP)—Robert C. Coates (PC—Cumberland) suggested in the Commons today that an MP who failed to rise last Friday when the Commons sang God Save the Queen should be denied access to his seat in the House.

No action was taken on the suggestion in which Mr. Coates implied that Lucien Plourde (Creditiste—Quebec West) violated his oath of allegiance as an MP.

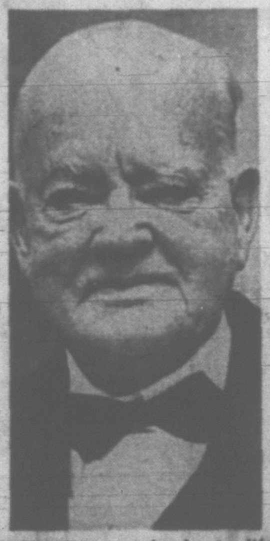
The incident involving Mr. Plourde occurred after the Commons approved a special message of loyalty and devotion to the Queen as a result of her visit to Canada.

He later told reporters "it would have taken O Canada to make me rise in the House." He said his action was not meant to be against the Queen.

Mr. Coates said MPs take an oath to be faithful and bear true allegiance. In standing to sing last Friday, MPs were displaying by their actions their adherence to this oath.

Johnson Urges China to Sign Test Ban Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told congressional leaders today that the United States has made a "good beginning" in relations with the new leaders of Russia and hopes the Kremlin will join in renewed efforts to block any further spread of nuclear weapons.



CLINGING tenaciously to life today is former U.S. president Herbert Hoover, 90. Doctors say Hoover has "slipped nearer to death." They claim the gastro-intestinal bleeding, which started Saturday, has stopped but that the loss of blood has resulted in toxic products in the blood stream.

Johnson stressed both these points Sunday night in a U.S.-wide television appearance in which he also spoke of the possible use by China of "nuclear blackmail" against other countries, now that it has exploded its first test bomb.

He warned, furthermore, that what he calls China's "expensive and demanding effort (to build nuclear weapons) tempts other states to equal folly—nuclear spread is dangerous to all mankind."

"We continue to believe," Johnson said, "that the struggle against nuclear spread is as much in the Soviet interest as in our own. We will be ready to join with them and all the world—in working to avoid it."

SUPPORTS TREATY

At the same time the president announced that Washington will continue to support the limited nuclear test ban treaty which the U.S., Russia, Britain and more than 100 other countries signed last year. France and Communist China did not sign.

"We call on the world—especially Red China—to join the nations which have signed that treaty," Johnson said.

Earlier Sunday, Johnson sent greetings to Russian Premier Alexei Kosygin and said he hoped "our governmets will work constructively in attempting to resolve the urgent international problems facing us."

Of Khrushchev's successors, Johnson said Sunday night they are younger men who may be "less rooted in their past," and they are said "to be realistic."

"We can hope that they will share with us our great objective; the prevention of nuclear war."

Republicans branded it a "no news" speech. GOP national chairman Dean Burch sent telegrams to the three television networks and the Federal Communications Commission, demanding equal broadcast time for Goldwater to reply.

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The three major television networks turned down a Republican demand that Barry M. Goldwater be given equal time to answer President Johnson's broadcast on world affairs Sunday night.

Japanese Protesting Fallout

TOKYO (UPI)—Japanese scientists today reported sharp increases in radioactivity over Japan and blamed it on the fallout from Communist China's first atomic bomb test.

The government had announced earlier it planned to file a protest with Peking over last Friday's nuclear explosion. A spokesman disclosed that Chinese premier Chou En-Lai cabled Japanese Premier Hayato Ikeda to seek support for his government's call for a worldwide total ban on nuclear testing.

The spokesman said Chou insisted China was "forced" to develop the atomic bomb but emphasized it was for defensive purposes only.

Ho Hum, Flag Probers Can't Reach Decision

TORONTO (CP) — The Star says in an Ottawa dispatch that members of the special Commons flag committee, with its deadline less than two weeks away, "have all but despaired of producing a unanimous recommendation of a distinctive Canadian flag design."

The dispatch adds that there is even "some question whether it will be able to make a report at all, unanimous or otherwise," by the Oct. 29 deadline set out in its terms of reference.

The committee began closed-door sittings in mid-September and is reported to have examined some 1,200 designs submitted by the public.

The Star says the seven Liberal committee members, as well as representatives of the three minor parties, are understood to have agreed to scrap Prime Minister Pearson's favorite design of three red maple leaves on a white background between two vertical blue bars. But it adds they are united in insisting that the maple leaf be the central motif if the design is to be distinctively Canadian.

The Star says that at least four of the five Progressive Conservatives on the 15-member committee "have made it abundantly clear that they will not accept a design which does not display the Union Jack in a position of prominence."

REPAIR SINO-SOVIET RIFT

New Russian Leaders Reaffirm Peace Plea

They asserted they had "boldly cast aside" deposed Premier Nikita Khrushchev because he hampered Russia's progress.

New Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin outlined the new regime's first policy statement at ceremonies welcoming the three cosmonauts who made a 24-hour "space bus" flight last week.

Kosygin said Khrushchev was swept out of power by the "great titanic force" of the Soviet Communist power. He said the party "has always inspired everything new and progressive and boldly cast aside whatever hampers our progress."

The new premier said the Soviets are ready "to make a practical start on disarmament."

"Outer space should not be used for military purposes," he said.

Brezhnev, in his first public appearance since the fall of Nikita Khrushchev, made no threats against the West. He rattled no rockets.

The new Communist party chief, speaking from Khrushchev's old spot atop Lenin's tomb, also refrained from making any attacks on the Chinese Communists. He promised, instead, to work to repair the rift that has embittered relations between Russia and Red China.

Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin appeared at a Red Square rally honoring the three cosmonauts who orbited the earth for 24-hours lats week in the Soviet "space bus" named Sunrise.

COSMIC OCEAN

Kosygin spoke, saying, "May the sixth ocean, the cosmic one, become an arena of international co-operation."

"The Soviet Union," Kosygin said, "will step up its efforts aimed at settlement of disputed international questions through negotiations, the development of mutual understanding and trust between states and economic and cultural co-operation between the peoples on the basis of complete equality and mutual benefit."

Khrushchev was nowhere to be seen during the festivities. While he was still in office last Monday, he had promised the three spacemen a Moscow welcome "greater than the force of gravity."

Brezhnev hailed the space bus flight as "remarkable." He said the cosmonauts landed on the ground as easily as if they had been in a conventional passenger plane.

DOCK STRIKE THREATENED

LONDON (CP) — Britain's new Labor government today faced the threat of a dock strike within a week of gaining power.

Longshoremen at two of London's busiest docks — Tilbury and the Royal Albert — voted to stage a token walkout Thursday for more pay and issued a call for support to all of Britain's 65,000 dockers.

Wilson In Fight Over Steel

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson, hamstrung by the narrowest of parliamentary majorities, must decide soon whether to risk the life of his government by pressing ahead with the controversial nationalization of steel.

The decision could set the whole tone of his administration.

Experts said, if Wilson goes ahead with nationalization, it would mean he will follow a bold course of action and reform. If he decides against nationalization, they said, it would signify a cool and cautious course aimed at protecting his Labor Party's four-seat majority in the 630-seat House of Commons.

The nine Liberal party members of Parliament were expected to help the Labor Party on most issues, but have said they will vote against any move to nationalize steel.

Steel nationalization would be a dramatic start of the "first 100 days" which Wilson has promised would "get this country moving again." But many political observers here said Wilson's narrow majority —and the fact that his party won only 44 per cent of the popular vote in last Thursday's election, gave him no mandate for such a move.

OWN PARTY SPLIT

The Labor Party government of 1945-51 nationalized Britain's powerful steel industry—traditionally a red flag to staunch socialists. The Conservative party government that followed it denationalized all but one steel firm. The Labor platform during the recent campaign rested firmly on a re-nationalization pledge.

Wilson, who has promised a "great reforming administration," was under cross pressures within his own party today. Many members wanted him to cement his power by shunning further nationalization. But such a course could stir a revolt by the Labor Party's strong left-wing.

Tax Cuts Urged On Ottawa

TORONTO (CP) — Saskatchewan Premier W. Ross Thatcher said today he will urge Finance Minister Gordon to consider major tax cuts in the next budget.

Speaking to the Canadian Club in Toronto, as part of his current drive to boost Saskatchewan's industrial development, he said the resurgence in the United States' economy since the major cut in taxes a short time ago warrants immediate consideration for tax cuts in Canada, particularly at the federal level.

He said: "In Canada, we are still tied to an antiquated tax system that grew up under conditions of depression or war.

"We seem to think that when we are confronted with problems, the first step is to raise taxes to give the government more money for pump priming.

"Surely, a more effective solution would be to create the economic climate that will encourage growth development and research, which in turn will result in greater productivity, employment, wages and profit."

He also said there is another threat to Confederation almost potentially as dangerous as separatism.

"At one dominion - provincial conference after another, the provinces faced with increasing costs are making even greater financial demands on Ottawa," he said. "And year by year, the federal authorities, for the sake of national unity, have been forced to give ground."

Surely the steady erosion of federal taxing powers must cause concern to all Canadians, he said. He added that in Saskatchewan they feel very strongly that the federal government has a job to do in ensuring stable economic growth.

SCRAPPY KOREAN REFUSED TO SURRENDER

Choh Said No, and Olympics 'Sit-In' Began

TOKYO (CP)—The Olympic boxing program had barely got under way tonight when it was halted by the stubborn refusal of a South Korean boxer to leave the ring after being disqualified.

Flyweight Choh Dong-kih waged his one-man strike for 50 minutes before two Korean boxing officials dragged him from the ring and the program went on.

Choh was disqualified by Australian referee Archie Tanner. Seconds after the bout started, Tanner warned Choh for persistently holding his head too low. Then he issued another warning, and with the round only 1:06 minutes old, disqualified Choh and awarded the verdict to his opponent, Stanislav Sorokin of Russia.

Said Tanner: "I stopped the fight because he refused to stop boxing every time I asked him to do so."

The Korean returned to his corner, sat on the blue - cushioned stool and refused to stand when the winner's hand was raised.

"The Russian was holding," said Fleischer, "and the Korean was trying to get away from him when he was cautioned by the referee for holding. The referee said 'break' but the Korean couldn't because the Russian was holding him. As far as I am concerned Sorokin was the guilty man and should have been disqualified."

"Choh will not leave the ring until that is granted,' 'said the coach.

After 50 minutes, Korean team officials entered the ring to try to persuade Choh to leave. Choh threw his stool into the middle of the ring and followed with his towel and sweater.

Finally two Koreans restrained him and escorted him from the ring.

The public address announcer read the Korean boxing federation's apologies for the long delay, announcing in Japanese and English that a formal protest had been lodged by Korea, which would be considered by the executive of the International Amateur Boxing Association Tuesday.

Then another flyweight quarter-final proceeded.

CHAMPIONSHIP CLASS

'Tongue Twist' Plow Wins for Sidney Man

This comment was heard from a bystander at the Saanich Plowing Association's third annual championship matches Saturday at the farm of Ralph and Bud Michell on Island View Road.

The speaker was among a large group of spectators watching Sidney farmer Joe Saville competing in the open championship class with his Kvenelands' Hydrein plow from Kveraland, Norway.

The champion's plow was the subject of much talk among the farmers who gathered from far and wide as well as the city folk attracted to the matches. Apart from its difficult sounding name, and its unusual appearance with four-foot seven-inch mould boards compared to three-foot three-inch boards of standard Canadian plows, word had got around about its fame.

* * *

This was the same plow that Wyngve Mansson of Sweden won the world plowing championship in Ontario last year.

Saville took note of the make and ordered one like it. He was more than happy when the actual championship plow was offered him.

This was the third time he has used it in competition and after his 76 points out of a possible 100 won him the match he commented: "I guess I've finally got the feel of it."

He used it at Chilliwack and at Cowichan matches last year but was beaten both times.

* * *

His first win with it wasn't a walk-away. Running him a close second was another Saanichton "pro," Wally Mar with whom there is keen and friendly rivalry. Mar, who has beaten him on other occasions, garnered 71 points.

In third place was Archie Stevenson of Duncan who compiled a score of 68, and next in line was Jack Andrews of Chilliwack with 65. Jady Wright of Saanichton followed with 60.

The matches were held under ideal conditions and a crowd of close to 700 visited the field during the day.

An unexpected visitor was Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes who received a rousing cheer when, after asking if he might try his hand at plowing, completed a round of an exhibition plot. It was the most difficult choice he could have made because this was the crowd-pleasing oxen section.

Two huge Holstein steers were brought to the matches by owner Harry Weidkamp of Lynden, Wash., and they plowed most of the day with their 110-pound yoke.

* * *

General Pearkes demonstrated that he has plowed before and he obviously enjoyed his tussle with the heavy chore he requested.

He wasn't as expert in estimating the weight of the oxen, though. His guest of 3,700 wasn't in the running in a contest held during the day. Government scales slip showed they weighed 5,420 pounds. The closest guess was made by Charlie Allen of Saanich who was only 15 pounds out with 5,435.

In another section of the field, two Oldfield Road brothers, Reg and Pat Hoole, Jr., attracted a lot of attention driving two 1922 Centaur tractors with seat-attached trailer plows.

They had their work cut out with the temperamental old-timers, but stuck out their task, completing the same size plots as in the modern-day tractor divisions. Pat won the event with a score of 53 and Reg was only one point behind him.

* * *

The most entries in a class came in the boys-under-18 two-furrow tractor mounted plow which saw 11 competing.

Most were 4-H members and winner was Doug Mar who scored a high 72 points. Second was Reg Raper who lives near Doug at Saanichton. Reg had a score of 67. Third was a Cowichan boy, Harry deWitt, who put together a 62 score.

Winner of a boys' single furrow event was Zweitse deWitt of Cowichan with a score of 60. Second was Don McDowell of Metchosin with 52.

Johnny Polson of Duncan won a businessmen's class and tied for second were Victoria entries, Ed Lum, Gil Haynes and Jock Smith.

A ladies' event was won by Mrs. Flora Michell and second was Mrs. Gladys Raper.

More Aid Forecast To Mentally Retarded

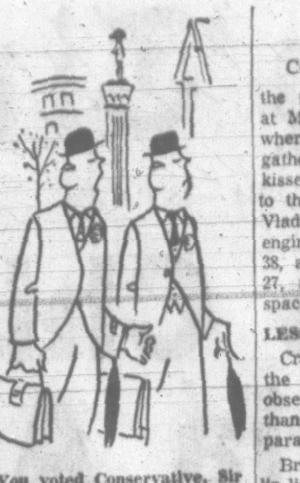
OTTAWA (CP)—A new deal for Canada's 500,000 mentally retarded citizens was forecast here today by Health Minister Judy LaMarsh as she opened the first federal-provincial conference on mental retardation.

She paid tribute to the work of the Canadian Association for Retarded Children, the Canadian Mental Health Association and other voluntary agencies, saying their work had underlined the needs in the field of retardation.

Speaking to more than 250 specialists from health and welfare departments in every province, Miss LaMarsh said the members of her department feel the four-day conference will be "one of the most important things the department has ever attempted."

She called for a massive attack on the problems of retardation by specialists in the fields of health, welfare and education.

Referring to the recent report of the royal commission on health services, Miss LaMarsh said the conference may well agree with one of the commission's major findings—"that it is imperative that community resources for the retarded be increased to obtain early diagnosis, because lack of proper treatment impairs the chances of rehabilitation."



"You voted Conservative, Sir Gerald voted Conservative and I voted Conservative . . . That proves it was fixed!"

Terrorists Claim Car Burning

TROIS-RIVIERES, Que. (CP) Police are investigating the burning of a car owned by Leon Balcer, uebec Progressive Conservative party leader, which a telephone caller claims was set afire by the terrorist Front de Liberation Quebecois.

Mr. Balcer's late-model convertible was found burning in the driveway of his Trois-Rivieres home early Saturday and an empty kerosene bottle was found on the lawn about 10 feet from the car.

Telephone calls in French were made by a man, or men, to Quebec city and Trois-Rivieres news media Saturday and Sunday and Mr. Balcer himself was called Sunday.

"If you don't believe us," the caller said, "ask police what happened three or four weeks ago to minister Yvon Dupuis' car. We dynamited it but police have hidden that fact."

Mr. Dupuis is a federal minister without portfolio and was reported on an overseas trip. Neither Quebec Provincial Police nor municipal police at St. John's, Que., were Mr. Dupuis lives, would comment.

PROTEST SPEECH

The caller told the Member of Parliament for Trois-Rivieres that his car had been set afire with kerosene because of a speech he made in Toronto before the royal visit to Canada in which he said the Queen would not be hurt during her Oct. 11-12 visit to Quebec City. Mr. Balcer said only "gangsters" would attempt any injury to the monarch.

the new Soviet leaders began at Moscow's Vnukovo-2 airport where the Kremlin leaders gathered to give hugs and kisses, in the Russian manner, to the space heroes—pilot Col. Vladimir Komarov, 37, space engineer Konstantin Feoktistov, 38, and Dr. Boris B. Yegerov, 27, medical member of the space team.

LESS ENTHUSIASM

Western observers said that except for the section about Communist unity, the lack of slaps at Communist China, and the absence of jokes, the speech could well have been written by Khrushchev.

Of the space race he said: "The spirit of gambling is alien to us. We see it as a tremendous creative effort of the Soviet Union for the blessing of man and for all mankind.

The Communist party chief said the new Soviet regime will wage a "tireless struggle for peace, for friendship and co-operation between nations, for the further relaxation of international tension.

"And if the governments of other states, for their part, display a striving for peace, if the sovereign right of ever nation, big and small, to settle its destiny itself is observed, then peaceful labor and progress will be assured."

EVERYONE HAPPY

Brezhnev, who took over power from Khrushchev jointly with new Premier Alexei Kosygin, said the new Kremlin rulers wanted to make the Soviet people happy.

Brezhnev said, "Our main task . . . is the well being of the people. The party wants the Soviet people to live better from year to year.

The new party leader also promised the new leadership would strive to heal the split in the world's Communist ranks, torn by a bitter conflict between the Soviet and the Communist Chinese camps.

He said the Soviet Communist Party "will strive for the consolidation of the unity of the great community of fraternal socialist countries on a fully equal footing."

"The Soviet Communist Party will actively pursue a line for the convocation of a meeting of the Marxist-Leninist parties of the whole world, which in our opinion, can and must facilitate the attainment of these aims."

Brezhnev's predecessor, the fallen Khrushchev, had announced plans for such a meeting of world Communist parties. He had called for a preliminary conference of representatives of 26 leading parties for mid-December.

STRESS UNITY

But while Khrushchev was reported to have called the meeting to read Red China out of the world Communist movement, Brezhnev stressed the need for unity and a healing of rifts within the Red world.

On the home front, Brezhnev said, "The party regards as its main task to develop the productive forces of our society, to raise steadily on this basis the welfare of the Soviet people, to develop socialist democracy in every way."

Brezhnev's remarks were punctuated with applause and cheers from the throng gathered in Red Square. There were shouts of "Glory!" and "Huzzah."

most powerful war deterrent in the world. In an article in the government newspaper Izvestia, Biryuzov wrote:

"The Soviet Union possesses the most perfected nuclear weapons of gigantic destructive force. It can reach and completely destroy any aggressor within a short time."

He singled out the late President Kennedy as one of those "sober western political leaders who began to understand the suicidal character of war."

He once said the prospects of avoiding nuclear war were good because even the most adventurous "imperialists" were capable of understanding that nuclear war would mean their suicide.

Dunkirk Hero Dies; Funeral Set Tuesday

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in Hayward's Chapel for James Wake Golby, 48, Victoria-born hero of the Dunkirk evacuation and first Canadian to be decorated in the Second World War.

Mr. Golby, who died last Thursday at the family home, 2077 Oak Bay Avenue, headed a demolition team which sabotaged harbor facilities in Nazi-occupied French ports.

The Distinguished Service Cross received by the 23-year-old RCN lieutenant from King George VI was awarded for outstanding bravery "in operations which prevented war materials from falling into the hands of the enemy."

He engaged in boat building and was later manager of Genoa Bay Lodge. More recently he had been dealing in real estate.

Survivors include the widow, Georgina; three daughters and two sons: Mrs. Douglas Carlson, Long Beach; Mrs. James Nivins, Edmonton; Risha, Wake and Tony, at home; a sister, Mrs. Peggy Whittington; and a brother, Humphrey.

NEW U.K. CABINET

Former Tory Foe Returned to UN

LONDON (CP) — A British diplomat who resigned as a delegate to the United Nations in disagreement with Conservative government policy Sunday was named as Britain's permanent UN representative under the new Labor government.

FOOT

Sir Hugh Foot, 57, was appointed minister of state for foreign affairs by Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who spent the day at his office in 10 Downing Street interviewing prospective office holders.

Foot, former Governor of Cyprus, was serving as British representative at the UN in 1962 when he resigned in protest over the Conservative policy on Southern Rhodesia. He said it could not be defended against attacks by African and Asian nations.

In his new post he will join the government as a minister of cabinet rank. Wilson intends to make him a life peer to avoid finding him a seat in Parliament through a byelection.

Foot's brother, Dingle, 59, a leading barrister who has specialized in defending African and Asian nationals, also joined the government. He will be solicitor-general, the government's No. 2 law officer.

WOMAN NAMED

Margaret Herdison, 57, a former Glasgow school teacher, was appointed minister of pensions and national insurance. She is the second woman of cabinet rank in the Labor administration.

Charles Pannell, 62, who has specialized in organizing plans for modernization of the Houses of Parliament, was named minister of public buildings and works.

Kenneth Robinson, 53, former insurance agent and party spokesman on health during its years in opposition, was named minister of health to administer Britain's socialized medicine system.

Sunday's list was the third to be issued since the Labor party won power from Sir Alec Douglas-Home's Conservatives in Thursday's general election.

Both Sides In Satellite Spy Game?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defence experts said today they are sure Russian Cosmos satellites are being used to spy on the United States.

The Soviet Union last Wednesday launched the 48th in a series of Cosmoc satellites which the Russians describe as unmanned, scientific spacecraft probing radiation belts and other phenomena.

The Russians have been sending Cosmos satellites aloft since March, 1962. Some still are in orbit, following paths that take them over the United States at altitudes ranging from about 120 miles to nearly 300 miles.

U.S. reconnaissance satellites —about which the air force and defence department are silent — are believed to operate at some 300 miles altitude while passing over Russian and Chinese territory.

Information from these U.S. Samos reconnaissance satellites may have played a part in alerting the United States weeks ago to the iminence of Red China's first atomic test blast, which occurred last Friday.

Space agency officials say the United States knows little about Cosmos hardware — the rocket that launches it, the satellite itself or its equipment.

'Sack Sir Alec' Move Hinted in U.K.

LONDON (UPI) — Newspapers from both sides of the political fence said today former prime minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home's position as head of the Conservative party was shaky.

The Conservative Express said a "sack Sir Alec" movement had begun at the weekend, even as he was moving out of No. 10 Downing Street.

But, the newspaper said, the action had no support as yet from former ministers in his cabinet.

The Express said only Reginald Maudling, former chancellor of the exchequer, was being mentioned as a possible successor.

The Daily Mirror, which supports Labor, also said a movement was under way to find a new Conservative leader. It said a number of leading Conservatives agreed with former Tory member of Parliament Gerald Nabarro.

Nabarro wrote in The Sunday News of the World that the Conservatives could win the next election only if "they drastically reform their top leadership."

Intimidation Chinese Goal

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — Industrially weak and 20 years late, China could not overtake the United States as a nuclear power for many years. Why, then, did it explode an atom bomb?

There are two answers, one military, the other political.

Lacking long-range missiles or other delivery capabilities, the apparent military aim of the fledgling Chinese nuclear program is to develop tactical atomic weapons to beef up already powerful conventionally-armed ground forces.

Their purpose: To deter the United States from moving troops into South Viet Nam or Laos, or into any other regional conflicts in which Peking is directly or indirectly involved.

Secret Chinese army bulletins released by the U.S. reveal that three years ago the Chinese high command looked forward to the use of tactical nuclear weapons but made no references to strategic weapons, whose usefulness would depend on missiles or aircraft.

A study of the secret Chinese papers suggests that Peking is fully aware of the dangers involved in atomic weapons and, despite its public stance of recklessness and billigerence, is not likely to embark on nuclear adventures.

OFFERED ASSURANCE

President Johnson immediately assured Asian nations that the U.S. would come to their assistance if they were menaced by China. But India and other nations may reason that it would be more prudent to reach an agreement with Peking now than to rely on American retaliation that might come too late.

The Chinese also presumably hope through this display of power to influence the underdeveloped nations of Asia, Africa and South America they are courting. So far, there has been no cascade of congratulatory messages from any of these countries, most of which have signed the nuclear test ban treaty.

If China hoped to win converts to its policies in neighboring Japan, it has been disillusioned by a socialist delegation that attacked the test publicly in Peking Saturday.

Tomomi Narita, secretary-general of the Japanese Socialist Party, said at a banquet in the Chinese capital:

"Our anti-bomb movement is making great efforts to oppose nuclear tests by any country and is supported in its earnest desire for peace by the Japanese people, the only nation to suffer an atom bombing.

"Today, before the banquet, we expressed our opposition to the test and at the risk of being impolite, we repeat our opposition now."

Full Speed Ahead

BRITAIN FINDS ITSELF WITH a government precariously in office at a time when rapidly developing events may demand the decisiveness and authority of a solidly entrenched administration. With a majority of only four in a 630-seat House, Prime Minister Wilson has indicated that he will proceed as though he had a full mandate to implement the platform laid down during the election campaign. Under the circumstances he has no other choice.

His situation, interestingly enough, parallels that of Mr. Pearson in Canada—with even less arithmetical control of Parliament—and, in one sense, that of the late President Kennedy who, like Mr. Wilson, won office on a vote which showed his country very evenly divided.

Mr. Wilson has both domestic and international problems to solve, and he must tackle them simultaneously. Under a steady drain of reserves—at the current rate the country is spending abroad $1.5 billions a year more than it earns—Britain's economy needs an early readjustment. The short-term measures to safeguard the currency will probably involve loans from abroad, but this obviously will afford only temporary relief. An increase in British exports—in an international environment of similar efforts by all the major countries—will be one of Mr. Wilson's first problems. And this will require modernization of the British industrial plant. In these projects — despite likely disagreement as to means—the Labor government should have the support of the opposition parties.

An exception will be Mr. Wilson's program to nationalize the steel industry. Here there will be opposition on principle and the Labor government's life may rest on the outcome of this crucial vote. Mr. Wilson apparently intends to make this one of his priority legislative measures—a sensible tactic on his part since the country will not wish to be plunged into another election campaign so soon and this may serve to deter some opposition to the move.

But the Socialist government must know that mere change of ownership will not solve production and export difficulties. Whether under private or public control, the industry's problems are economic and international and must be solved on the basis of hard fact, not social theory.

Some of Mr. Wilson's most intriguing confrontations will come in the international sphere, in which conditions, as the past few days have shown, can be radically altered almost overnight. There is still no firm conviction that the Khrushchev policy of sharing the world in peaceful, industrial competition will continue to prevail among his successors in the Kremlin.

The Red Chinese achievement of a nuclear device, while being minimized by President Johnson and some other Western leaders, should not be underestimated in its political effects in Asia. It will not be necessary for Peking to have a sophisticated delivery system in order to impress its smaller Asian neighbors.

And the matter of trans-Atlantic co-operation may again become a critical issue. Mr. Wilson has already established an acquaintance with Mr. Johnson, but close association with a Socialist government will be a new and perhaps uncomfortable experience for the latter. The thought of Mr. Goldwater in the White House raises the prospect of chaos in the Anglo-American alliance.

Mr. Wilson no doubt is on sound ground in seeking Britain's future greatness in NATO and similar groupings, rather than alone. The twentieth century belongs to the giants and Britain cannot compete individually with such powers as the United States and the Soviet Union.

But Britain's strength of voice within those groupings must depend in large measure on its industrial and military stature. Failing general nuclear disarmament, it is difficult to see how Britain's influence in international affairs will be improved by early abandonment of its nuclear bomb. But the latter is Mr. Wilson's avowed intention, and it puts him in the position of wrestling with a self-imposed paradox.

On Its Merits, If Any

THE IMPLICATION THAT the continued existence of the Canadian Senate may be dependent on that body's speedily reporting out the bill to incorporate the proposed Bank of British Columbia must have shocked a good many Canadians who believed that one of the main strengths of the Senate was the invulnerability of its members to political pressures.

Such an idea, although its intent was denied, was implicit in the plea made last week by Senator J. W. de B. Farris of Vancouver that the bill be sent on to the Commons. Senator Farris, who sponsored the bill and was speaking before the Senate banking committee, declared that its rejection would "set the heather on fire" in relation to the constitutional powers of the Upper House and its standing in the public eye.

The senator claimed that it would be an act of discrimination to reject the bank sponsored by the government of British Columbia when bills respecting two private banks had been approved. His line of argument brought a rebuke from other senators who pointed out the impropriety of suggesting that an action of the Senate should be based on fear of public reaction.

The British Columbia government's application for a bank charter is having a rough time in the Senate committee for the good reason that the senators are concerned over the possible effects of provincial government participation in, and influence over, a chartered bank. Their concern has already resulted in Premier Bennett's agreeing to cut his government's participation from the 25 per cent approved by the legislature to 10 per cent of the bank's capital stock.

Even this change has not satisfied most members of the banking committee and they have indicated they wish to probe still further the inter-relation of government, bank and private business which could result from the arrangement proposed by British Columbia. Because this is a novel proposal, and one which could have a most pervasive, and even injurious, influence on the relations between government and private business, the senators would be doing less than their duty if they failed to give it the most thoughtful and searching examination.

The Creditiste group in the Commons, apparently as a favor to Premier Bennett, has decided to attempt to pressure the Senate by blocking passage of the bills to charter two private banks unless the Upper House reports out the Bank of British Columbia bill. By this action the Creditistes reinforce the belief that Mr. Bennett's bank plans—and the implications they raise for the future of Canadian banking—deserve further careful study in the Senate before they can be passed on.

The Indispensable Resource

THE CONSERVATION COUNcil of Canada recently released a report on water pollution which deserves the immediate attention of all levels of government and should prepare the way for a nation-wide attack on a problem which which is growing more serious each year.

The Council recommended, for a start, that a study be made of all Canadian anti-pollution legislation and that uniform standards of waste treatment equipment be encouraged. It was also suggested that the International Joint Commission be given the power to compel industries, municipalities and shipping to comply with regulations on pollution control.

In most parts of Canada, and the United States, more water is wasted through pollution than is used. One community upstream on a river, for example, can make the water unfit for the use of downstream communities by careless disposal of waste.

In some parts of Europe, on the other hand, water is used as many as 12 times over before being allowed to flow away. And each time it is used it must be thoroughly purified.

Few people realize how dependent they are on pure water for economic advance. It takes, for instance, 15 tons of water to process a ton of gasoline, 125 tons of water to produce a ton of aluminum, 250 tons of water for a ton of steel and 1,000 tons of water to make one ton of newsprint. Any country which fails to take care of its supplies of pure water must be prepared to pay a high price in terms of a failing economy eventually.

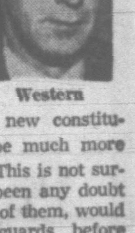
What Are We Doing to the Constitution?

AS EXPECTED, the federal-provincial conference has gone beyond its announced task of finding an agreed formula of amendment in order that the constitution may be brought home. The proposal now before the country provides also for an actual and far-reaching change in the constitution of Canada. The document is long and will obviously call for very careful examination. But two points are already clear enough.



Western

In the first place, the new constitutional arrangements will be much more complicated than the old. This is not surprising. There has never been any doubt that the provinces, or some of them, would insist upon various safeguards before agreeing to "patriation." Some of these are unexceptional; it has, for example, been common ground among constitutionalists that Quebec's special rights must be "entrenched," subject to amendment only with the consent of all provinces including Quebec.

Binding Formula

But for amendments which do not touch these basic rights, we will now have a binding formula where before there was none. The general requirement is action by Parliament with the concurrence of two-thirds of the provinces making up at least 50 per cent of the Canadian population. Parliament's exclusive power of amendment in purely federal matters affecting the executive government, the House of Commons and Senate, which dates from the famous St. Laurent amendment, has also been defined in a limiting sense.

While we will thus have, from the standpoint of formal amendment, a more rigid constitution than we have known previously, the conference proposes through the device of delegation to create a greater flexibility in federal-provincial arrangements. Whether this will be an advantage is very doubtful.

Immediately before, and after the war, there was a good deal of dissatisfaction with the categories of powers assigned respectively to the federal and provincial government by the British North America Act. The notion developed that difficulties might be avoided through delegation of power either from the federal government to the province or vice versa. But this attempt ended with the very clear and unanimous finding of the Supreme Court in a Nova Scotia case of 1951. Part of that judgment read:

"The powers of Parliament and of the provincial legislatures are strictly limited by the British North America Act and cannot be enlarged even with the joint consent of Parliament and of the legislatures. Jurisdiction cannot be conferred by consent. None of these bodies can be vested directly or indirectly with powers which have been denied them by the British North America Act and which, therefore, are not within their constitutional jurisdiction."

With this road blocked, the present government at Ottawa attempted a new approach. The idea was that affected governments should simply turn a blind eye to the court. It should be possible to get around the constitution by a cosy agreement that it was not there. This was attempted in the Eskimo case although the matter was confused by an unconvincing and shabby pretence that administration could be transferred while jurisdiction remained untouched.

Power of Delegation

We now have a third approach, which has at least the merit of honesty. The constitution is to be changed to make possible what was not possible before.

The power of delegation to be conferred on Parliament by the draft amendment will be restricted in two ways. It will have authority to delegate provided that at least four of the provinces have, prior to the enactment of the statute, consented to its operation. But this is followed by a rather curious alternative. Parliament shall have the necessary authority if "it is declared by the Parliament of Canada that the government of Canada has consulted with the governments of all the provinces and that the enactment of the statute is of concern to fewer than four of the provinces and the provinces so declared by the Parliament of Canada to be concerned have under the authority of their legislatures consented to the enactment of such a statute."

There has been furious debate in Parliament about the precise meaning of consultation. Henceforth, presumably it will mean what a majority supporting the government of the day says it means. This seems remarkably imprecise for a constitutional document.

Eskimo-Indian Issue

Only the nasty-minded will suspect that the government, in submitting this proposal, has the Eskimos or Indians in mind. It may be thinking, in all innocence, of something different altogether. But the fact is that an operation which, on the one hand, entrenches the rights of one group in the population, exposes another to such action as may be convenient to co-operating governments.

The question of delegation must also be examined from the larger view. Up to now we have had the benefit, thanks to the courts, of a reasonably clear and consistent interpretation of our constitution. If the change is accepted, we shall be embarking on strange waters. For the legislatures may also delegate and, since governments naturally incline to expedient courses, we may in a few years have a complete hodge-podge of constitutional arrangements, unimaginable today.

Since 11 governments representing three parties are in agreement, it could be rash to predict a spirited struggle in Parliament over the changes proposed. But, as they are so far-reaching, they warrant very close scrutiny and it is to be hoped, whatever the parties may choose to do, that they are subjected to such an examination by those members of the House of Commons whose independence has contributed so much to public enlightenment in the past.

FROM WASHINGTON

By R. EVANS and R. NOVAK

Silence Invites an Orgy of Speculation

THERE is a familiar note in President Johnson's first reaction to the fall of his closest personal assistant, Walter W. Jenkins. It is reminiscent of the Bobby Baker case.

Granted the shocking impact of this sordid affair breaking while the President was on a campaign swing in New York. Nevertheless, many Democratic leaders believe an immediate presidential press conference was called for.

Instead, Jenkins's resignation was announced by presidential secretary George Reedy. The country was compelled to wait to hear the President himself tell what he knows, and delay is dangerous in a situation loaded with the political dynamite of the Jenkins affair.

Thus, in his intial reaction, the President has exhibited the same political insensitivity that marked his handling of the Bobby Baker case. He held a single, abrupt press conference in January and answered a single question.

In that answer he avoided one of the principal issues in the case—the conflict in testimony between Jenkins, his personal aide since 1939, and the Washington insurance man, Don B. Reynolds.

Only the President himself can answer two basic questions now being asked everywhere about the morals charge against Jenkins:

Did the President know of the earlier, 1959, charge and, if so, why did he take no action?

Was the President aware of the Oct. 7 case before it "leaked" out, by anonymous sources (obviously Republican) tipping reporters in Washington to go down to the police station and check the record?

There is no evidence as yet that Mr. Johnson or anyone around him had the slightest indication of Jenkins's unfortunate weakness. In fact, throughout Wednesday the White House operated in the normal, non-crisis atmosphere of a hectic campaign.

White House aides, including Bill Moyers (who has now replaced Jenkins) and Jack Valenti, the President's man Friday, worked routinely on campaign chores. If anyone in the White House knew what was coming that evening, he gave not the slightest hint of it.

But this in no way eases the sense of panic pervading Democratic circles since the incredible news broke Wednesday night.

The Republicans have made headway on only one issue in the presidential campaign, the issue of alleged corruption and loose political morality around the President. Recently, Sen. Barry Goldwater has been talking about the "curious crew" in the White House. For days there has been a spate of rumors that the Republicans were about to drop a bombshell that overnight would give the corruption issue a new dimension.

This "bombshell," it is now apparent, was not a new development in the Bobby Baker case. It was the Jenkins affair.

There are now only two weeks and two days left before election, probably too short a time for the Jenkins affair to jeopardize the long lead over Sen. Goldwater that Mr. Johnson now has. But the President risks a sizable loss of votes from long-time Republicans who had just about decided to vote Democratic for the first time. Now they have a reason for a Goldwater vote. Besides reducing the President's own majority far below the recent forecasts of the pollsters, this could boost Republicans in several vital state races.

One of these is the Senate contest in New York between Sen. Kenneth Keating and Robert F. Kennedy. Other close contests that could well be tipped to the Republicans, if the President fails to convince the voters that he knew nothing of the Jenkins affair, include control of the Ohio and New York state legislatures, the Senate race between Sen. Hugh Scott and Democrat Genevieve Blatt in Pennsylvania, and the second-term bid in Michigan by Gov. George Romney. There are others.

But the President might avoid all this if he cleared the air with a candid recitation of everything he knows about the affair. Failing to do that, he simply invites an orgy of speculation, rumors and half-truths which will need no help from the Republicans to undercut confidence.

HONG KONG:

Tradition Dies Hard

By STANLEY KARNOW

CHINA'S Communist regime, now entering its 16th year in power, can reflect with a certain satisfaction on the obstacles it overcame and its modest achievements. After its monumental blunder in initiating the "great leap forward" in 1958, the Peking government managed to maintain stability, despite the catastrophic food shortages in the years that followed. At the same time, it weathered the withdrawal of Soviet assistance, which seriously hindered its industrial growth.

Economically, China now seems to be inching along in a rather unspectacular manner. Its grain production—the standard measure of agricultural conditions—is expected to show a slight improvement this year over last. Its light industries appear to be progressing slowly but surely.

Within the world Communist bloc, Peking has continued to defy Moscow with some success. More and more, the ideological debate has been turning into a racial and rationalist dispute, affording the Chinese the opportunity to promote themselves as the champions of the colored peoples of Africa and Asia.

Developing Respectability

On the general international scene as well, the Chinese have clearly attained a degree of respectability. To a large extent this has come through French recognition. It is also developing its links with West European and Japanese businessmen who hope to find considerable export opportunities there.

The Chinese made a strong impact on the world when they tested their nuclear device. Sophisticated observers are aware that the device is not a bomb, but the progressive effect of the Chinese nuclear explosion, whatever its form, will be enormous.

With all these accomplishments, however, Peking faces what it considers an extremely serious problem at home. Its efforts to keep up the "revolutionary spirit," particularly among its youth, are faltering. Implicit in numerous Communist Party documents is the fear that the successors to Mao Tse-tung, and other leaders, now in their late sixties and early seventies, will not maintain the same Marxist-Leninist fervor.

Worried By Youth

The importance of this problem was made clear when the Young Communist League held its ninth Congress last June.

It was the first such meeting since 1957, and nearly the entire party hierarchy, including Chairman Mao, President Liu Shao-chi and Premier Chou En-lai, attended. The tone of the speeches reflected the concern that China's youth might become tainted with the kind of "revolutionism" so widespread in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe.

As a Youth League official, Hu Yaopang, put it: "One of the fundamental differences between the modern revisionists and us is . . . whether to arm youth with Marxist-Leninist teaching on the class war or corrupt youth with the nonsense of class collaboration, which means capitulation to the bourgeoisie."

To keep revolutionary excitement alive, the Peking regime has been fostering an extensive campaign for "Socialist education," using a vast assortment of agitation and propaganda techniques. These range from introducing political themes into traditional drama and sending out story tellers to the countryside to recount tales with a revolutionary moral. The works of Mao Tse-tung are being printed and reprinted in millions of copies—and even in Braille—to be distributed everywhere.

The Bad Old Days

One technique used to keep young workers alert to the revolution, claim Communist authorities, is to tell them stories of the bitterness and suffering under the old regime in China. Older citizens are primed to relate how, in the days before communism, their villages were washed away by floods or struck by famine, or how they were oppressed by war lords.

Another method, considerably less subtle, is to burden youths with physical hardships. On first entering the factory, young workers are made to pull carts, carry heavy sacks and perform other tough jobs. This is to inculcate them against hardship, fatigue, filth and tension, and "strengthen their revolutionary will."

Despite this program, the youths tend to backslide. One common error they commit is that of falling in love, a reactionary middle-class habit. Some even revert to ancient Chinese practices, such as going home for weddings, holding parties and accepting marriage gifts. The amount of propaganda directed against such behavior indicates that tradition is still a force in China, and one not easily eradicated by revolutionary words.

"...AN' THAT'S WHERE THEY PUT THE EARS!"

From Our Files

October 19, 1904—Mukden: The eight-day battle that left 20,000 Russian and 5,000 Japanese dead has ended, the Russians having lost some ground while remaining in good order.

October 19, 1924—Seattle: A 94-year-old Seattle resident, Ezra Meeker, who came to the Pacific Coast in 1852 by ox team, has flown by airplane to the plane races in Washington, D.C.

October 19, 1944—France: A 700-pound shell from a giant railway gun fell within eight feet of Lt.-General George S. Patton today. It was a dud.

BETWEEN OURSELVES

By Elizabeth Forbes

While the leaves are still golden on the maple trees and the dogwoods still flaunt their crimson red tones, do take a few hours and drive Up-Island.

Turn off on the older roads that twist and wind through woodlands and meadows and that wander close to the shore, and you will have an afternoon to remember.

On the old road to Mill Bay you'll see flaming colors backed by the deep tones of the evergreen trees. The road to Cowichan Bay will reveal that Mt. Tzouhalem is dappled in gold and red to its very tip.

Follow the Yellow Point Road around and through the Cranberry district and across the wooden bridge that spans the river and you'll see trees reflected in every quiet pool.

Try the Chemainus Road if you have time. It will lead you through a glory of crimson-tinted dogwood trees.

In the gardens that surround nearly every cottage door, you'll see dahlias adding glory to the season with their fire.

Roses, haunted by the little ghosts of their former selves, are shedding petals, yellow, pink and crimson, so many colored tears for the summer that has gone. (Or should I say that has never been?)

You'll find the autumn crocus poking pale mauve heads through the grass along the walks and, if you slow your automobile, no doubt you'll see the tangled tendrils of the withering sweet peas. In the country, there is no hurry to "weed out" the fading flower beds.

Right now it's the Michaelmas daisies in all their range of pinks, mauves and purples, and the sturdy chrysantheums, rising proud and vital, above the posies whose hour is past.

Great masses of them, garnet red, chaste white, yellow, bronze, and pink.

They are the harbingers of winter, but they also belong to the "haunting" flowers that carry with them much more than color or scent; they answer some essential need that can never find expression in mere words. They know so many secrets.

> "Feathery-petalled, winter-scented,
> Glorious clumps of gold and brown,
> Curly-headed, memory-haunted,
> Ladies, we have come to town!"

Please don't look too long at the gardens. Turn your eyes to the trees.

It's the season of the leaves—the fluttering yellow, gold and brown leaves that flaunt their beauty wherever you turn.

They quiver and dance in the sunlight. They shiver in any wayward breeze that touches them. They float and they fall.

All the time, others keep fluttering, dancing and swirling, in a last wild autumn carnival.

The countryside is only dressed in this brilliance for a very short time. With the first mad wind storm all the leaves will come down and the trees will show bare and brown against the sky.

Do drive Up-Island soon.

You'll be repaid many times over and you'll come back convinced there are no more beautiful spots anywhere than the ones almost at your own back door.

Those who remember the column I wrote last autumn about a favorite maple tree might like to know, it is still there.

I saw it on the weekend, cloaked in a glory of golden leaves.

Look for it, if you wish, but remember, if you do not find it, there are many other trees to see and to make your own.

INSIDE POLITICS

With Douglas Fisher, M.P.

Let me turn to critic in this column, firstly of Minister of Justice Guy Favreau, secondly of Ralph Allen's new novel, and lastly of the CBC's new public affairs extravaganza, This Hour Has Seven Days.

It seems improbable that only 10 months ago the federal Liberals whipped through a party motion making Guy Favreau the official lieutenant to the PM and the kingpin of French-Canadian representation in the government. He was made House leader and given the prestige portfolio of justice. Since then he has faded out as important Quebec figure while Premier Lesage and his crew have come on to dominate all politics there and only Maurice Sauve remains of the French federal ministers as a probable giant.

Even the Grit backbenchers who felt Jack Pickersgill was oversmart and tricky as House leader would now prefer him to the skittery and ineffectual Favreau. The Hal Banks decamping has put his role as minister of justice in doubt and lots more trouble is brewing on this and on the situation in the penitentiaries.

Hippety-Hoppety

Some of the Favreau difficulty is a peculiar hippety-hoppety manner in using English with a vocabulary weighted to legal words. He puts listeners under a tension in following his arguments. This is not because he wishes to confuse or bemuse as does Paul Martin. In trying to be precise in English, Favreau manages too often to give shades of meaning to undertakings in House arrangements which the other parties bridle at because they seem to misrepresent them. Part of this problem arises from greenness in politics; part from an inability at either bluff camaradrie or partisanship put with brutality.

Recently, varsity historian Ramsay Cook wrote a long paper for a Montreal daily on French Canada and Confederation. It included this: "Moreover, the position of the Quebec federal member of Parliament is, to say the least, anomalous when votes are taken on programs which Quebec has not chosen to join." In my opinion, the Quebec MPs are already suffering from the anomaly.

The Creditistes are becoming shriller exponents of Quebec dissent to the federal government; the Tories from Quebec seem to have dried up. The Liberals, with the exception of Sauve and Choquette, have either given up speaking or seem like passive spectators, along for the ride, all aware that the real spokesmen for Quebec at Ottawa speak from Quebec City.

This denuding of the real clothes of power is most apparent with Favreau. It can be seen also in the case of the golden boy, John Turner. This handsome young man with all the talents was mooted by most of us as a sure-fire cabinet bet. The qualities are still there but my impression is that even Mr. Turner take his prospects much less seriously. An English-speaking Quebec MP is even more cut off from the source of power by the trading away of federal power to Quebec by Mr. Pearson.

Now the book: Ralph Allen's The High White Forest is an entertaining novel about the Battle of the Bulge in the Ardennes in late '44. I recommend it to soldiers of the time because of the clear treatment of the Zombie Issue. It is amazing how thoroughly the whole unsavory mess which grew out of Mackenzie King's determination to avoid the conscription crisis of the First World War has been forgotten.

At another time in our history when bias and bigotry feud over our flag it is worth remembering how nasty and hypocritical our treatment of the Zombies was. Allen is much more successful in working in this analysis of the reinforcement crisis in Canada than he was in his First World War novel, Home-Made Banners.

The High White Forest is the best war novel I've found by a Canadian. It is bothersome that it comes so late. Its plot structure is so much like the famous Irving Shaw book, The Young Lions, and its repeated reversions to a stream of consciousness flashback technique so similar to Norman Mailer's The Naked and the Dead that I kept comparing it with those best-sellers. Like so many things Canadian, it isn't quite in that American league. But it will take you back through the '30s and the war years most effectively.

CBC Blarney

The CBC is the damndest institution I have tried to like, let alone love. When you unravel all the blarney yarn about balanced programming and serving the whole population—thus Bonanza and Ed Sullivan and Gunsmoke—you get to the core of CBC obligation and of CBC pride, that is, public affairs programming. Have we ever had greater fanfare than for This Hour Has Seven Days? It pushed last years ballyhoo for Horizon well in the shade. This was to be the topper of all time. The public affairs show to make you forget Inquiry and Close-Up. Two young supermen, Watson and Leiterman, brilliant in technique, superb in knowledge and insight, are to give us this magazine of social comment, wit, satire, meaningfulness, and influence. The first show was a clinker, dull in the main, a nice hour for a viewer to keep on reading or playing cards or trying channels.

Why does the CBC, why did the CBC, turn to hyperbole with this show? It beats me, and like a lot of others who watch the CBC I'm going to be interested in what this weekly extravaganza costs us shareholders.

Long Talking House May Establish Record

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons passes a milestone of longevity this week.

Barring an adjournment or dissolution, both unlikely eventualities, the Commons will reach its 174th sitting day Thursday, equalling the record of the 1960-61 parliamentary session.

As things shape up now, the session which opened Feb. 17 and has been going on virtually without interruption since, will set a more enduring record than the 1960-61 session.

After a summer spent in the capital, MPs are exerting a lot of pressure to have business programmed to ensure at least a summer holiday in future.

Part of the reason for this session's length lay in the extended debate over the government's proposed Canadian flag.

The talk went on for weeks—throughout what normally is the summer holiday. Even yet the issue remains unresolved. A Commons committee now is seeking a design which it can recommend to the Commons toward the end of the month.

Another sizable chunk of sitting time this session was devoted to an almost-perennial proposal—an independent commission to draw the boundaries of parliamentary constituencies.

IN THIRD SESSION

Legislation on this subject has been before the last three sessions without noticeable headway. The latest one ran into trouble last spring and was shelved temporarily when the opposition showed signs of talking interminably.

Now it's headed for another try Tuesday under a new guiding hand and—accompanied by reports of informal arrangements among the parties which may cut down on length of debate.

Labor Minister Maceachen will substitute as legislative pilot for the government's regular redistribution expert, Transport Minister Pickersgill who is still recuperating from a chest ailment. Mr. Maceachen's new national labor code bill is scheduled for debate today.

The redistribution problem child comes back on the scene at a time when the Commons also is heading for a final showdown on the flag issue. The flag committee is under orders to report by Oct. 29.

German Reds Seek Ban Lift

BONN (Reuters)—West Germany's banned Communist party has begun a drive to increase membership and regain legal existence.

The party wants to create a "people's front" by joining forces with "progressive elements" in the Social Democrat and "bourgeois" parties.

In a joint statement, the East and West German Communist parties demanded withdrawal of the ban on the West German party. "Without a legal Communist party," they argued, "there will be no reunification."

Party leaders, now in exile in East Germany, say the party wants to win 2,000 new members by 1965. It claims to have gained some 3,000 illegal members in the last few years.

Although the West German Communist party, banned in 1956 for "subversive activities," is estimated to number only about 7,000, West German authorities do not underrate its influence.

Solidly backed by the big East German Communist party machine, it is believed to have many agents who are not on the party books.

Gold Price Rises

NEW YORK (AP)—The price of gold has been rising again on the London market after a long levelling period and the U.S. government is taking steps to stave off any attempt of other nations to drain American gold reserves further.

During August when the price of gold was holding steady in London, the U.S. exchange stabilization fund added $28,000,000 to its gold holdings. And the treasury reserves (which don't include the fund's holdings) held almost unchanged.

In September the price of gold rose 3½ cents an ounce in London, where it can be bought and sold on the market. Recently the price climbed to $35.1125 U.S. an ounce. The official price at the U.S. treasury is $35 an ounce, with purchasers required to pay around eight cents more for handling charges.

The London free market is important because if the price mounts high enough to cover buying charges and shipping costs, the temptation rises for foreign central banks to cash in their American dollars for U.S. treasury gold. This happened in October, 1960, when the price of gold rose to $40 an ounce and U.S. reserves dropped sharply.

CAN BUY GOLD

Foreign central banks are permitted to buy gold from the U.S. treasury. American business concerns also can buy gold from the treasury for commercial and art purposes, but American citizens can't on their own.

On Sept. 25 the official treasury gold reserve was $15,460,841,203, compared with $15,583,057,607 the same date in 1963.

The success of the U.S. monetary authorities in protecting the treasury's official gold reserves, although the holdings of American dollars by other nations has been advancing, is due to a number of things.

One is the club of 10 of the principal financial nations, working together to prevent runs on members' currencies or reserves. This has held drains and fluctuations to a minimum.

Another is the workings of the International Monetary Fund. And it is this source of help which the United States is tapping again.

GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Grain prices generally moved in a narrow range in dull trading today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. There were indications some traders were still on the sidelines waiting political developments on the international scene.

Export appeared quiet in most commodities.

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures were steady to firm in quiet trading late today on the Board of Trade.

Wheat futures were up about a cent a bushel most of the session but volume was light. Support was attracted to the bread grain as a result of a government decision to suspend sales of spring wheat for unrestricted domestic use from commodity credit corporation stocks.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Decline at London

With the investment outlook obscure, London stock markets were again extremely sensitive today and a steady trickle of small sales brought a general decline in prices.

AT LONDON the big investors and institution were not active and were inclined to wait to see how the new Labor government will deal with the economic situation.

Equities were the chief sufferers and the stocks threatened with nationalization were particularly affected.

Some steels declined more than 2s. Engineering shares weakened under the lead of tube investments and electricals were generally lower.

Banks, insurances and properties all lost ground.

In Canadian issues useful gains were recorded in Aluminium, BA Oil, Imperial Oil, Triad, Steep Rock and Massey-Ferguson. On the other hand losses were recorded in Consolidated Paper, Dome Petroleum, Nickels, Trans-Canada Pipe and Westcoast Transmission.

AT NEW YORK the stock market closed higher today with steels up and big three motors off. Trading was fairly active.

Anaconda gained 2 points and Kennecott held a gain of a point or so.

U.S. Steel and other major steelmakers held fractional gains.

Xerox was a soft spot, losing about 4. IBM slipped 3. Polaroid was a 3-point gainer.

Parke, Davis, Boeing and United Air Lines were up a point or so.

AT TORONTO most industrial gains were shy of ½-point. Chemcell, Burns and CPR each gained ⅜, while Algoma Steel, Bell Telephone, B.C. Telephone, Calgary Power and Dominion Electrohome each advanced ¼.

Brazilian Traction advanced 10 cents to $4.40 after touching a high of $4.50 in heavy trading.

Abitibi, Aluminium, Dominion Bridge and Argus Corp. each rose ⅛.

AT MONTREAL stocks climbed still higher in moderate trade today. Speculative mines were lower.

Utilities were higher. Bell and CPR gained ⅜ each.

Industrials also agined ground. CIL was up ¼.

Among senior oils Imperial added ½.

Trade and finance issues were firmer. Shop and Save picked up ¼.

AT VANCOUVER trading was moderate. Bethlehem Copper was up at $8 and Copper Ridge at .96. Copper Soo dropped to .30 and Van Metal to .38. Western Mines climbed to $4.80 and New Imperial to $1.47. Utica was up at $1.96 and McKinney Gold at .19½.

DOMCO Reports Operating Loss

MONTREAL (CP)—Dominion Coal Company, Ltd., and its subsidiaries operated at a loss of $1,297,076 for the year ended July 31, 1964, compared with a net income of $1,141,044 during the previous year, the company's annual report released Friday revealed.

Production of coal for the year amounted to 3,068,831 net tons as against 3,308,242 tons in 1963.

The company said the drop in production and in increase in production costs were the main factors contributing to the deficit.

Sermon on 'Duty' Aroused Critics

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

The word "duty" is odious to many people today, said Archbishop Harold Sexton, preaching in Christ Church Cathedral Saturday.

"When I gave a sermon on the subject of duty a while ago, I received abusive letters—many of them anonymous," the archbishop told a service marking the 50th anniversary of the Red Chevron Association of Vancouver Island.

The archbishop was addressing more than 100 members of the association, all of whom went overseas with the Canadian armed forces in 1914.

"You were pledged to loyalty and you did your duty as you saw it," he said. "You were not concerned with the pursuit of mere party aims or with material gain. And your service was part of the splendid record of more than 32,000 Canadians who fought in that spirit."

The archbishop said the horrors of trench warfare were only mitigated by the brotherhood and fellowship existing among the men of many different types who fought side by side.

CAN'T SURVIVE

"That brotherhood is an ideal which should not be abandoned in days of peace. We cannot survive as a nation if we put material things first and neglect our duty to one another."

Attending the service was Nursing Sister M. M. Pugh who won the Mons Star in 1914.

"It is a great privilege to take part in this anniversary," she said.

The Red Chevrons attended a jubilee banquet in the Empress Hotel Saturday evening at which Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes was guest of honor.

"There were 500 of us on board the Sophia when she left," said Leslie Scott of Victoria. "Half were Gordon Highlanders, the others were men of the 88th Victoria Fusiliers."

GAS ATTACK

Many recalled the first gas attack on Ypres on April 22, 1915, in which so many Canadian soldiers were killed or permanently injured.

In those early days, said Mr. Pearkes, the Red Chevrons "set an example of perseverance, courage and discipline for all Canadians to follow."

On Saturday afternoon the veterans enjoyed a three-hour cruise aboard the destroyer-escort HMCS St. Croix at the invitation of Rear Admiral W. M. Landymore, Flag Officer, Pacific Command.

"The navy gave us a wonderful time," said one of them. "It was a really memorable day and I think every one of us enjoyed the fellowship with old comrades."

After the cruise, the Red Chevrons gathered in the Army, Navy and Air Force Hall on Wharf Street where the traditional rum ration was served and more reminiscences exchanged.

Road Work Asked By Chamber At Courtenay

COURTENAY—The Chamber of Commerce here will ask the provincial highways department for road improvements.

The Chamber is concerned over traffic problems on Dyke and Anderton roads.

In a bid to cut down the amount of traffic they will ask for extensions to Ryan Road.

Both Dyke and Anderton have been the scene of several accidents, including a fatal one in recent weeks.

They also felt the inauguration of the Comox-Powell River ferry service next year would be an additional reason for extension of the road.

FORMER Victoria businessman and newly-elected chairman of the Billy Graham Crusade Committee for Vancouver and the Lower Mainland, Ronald C. Brown, will speak at the annual bouquet of the Christian Businessmen's Committee of Victoria, Oct. 26 at the Empress Hotel. Mr. Brown recently returned to B.C. after spending 22 years in missionary service in the Dominican Republic.

Tito Hurries Home

NICOSIA (AP) — Yugoslav President Tito ended a hasty official visit to Cyprus Friday and flew home to keep a finger on the pulse of the Communist world following the Soviet power shakeup. The Communist leader reaffirmed Yugoslavia's support for the Cyprus government of President Makarios and cancelled plans for a leisurely return home aboard his yacht.

SCOTCH EXPORTS UP

NEW FLAG OFFICER DUE AT ESQUIMALT FRIDAY

Rear-Admiral M. G. Stirling will arrive here Friday, three days prior to assuming duties as flag officer, Pacific Coast.

A change-of-command ceremony will be held next Monday in front of the flag officer's building, HMC Dockyard.

A guard and the 48-member HMCS Naden Band will participate.

Chamber Fees Draw Presidential Fire

Assessment of fees for Victoria Visitors Bureau members was criticized last week by the president and immediate past president of Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

The assessment comes "like a bolt out of the blue — sometimes six times the previous amount, without any explanation," said chamber president David Lawson.

Immediate past president E. E. Pearlman referred to assessments as "arbitrary, reach for the sky" and suggested closer liaison between the bureau and the chamber.

Bureau commissioner Alan Maclean said the group would be pleased to bring in recommendations of substance for greater co-operation.

He also said most businessmen don't give even minimum financial support to the bureau. Minimum membership fee is $25 a year.

But he reported good support from most of the accommodation industry.

Boat Crash Kills Man

VANCOUVER (CP)—Roy Sharp, 59, of Vancouver was killed Sunday night when his fast-moving 12-foot boat rammed into a barge loaded with railway cars on the Fraser River near here.

Police said Sharp died of a fractured skull, apparently when he pitched forward and struck his head during the collision.

After the boat—powered by an outboard engine — struck the barge, Sharp's feet became entangled in the steering gear and the small craft circled until the engine failed.

Sharp's boat then drifted and sank.

MAN DIED BEFORE RACE

$60,000 Valued at $3

OTTAWA (CP) — A revenue department official said today he doubts the government can claim any of the $60,000 sweepstake win of an Edmonton gardener who died two weeks before his horse came in.

R. B. Rombough, 66, had purchased a sweepstakes ticket on the second-place finisher in Saturday's Cambridgeshire. He died two weeks before the race, leaving a widow.

An estate tax expert in the revenue department said: "We've never had one like this before . . . but these winnings don't appear to be taxable."

He said estate tax is calculated on the value of a person's estate at the time of death, minus a basic $60,000 exemption.

"His ticket at time of death would appear to have been worth only its face value—just over $3."

From an Income Tax Act point of view "gambling winnings as a rule are not income and are not taxable unless it can't be proved the individual is a professional gambler," said another tax authority.

The $60,000 winnings, lodged in court in Dublin, now awaits a claim by Mr. Rombough's executors.

Doris Rombough, his 60-year-old widow who is working as a ranch cook at Tomahawk, 60 miles west of Edmonton, said she has the winning ticket and receipt.

"His will was very simple," she said today. "He left everything to me. I hope everything goes along without trouble. But even when I say that I'm sure that I'll ever get any happiness out of the money without him here."

Push the profit button

Telephones with pushbuttons on them are one of today's biggest aids to greater business efficiency (and, therefore, to greater profits). They are as convenient as having a miniature switchboard right at your finger tips and can prove a particular boon to expanding office operations.

With the compact six-button telephone, for example, you can receive outside calls on up to four separate lines, hold them and have them transferred. With the 18-button Call Director● you can do all these things several times over.

There is almost no limit to the versatility of these "key systems", as we call them, and they can be adapted for large or small organizations alike. They also cost considerably less than many people imagine.

Why not get the facts on how one or more "key systems" could help your business run more smoothly and economically. We'll gladly give you an estimate on a system tailored to your own special requirements — naturally without any obligation. Call our Marketing & Sales Department today, or have your secretary send for our free brochure.

University of Victoria students want to make a drag-out affair of a noon-hour rally Oct. 27.

In aid of United Appeal, they want a hefty team of students to drag policemen, politicos, Royal Roads cadets, university faculty and city aldermen over the line in a charity tug-of-war.

$50 FROM LOSERS

The Martlet, Uvic student newspaper, set the rules, limiting each team to 2,000 pounds, with losers shelling out $50 each to the appeal.

So far, Royal Roads shows a spark of interest:

"We are only too pleased to do what we can to support the United Appeal," said commandant Capt. William Hayes.

"It certainly looks good, but I would have to check our schedule to see if we can make it," he said.

WORTHWHILE

Uvic student council endorsed the tilt Sunday night, appearing eager to demonstrate that comedy may be mixed with charity, and that some student pranks can be worthwhile.

And win or lose, student council is reported to be good for $50 to the appeal.

Armed Pair Cause Havoc On Red Plane

MOSCOW (AP)—Two armed men seriously wounded the pilot and co-pilot of a Soviet passenger plane in an escape attempt, the newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda reported Sunday.

The Communist youth newspaper said the two men, described as hardened criminals, were armed with a pistol and a knife.

It said they boarded a single-engine plane at a stopover on the plane's flight from the Moldavian capital of Kishinev to Ismail on the Soviet-Romanian border.

The two men forced two other passengers to lie down on the floor of the small aircraft and ordered the pilot, Anatoly Shevelev, to head the plane for the Black Sea.

The pair apparently intended to head to Turkey.

The two airmen put the plane into a wild series of manoeuvres while resisting their attacks.

But the pair began firing and stabbing the pilots in a wild battle in a crazily plunging airplane.

The pilot finally managed to put the plane down on the airport runway and the two men were apprehended.

Sherwin-Williams Opens 2nd Store

The store will market artist's supplies and wallpaper as well as paints. First store was opened in 1954 and another was opened in Nanaimo last July.

FORMER U.S. labor secretary in the Eisenhower administration, James P. Mitchell, 63, died today in New York. He was in the city on a business conference. He lived in Hillsborough, California.

Books To Be Burned

JAKARTA (Reuters)—American books and magazines will be burned in public Oct. 31 to mark the 36th anniversary of the Indonesian Youth Pledge Day, the official Antara news agency said Saturday. Antara said the theme of the celebration was the abolition of foreign culture that could damage the morale of Indonesian youth.

VIEW ROYAL CLASH

Merger Proposal Debated Tonight

View Royal will be the setting for a battle royal tonight.

On the one side will be "panhandlers" jostling for a position in Esquimalt.

On the other, the anti-amalgamation forces.

The battle has been brought about by the decision of many residents in the View Royal panhandle district to join Esquimalt.

In a bid to bring about the marriage they have presented a petition to Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell.

COUNTER PETITION

This move was counteracted by petition from Christie Point residents.

Tonight could prove a deciding factor in the battle.

The View Royal Ratepayers and Community Association has called a general meeting to discuss pros and cons.

In a newsletter, which has gone out to all residents in the area, the association declares itself hostile to the move.

The letter points out there will be a tax increase if the merger takes place—"This is an absolute certainty."

It goes on to say: "According to the figures presented by the proposers of the petition to secede and join Esquimalt this would be a 33.5 per cent increase.

"We could produce figures to make it look even worse but we will be satisfied to point out that it is a conservative estimate by a group trying to put a good complexion on their proposal."

FAST TURNOUT

The letter adds: "Do you know how many policemen are on duty in Esquimalt to man the fire equipment?

"Did you know that View Royal department can turn out in the middle of the night in just over a minute from the time the hooter sounds?"

'DO SOMETHING'

Urging members to fight against the merger, the letter says: "In any event don't just sit and watch the partition of our community.

"While you are sitting, write to Dan Campbell and tell him you object to View Royal being carved up and the choice morsels thrown to the neighbors across the municipal boundary."

Tonight's meeting will start at 8 in the Community Hall, Old Island Highway.

FORMER general manager of the Canadian Press, John A. McNeil, 88, died Sunday in Toronto. He was with CP from 1939 to 1945, and prior to that with the old Barry Gazette, London Advertiser and Montreal Star. (CP Wirephoto.)

Rambler Signs New Pact; Strike at GMC Continues

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union reached agreement today on a new three-year contract covering AMC's 24,000 automotive division employees and continuing profit sharing.

A continuing walkout there conceivably could cut off the company's automobile building. Doors and fabrics for cars are made there, as well as refrigerators.

Both AMC and the UAW predicted Rambler and Ambassador car production would be resumed Tuesday after a four-day strike in support of UAW new contract demands on AMC.

LAST TO SIGN

GM and the other two members of the big three—Ford and Chrysler — reached national-contract agreement ahead of AMC, which was put last while a pattern was set elsewhere.

In the national economic agreement, AMC workers get the higher pensions, earlier retirement and wage gains won earlier in big three pacts—plus a share in profits, if sufficiently high.

General Motors, despite its new national economic agreement, has been shut 25 days now by walkouts supporting demands made in at-the-plant negotiations. Local-level working agreements here, as elsewhere, supplement the national contract.

Read how the Morris 1100's revolutionary Float-on-Fluid suspension gives you a remarkably safe ride, as smooth and comfortable as cars costing three times the price.

Suppose you took your own car at high speed through the hard, right-angle turn in the photograph. You'd feel it lift and sway. You'd hear the tires squeal at the punishment. Not a comfortable experience.

But take the Morris 1100 through the same turn, at the same speed—and you don't feel a trace of sway or roll. The car stays dead level, safe and comfortable.

This is BMC's remarkable Float-on-Fluid suspension at work. It lets you drive the Morris 1100 down a washboard road at 60 m.p.h. with no pitching or bucking. You can take it through potholes, over railroad tracks, along half-finished suburban streets—and think you were cruising down Main Street!

Obviously, Float-on-Fluid is no run-of-the-mill suspension system. It's a completely new idea—patented by BMC—that actually does float you on a cushion of fluid. No springs or shock absorbers. Nothing to break down. No maintenance. You enjoy the Morris 1100's incredibly smooth ride completely carefree for the life of your car.

See your Morris Dealer for a Demonstration. Put the Morris 1100 through its paces yourself. Check out its Float-on-Fluid ride, its roominess, its eager performance. No question about it, here's a car you'll drive with pride—the same solid pride you'll see in hundreds of thousands of Morris 1100 owners all over the world. Talk to your Morris dealer and you'll agree . . . nobody puts more into car-making than BMC.

Easter Target On Mass Change

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Ecumenical council bishops Friday received instructions approved by Pope Paul VI for sweeping changes in the Roman Catholic mass to be carried out before Easter of next year.

The changes, patterned after the ecumenical council's liturgy decree of last December, are designed to shorten the mass and increase the participation of those in attendance.

The lengthy instructions call for the reforms of the mass to go into effect on the first day of Lent, March 7, 1965.

- Abbreviation of introductory prayers and elimination of closing prayers so that mass ends at the words "Ite missa est" (go, mass is finished).
- Previously silent prayers of the celebrant are to be made public by being said aloud.
- All duplication in the mass is to be eliminated, reducing certain chants, readings and responses between the celebrant and his assistants.
- The celebrant will face the congregation in delivering the word of God from scripture during the mass.
- New prayers of the faithful in petitioning God are to be included after the essential part of the creed.

All Seats Filled On Council

The final position on the University of Victoria Students' Council was filled Friday with the election of fourth-year arts student James Currie as director of clubs.

He received 509 votes to 259 for his opponent, Ken Birch, third-year arts.

Miss Trueman will chair the residence council consisting of six elected floor representatives, Darlene Shimian, Ann Coates, Daphne Gillespie, Elizabeth Dyer, Mavis Semadini and Loral Dean.

This council will revise the pro tem constitution for student government within the residences and carry out disciplinary action as required.

Liaison with the AMS students' council will be through Jim Bigsby, student union building director.

Radiation Levels Watched

OTTAWA (CP) — Dr. Peter Bird, chief of the federal health department's radiation protection division says it will be ten days to two weeks before it's known whether the Chinese nuclear explosion has increased radioactivity levels in Canada.

Dr. Bird said Friday he made his forecast on the assumption the Chinese exploded a nuclear device in the atmosphere. If the explosion was underground it was unlikely this would increase current levels.

Radioactivity from an atmospheric explosion likely would start arriving on the west coast in four to six days. This would depend on meteorological conditions.

Dr. Bird said it would take another six to eight days to have air samples from the coast tested in Ottawa to determine their radio activity levels.

He said the timing of the explosion means milk supplies during the rest of this year and until next summer will not be contaminated with additional amounts of strontium - 90. All fodder for cows until next summer has been harvested and placed in barns where it will not be subjected to further contamination.

Radiation levels in Canada have been declining steadily since the United States, Britain and Russia ceased exploding nuclear devices in the atmosphere. The quantity of radioactivity is far below permissible levels.

Opening Set Of Calgary Press

Newspaper executives from Newfoundland to British Columbia, government leaders, businessmen and industrialists will join officers and directors of the Southam Press Limited for the opening.

Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta will press a button activating a new $1,500,000 press. A special luncheon will be held.

PROFESSOR'S PROPOSAL

Homosexual 'Marriages' Next?

VANCOUVER (UPI) — A professor of religion said last week in Vancouver the church might encourage "marriages" between homosexuals.

Rev. William Nicholls, head of the department of religious studies at the University of British Columbia and an Anglican minister, said the church could not be expected to give the "marriages" official blessing despite encouraging them.

He made the statement in front of a number of admitted homosexuals.

TWO POSITIONS

He told the Association for Social Knowledge, whose aims include educating the public about homosexuality, that the church has to take a differing public and private position on the question.

He said the offficial church view is that homosexuals who can't change their condition should accept chastity and continence.

"In private, one is faced with an individual in a particular situation which is never ideal," he said.

Prof. Nicholls said progress with individuals has to be made one step at a time.

ENCOURAGE STABILITY

"One immediate step is the encouragement of a stable and continuing relationship comparable to the relationship of marriage," he said.

"I realize that many homosexuals wish the church could ultimately give its blessing to such relationship and regard them as normal marriages.

"To ask the church to do this would be quite unrealistic."

UNKNOWN

Prof. Nicholls said it is not yet known scientifically whether homosexuality is a normal variation of the sexual condition or whether it is a mental or moral disorder.

"It might be a mixture of these," he said.

Well it doesn't anymore.
That fine old bottle has launched its last sip.
We've designed a new container for Gooderham's Bonded Stock. Tall and refined with classic lines.

And we age Bonded Stock longer now as well. To make every drop just a little more mellow.
One thing though. Bonded Stock's smooth lightness we don't change. Our blenders know a good thing when they taste it.
Judging from the number of people who buy Bonded Stock Whisky, so does the rest of the country.

Record-Breakers Continue Assault

Yank Medal Total at 71 As Olympics Nearing End

TOKYO (CP)—A German girl equalled the world record today in winning her country's first track gold medal of the Olympic Games and Russia's Tamara Press captured the women's discus throw with an Olympic record toss.

Four Olympic women's track and field records were broken. Speedster Edith McGuire of the United States won the gold medal in the 200 metre to complete a U.S. sweep of all four sprints. Her time of 23 seconds flat also was a new Olympic mark.

The U.S. boosted its gold medal total in track and field to 12, the same as it won in Rome in both the women's and men's competition, by also taking the men's 400 metres. But the Germans were strongly leading after five events in the gruelling men's decathlon.

Karin Balzer, a 26-year-old laboratory technician in East Germany, equalled the world mark in the women's 80-metre hurdles. The thrilling race was so close that all three medal winners were given the same clocking, 10.5 seconds.

Twice before, Mrs. Balzer equalled the world mark in international competition. The previous Olympic record was 10.6 set in 1960 by Irina Press, Tamara's sister, who was fourth today in the same time.

Irina and Gisela Birkemyer of Germany, now retired, also share the world mark. The Russian woman was the first to do 10.5.

Press Sisters Complete 'Double'

Mike Larabee, who at 30 is considered the elder statesman of the quarter-milers, sped to victory in the 400 metres, outdistancing Trinidad's Wendell Motley in 45.1 seconds. Motley was second for the silver medal in 45.2 and Poland's Andrjez Badenski got the bronze with a time of 45.6.

The famous Press sisters today completed an Olympic double when Tamara took the women's discus with an Olympic record toss of 187 feet, 10¾ inches. Irina captured the five-event pentathalon Saturday.

Before Tamara let loose with her best heave of the day, Ingrid Lotz of Germany smashed the old mark with a toss of 187 feet 8¼ inches. Mrs. Lotz won the silver medal and Lia Manoliu of Romania the bronze. Miss Manoliu's toss was 186 feet 11 inches.

Italy, the third highest gold medal winner at Rome with 13, won three gold medals today in equestrian and cycling events for a total of five gold after nine days of competition.

Americans Holding 31 Gold Medals

With five days left in the 18th Olympics, the United States already has equalled its total medal output in 1960—71.

The U.S. has 31 gold, 21 silver and 19 bronze. But with the windup of the track and field competition Wednesday, there are few sports left in which the Americans excel.

The Russians, having their troubles, are far behind the Americans at this stage with 16 gold, 13 silver and 19 bronze, but they expect to score heavily in gymnastics.

In the women's 200 metres, Miss McGuire's 23-second clocking was one-fifth of a second better than the Olympic record of 23.2 set by Wilma Rudolph of the U.S. in a heat in 1960. Wilma and Margaret Ann Burvill of Australia are co-holders of the world record of 22.9.

In the women's 800-metre semi-finals, France's Maryvonne Dupureur won her heat in the Olympic record time of 2:04.1. The previous mark was 2:04.3 by Russia's Ljudmila Shevtsova, set in 1960.

Leps Eliminated From 1,500 Metres

New Zealand's Peter Snell, winner of the 800 metres, and Dyrol Burleson of the U.S. both won their semi-finals in the 1,500 metres and were considered the best bets for medals in the Wednesday final.

Canadian Ergas Leps of Toronto was eliminated. He placed eighth in 3:51.2.

In the decathlon, a pair of Germans and a Russian were closely bunched for the lead. Willi Holdorf of Germany moved in front after the day's events with 4,090 points. Fellow-German Hans-Joachim Walde was second with 4,074 and Russia's Rein Aun third with 4,067.

Bill Gairdner of Toronto was 15th with 3,568 points and Jerry Moro of Trail, B.C., was 21st and last with 3,261.

The Italians had a banner day, winning the equestrian three-day team event gold medal, with Mauro Checcoli taking the individual riding gold and Giovanni Pettenella winning the 1,000-metre cycling sprint.

The solid-scoring Italian squad maintained its overnight lead to sweep in for the team title with 85.8 points. The United States was second with 64.86 and Germany third with 56.73.

Canadian Marksmen Far Off Pace

In the individual competition, Carlos Moratorio of Argentina captured the silver medal with 56.40 points and a German, Friz Ligges, took the bronze with 49.20.

Finland's Pentti Linsvuop set an Olympic record in winning the rapid fire pistol shooting with a score of 592. The previous Olympic record of 587 was shared by William McMillan of the U.S., a Marine captain who won the event in 1960, and Stefan Petruscu of Romania. McMillan was 12th today with 586.

Bill Hare of Ottawa placed 22nd with 579 and Gary McMahon of Dartmouth, N.S., was 47th with 551.

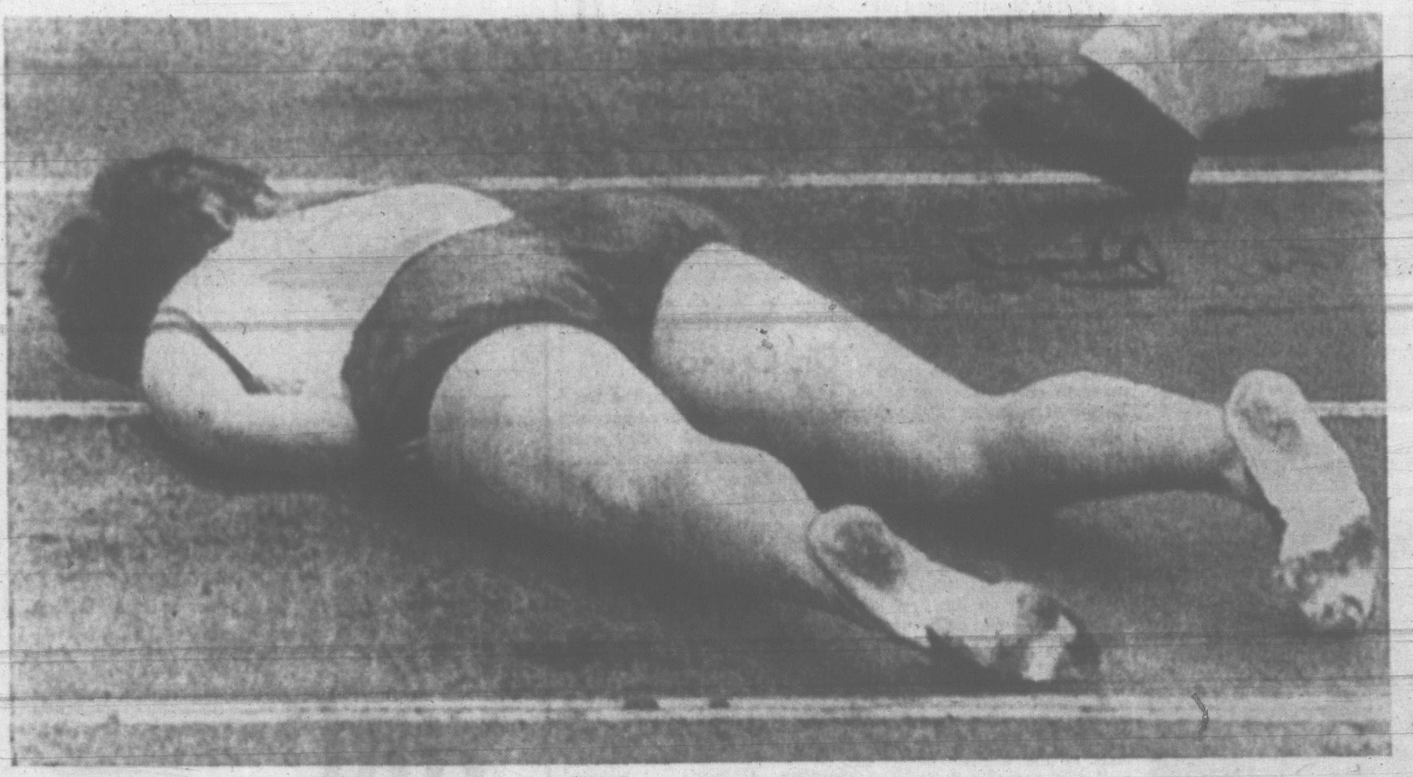
The Russians ended Italy's long reign in the epee fencing when Grigory Kriss captured both the individual gold medal and the bronze.

Britain's Bill Hoskyns, world champion in 1958, won the silver and Kuram Kostava of Russia the bronze.

A Russian grappler took the welterweight gold medal in the Greco-Roman wrestling as all eight gold medals in the sport were decided.

Hungary and Japan each won two gold medals and Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Turkey one apiece.

Anatoly Kolesov, Russia, was the winner in the welterweight class. The other gold medallists were: Heavyweight Istvan Kozma, Hungary; light-heavyweight Boyan Alexandrov, Bulgaria; middleweight Branislav Simic Yugoslavia; featherweight Imre Polyak, Hungary; bantamweight Masamitsu Ichiguchi, Japan, and flyweight Tsutomu Hanahari, Japan.



A DAY SHE WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER . . .

Photographers usually fix their lens on winners but the drama in the first heat of the women's 80-metre hurdles at the Olympic Games in Tokyo Sunday was on a fallen loser. Marion Snyder, 22, of Toronto, fell face down after misjudging her drive over a hurdle. While she lay prone the field swept by. Miss Price, 22, Eastern Canada 200-metre champion, was carried from the field on a stretcher. She suffered severe bruises and scrapes. (AP Wirephoto)

Yvon Cournoyer isn't hockey's most eager checker.

The Montreal Canadiens were well aware of Cournoyer's defensive shortcomings and that his height, 5'7", and weight, 160 pounds, weren't conducive to survival in the National Hockey League.

But the Habs also knew that the 21-year-old right winger scored 63 goals for the Junior Canadiens last season and bagged four more during a five-game NHL tryout.

So when the retirement of Bernie Geoffrion left a vacancy on the line with Jean Beliveau and John Ferguson, the Canadiens gave Cournoyer the job. The Habs figured that if he didn't check the opposition at least he might outscore them.

Cournoyer has a knack for scoring goals. He found the net twice during the weekend for two important goals that enabled Montreal to pick up three of a possible four points.

The youngster sparked the Habs to a late rally Saturday night for a 2-2 tie with New York, closing the Rangers lead with his first goal this season and then sending Beliveau in on a break 37 seconds later for the equalizer.

On Sunday he erased a 1-0 Boston lead with his second goal and started the Habs to a 3-1 victory over the Bruins.

HABS TIED WITH LEAFS

The Canadiens moved into first place along with Toronto, which also picked up three points via a 7-2 win over Boston Saturday night and a 3-3 tie in New York Sunday. Chicago and Detroit split a home-and-home series, the Hawks winning 4-2 at home Saturday night and losing 3-2 to the Red Wings on Detroit ice the next night.

Earl Ingarfield and Bob Nevin tallied second-period goals as the Rangers dominated the sloppy Canadiens. But the roof fell in at 15:54 of the third when Cournoyer poked in Beliveau's pass and 37 seconds later big Jean tied it up.

Cournoyer steered a pass from Ted Harris to Beliveau, who broke in alone and faked Marcel Paille out of the net. An opening game crowd of 13,429 shrieked with joy but coach Toe Blake grumbled about Montreal's listless effort.

The Habs, however, were flying 24 hours later as they peppered Boston goalie Ed Johnston with 40 shots. Johnny Bucyk's first-period goal stood up until Cournoyer and Claude Larose tallied in the middle frame.

Claude Provost scored his third of the season at 19:58 when Johnston left the net in favor of an extra forward. Boston's fourth defeat was witnessed by 13,909 Bruin supporters.

PAUL WEARS COLLAR

Hornung Dirties Packers' Hopes

By Associated Press

Paul Hornung wore the collar, in more ways than one, and it meant another trip to the cleaners Sunday for Green Bay Packers.

Then he missed five successive field goal attempts, the last one backfiring into a 24-21 Colt victory that jolted the Packers' 1964 title hopes.

Detroit Lions strengthened their hold on second place in the West by blanking Chicago Bears 10-0. Los Angeles Rams claimbed to third with a 42-14 rout of San Francisco '49ers in other Western division action Sunday.

In the Eastern division, St. Louis Cardinals and Cleveland Browns pulled out narrow victoies and remained tied for the lead at 4-1-1. The Cardinals scored two touchdowns in the final half-minute for a 38-24 decision over Washington Red Skins. The Browns caught Dallas Cowboys 20-16 on a 54-yard interception return by Bernie Parrish in the fourth quarter.

OLD PROS SET PACE

Old pros Ollie Matson and Sam Baker led injury-riddled Philadelphia Eagles past floundering New York Giants 23-17. Bill Brown scored three touchdowns as Minnesota Vikings sluged Pittsburgh Steelers 30-10.

In Sunday's American Football League action Buffalo Bills, only unbeaten pro club, stretched their victory string to six by whipping Kansas City Chiefs 35-22 and San Diego Chargers walloped Denver Broncos 42-14.

Detroit's victory over the Bears proved costly as starting quarterback Earl Morrall suffered a broken collarbone in a first-quarter pile-up and may be lost for the season. Milt Plum did some fancy relief pitching, including a 10-yard touchdown strike to Jim Gibbons. Wayne Walker added a 46-yard field goal.

Roman Gabriel tossed four first-half touchdown passes for the Rams, who set an NFL record for yardage on interception returns. The Los Angeles secondary swiped seven '49er passes and netted 314 yards on the runbacks.

Shawnigan Trims Brentwood Squad

Mark Appleton set the pace Saturday as Shawnigan Lake Boys' School rolled to a 32-6 rugby victory over Brentwood Boys' School.

Appleton scored three trys for Shawnigan, which also got two trys from Ross MacIntosh and single trys from John Garraway, Paul Bayliss, Steve Owen, Mackenzie Bowell and Tate Mason. Don Ingleton added a conversion.

Stray Horn accounted for the Brentwood points with a try and a penalty goal.

DON SCHOLLANDER

U.S. Pair Big Fish At Toyko

By JIM BECKER

TOKYO (AP)—Don Schollander and Sharon Stouder make quite a swimming team all by themselves.

They won seven gold medals and one silver between them in the Tokyo Olympics, and each wound up by swimming on a winning relay team in the windup Sunday night.

Schollander, the greatest thing to hit swim-mad Japan since instant rice, says he's worried that he won't be hungry any more.

Schollander, 18, from Lake Oswego, Ore., is the first man to win four gold medals in Olympic swimming. He took the 100- and 400-metre freestyle and swam legs on the winning 400-metre medley and 800-metre freestyle relays.

* * *

Don's 200 in the 800 relay was the fastest ever swum—he holds the world record—but can't count because it came on the anchor leg.

Over on the girls' team, Sharon, a 15-year-old blonde with close-chopped hair, was only edged out of four gold medals by Australia's fabulous Dawn Fraser, who beat Sharon by a couple of feet in the 100-metre freestyle.

Sharon got the silver medal there and won the 100-metre butterfly, plus two legs on the winning 400-metre freestyle relay and the 400-metre medley.

* * *

And so much alike the best way to tell them apart would be to throw them in the water and see which stroke they swim.

Sharon is a high school girl in Glendora, Calif.

Schollander will enter Yale when he gets home.

That's if the Japanese ever let him go. His mother and father said before the race that they had shipped off to a Japanese orphanage some 80 boxes of gifts Don had received from fans in Japan.

Rich Sahara Purse In Rookie's Pocket

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The autumn professional golf trail winds into Southern California this week, and leading the way is rookie Dick Sikes, winner Sunday of the richest purse of the tour—$12,000—in the $70,000 Sahara Invitational.

The next stop is the $40,000 Mountain View Open at Corona, 35 miles from Los Angeles, and many of the players can breathe easier. Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus will be in faraway Australia.

Sikes, from Cleveland and a native of Springdale, Ark., led from the first round in the first wire-to-wire finish since Bobby Nichols won the PGA title last summer.

Bill Casper, former national open champion and winner of three tournaments this year, placed second with a final round of 67 for 276. It was worth $6,500.

NEW MODELS HAVEN'T COME IN YET . . .

Mighty Soviet Track Forces Like Old Cars

. . . PRAISE PILES UP FOR JEROME

That's what Gabriel Korobkov, veteran coach of the Russians, says—and this is one Gabriel who doesn't always blow his own horn or fear exile to Siberia.

"We have some very fine young men coming up, but they are not ready now. They will be ready in two years for the European championships and in four years for Mexico City (the 1968 Olympics)."

Soviet track prestige was further shaken when Bob Schul, a rangy runner with an explosive kick, won the 5,000-metre run, right on top of Billy Mills' unbelievable triumph in the 10,000.

This marked the first time the United States ever had won any race over 3,000 metres in the Olympics.

* * *

Mountains of praise, meanwhile, heaped on the shoulders of Vancouver's Harry Jerome. Considered washed-up two years ago when he suffered a severe muscle tear in his left leg, Jerome gave Canada its first finalist in the men's sprints since 1936. At the same time he exploded the myth that he folds under pressure.

Bill Crothers of Toronto, who won the second-place silver medal in the 800 metres Friday, paid Jerome high tribute.

"I can say that it is almost impossible to make the finals of both sprints, but Harry did it despite eight races in four days. He has done a great job."

* * *

Jim Daly of Winnipeg, manager of the track team, said Jerome had carried the heaviest load of any of the Canadian team because of his poor showing in Rome and Perth.

"In the finals of the 100 and 200 he came up with two of the best times—10.2 in the 100 and 20.7 in the 200; and missed the bronze in the 200 by a whisker. No other sprinter here has run so many races.

"Canadians should realize that this is a fantastic job he has done. He's carried the heaviest load of any member of the Canadian team on his shoulders because of the trouble in Rome and Perth. It's got to rate as one of the success and comeback stories of these Games. Now he's proved that he is a great competitor."

"I didn't want to come last," said Jerome, who won the third-place bronze medal in the 100 Thursday.

"I'm not really strong enough for the 200 but I wanted to give it a big try. I knew the rest of the field was fresh and I was hoping that someone would make a mistake and I would be in there to cash in.

"Now I want to go back home and see if I can build up my strength for the 200."

Victoria Gets First Win; Tackles Blades Tuesday

Victoria 3, San Francisco 2

By DOUG PEDEN

The first taste of victory is still sweet today for Victoria Maple Leafs and now the Leafs want to improve the flavor with a sip of revenge.

Victory, after their Western Hockey League season had opened with three straight defeats, finally arrived for the Leafs Saturday night at Memorial Arena. The Victorians survived a sorry second period and battled from behind for a 3-2 triumph over San Francisco Seals.

Revenge they hope will come their way Tuesday night at the arena when they tangle at 8 with the high-flying Los Angeles Blades.

It was the Blades who bounced the Leafs, then the Denver Invaders, out of the WHL semi-final playoffs last season after coach Rudy Pilous had guided the Invaders to a first-place finish.

CARRIED ON . . .

The same Blades continued their humiliating habits when the Leafs launched the current campaign at Los Angeles. They thumped the Leafs 7-3 and 6-3, leaving the Victorians groggy but aching for a chance to even the score.

Although they had big troubles with the Seals, Rudy's boys made the most of two simple but important hockey assets—spirit and hard work. They had zip in their skating legs for the first time and they had the determination to bounce back from that sad second period.

HELP FOR MILLAR

With the improved skating came sharper passing and better back-checking by the forwards that closed some gaps in the defence. And benefiting the most from the tighter defence was goalie Al Millar, who had his easiest night of the young season.

Millar, after averaging 35 during the first four games, turned aside 27 shots Saturday while his mates forced Frisco's suet-padded Bobby Perrault to make 37 stops.

For the 2,049 fans, who had grown gloomy while the Leafs did just about everything wrong in the last 15 minutes of the middle session, the game was wrapped up holiday-style in the furious final period.

Although taking the first three penalties of the game, the Victorians held an edge during the opening period and went ahead on Larry Keenan's goal early in the second.

Then the castle collapsed and the Seals had a ball for the rest of the period. Former Victoria Cougar Al Nicholson made it 1-1 and fast-moving Charlie Burns, taking a pass from ex-Cougar Jean Marc Picard, shot the Golden Gate crew ahead.

Things were different again in the third period.

Keenan, shifted by Pilous from a wing to centre Saturday and voted the Victoria star of the game, found a crack in Perrault's armor and backhanded home a pass from Fred Hucul to knot the count with eight minutes remaining.

Less than four minutes later big Gordie Redahl tried on the hero's mantle and found it fitted just fine. He grabbed a pass from John Sleaver, drove around Picard and fired the winner past Perrault, a great shot from a sharp angle.

Sweep Pushes Totems to Top

By The Canadian Press

Seattle Totems scored two weekend victories to break a three-team, first-place tie and take a two-point lead atop the Western Hockey League standings.

With both games before home-town crowds, the Totems defeated Los Angeles Blades 2-1 Saturday night and followed with a 3-0 victory over San Francisco Seals Sunday.

Up to Saturday, Seattle shared first place with Vancouver Canucks and Los Angeles.

Blades moved into second place by defeating Portland Buckaroos 3-1 Sunday.

Portland had handed Canucks a 3-2 defeat Saturday night.

Saturday's action in Seattle was the first defeat of the season for the Blades. Both Seattle goals came in the first period, the first from Gerry Leonard and the second from Bob Barlow. Marc Boileau scored for the Blades.

FIRST SHUTOUT

Sunday's Seattle contest was the first shutout of the season for goalie Jimmy McLeod. Barlow scored in the first period, Gerry Brisson in the second and Jean Marie Cossette in the third.

Boileau, Howie Young and Gordon Vejprava each got a single to give Los Angeles its win over Portland Sunday. Young had opened the scoring in the first period and the margin stood until Portland's Tommy McVie tied it 1-1 at the 8:26 mark of the third period. Boileau broke the tie 30 seconds later and Vejprava scored the clincher less than a minute later.

The Saturday night game at Portland saw Vancouver blow a 2-0, second-period lead with the winning Buckaroo goal fired by Cliff Schmautz at the 57-second mark of overtime. Bob Ertel opened the Portland scoring late in the third period and Andy Hebenton sent the game into overtime. Canucks had second-period goals from Larry Popein and Bill McNeill.

PLAYS HERE SATURDAY

Fiji Rugby Squad Beaten by France

Fiji's touring rugby club, which will meet an all-Canada team next Saturday at Macdonald Park, faded in the second half at Paris Saturday and dropped a 21-3 decision to the French international side.

The fleet Fiji club held France to a 3-3 deadlock in the opening half.

Saturday's match ended a tour of Europe, which started last month. The Fijians won two, drew one and lost two of five games in Wales before launching a four-game invasion of France.

The Fiji team is scheduled to arrive in Victoria early Friday afternoon and will attend a dinner sponsored by the B.C. government during the evening.

Game time Saturday is 2:30 p.m. Tickets are available at the Hudson's Bay ticket office.

CATS WIN KEY CLASH

Argo Hopes Alive After Als Belted

By The Canadian Press

Hamilton Tiger-Cats are finally looking like defending Grey Cup champions and Dick Shatto of Toronto Argonauts is making a strong bid to retain his conference scoring championship.

The Tiger Cats virtually sewed up the EFC lead Saturday, walloping Ottawa Rough Riders 34-16 to break a deadlock for first place.

The Ticats now hold a two-point lead over the Riders and a 2-1 lead in games between the clubs. Both the clubs meet third-place Montreal Alouettes and the cellar-dwelling Argos once and one win would assure Hamilton first place and a bye into the conference playoff finals.

Shatto charged into touchdown territory three times Sunday, leading the Argos to a 31-10 victory of the Alouettes. The super effort clinched an all-time record in the Canadian Football League of 89 touchdowns for the veteran halfback.

SUTHERIN SETS MARK

Shatto also brought his season points total to 66 to come within 13 points of EFC scoring leader Don Sutherin of Hamilton. Sutherin, however, was doing some record setting against the Rough Riders Saturday, kicking his 13th field goal of the season to surpass the former season mark of 12 held by Ottawa's Moe Racine.

The Toronto win brought the Argos to within two points of Montreal and kept them in contention for the third and final playoff spot.

Parker was the king pin in the Toronto win, completing 14 of 17 passes for 182 yards during the first half while the Argo defensive front line threw up a pass umbrella against Montreal quarterback George Bork that yielded no yardage.

Willie Shows Form As Lions Trip Esks

By The Canadian Press

Western Football Conference fans were shown the reason Willie Fleming of British Columbia Lions has been nicknamed Willie the Wisp Saturday night in a 21-14 Lion victory over Edmonton Eskimos.

The University of Iowa graduate, in his sixth year with B.C., blistered his way to a Conference record as he dashed 109 yards for one touchdown, went 59 yards for another and dashed 47 yards to set the stage for a third.

He's had a hard time getting untracked so far this season, but it probably will take a lot to convince the 12,000 fans who watched him in action in Edmonton of this.

Calgary Stampeders trounced Saskatchewan Roughriders 42-0 at Calgary before 20,000 fans in the other WFC contest Saturday night, one of those games in which everything Stampeders tried worked out.

ESKS AT WINNIPEG

The weekend WFC program ends tonight with a game at Winnipeg with Edmonton battling the Bombers. The Bomber-Eskimo contest will be televised, starting at 8 p.m. (PDT).

Fleming, with the 109-yard touchdown run, beat the WFC mark of 100 yards set by Tom Casey of Winnipeg against Saskatchewan Sept. 20, 1952, and equalled the CFL mark set last season by George Dixon of Montreal against Ottawa Rough Riders.

Fleming got his second touchdown after taking a short pass from quarterback Joe Kapp on a play covering 59 yards.

Kapp scored the other B.C. touchdown, plunging over from the two after Fleming's 47-yard setup.

KEMPF HITS

The other B.C. points came on two converts and a single by Peter Kempf, a single by Neil Beaumont and a safety touch conceded by Edmonton on a kicking formation.

Eskimos got touchdowns from flanker Jim Thomas and fullback Bill Tobin. Both were converted by centre Bill Mitchell. Thomas' touchdown came on an 88-yard pass-and-run play with quarterback Bill Redell.

At Calgary, flanker Bobby Taylor caught passes for three touchdowns, Lovell Coleman scored two touchdowns and quarterback Eagle Day counted the other touchdown. Placekicker Larry Robinson, the WFC's leading scoer, got the other six Stampeder points on four converts and two singles.

Roughriders again were without quarterback Ron Lancaster who suffered broken ribs in a game in Eastern Canada. Bob Ptacek was at quarter all the way for Saskatchewan.

Coleman ran 129 yards in 16 carries to boost his season's aggregate to 1,462 yards on 230 carries. Ed Buchanan, of Saskatchewan, gained only 10 yards in four carries to increase his season total to 1,219 yards in 161 carries.

British Columbia is in first place in the WFC with 21 points. Calgary has 20 points. Saskatchewan is four points back of Calgary and both have two games remaining. Lions still have three games to play.

FIGHT RESULTS

Blue Bombers Win

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Blue Bombers came from behind twice Sunday to defeat Meralomas 14-13 and win the British Columbia junior football championship. The victory gave Bombers the two-game, total-point series with Meralomas 44-13.

Bombers now advance to Edmonton Oct. 25 to play Edmonton Huskies to decide the Western Canada finalist.

Everything Agin Him But 'The Lord' Tops

By HAL MALONE

He was born with a clubfoot.

He has a knob on one ankle you could hang your hat on.

He is 10 years old according to his birth certificate but he has actually raced only eight years.

His name is Lord Renraw. And he was the darling of 4,318 paid patrons Saturday at Sandown as the shadows fell on the 1964 horse racing season.

He lifted a capacity house off its bottoms as he splashed down the stretch three lengths in front of the best on the grounds in the $2,000 Vancouver Island championship.

Foxy Alec was second. Devonshire Cream, the brilliant three-year-old filly owned by Victoria's George Harknett, ran her heart out to take third. But the race and the day belonged to His Lordship.

"A great horse," said Alberto Ventrella, his navigator, over the mile and 70 yards. "He gives you 170 per cent."

"He's running better now," said owner W. J. "Bill" Lochead, "than when he was four." This was in the winner's circle where Mr. Lochead's feet were planted in the mud while his head was in the air.

Later, when Lochead and Lord Renraw had cooled out, the praise from his employer was only slightly less ecstatic.

The F's Had It . . . Finley and Fisher

"I've been criticized for letting him run so much," Lochead said. "But he wants to run just as badly as I want him to. He trains himself.

"And he's really not 10. He didn't race at all in 1961-62. Tore the ligaments in an ankle at Edmonton late in '60.

"I sent him south and they put a cast on him. The ankle never healed properly. It locked. You should see the knob on it. Big as this—"holding his hands in the shape of a Mac apple.

Lochead needed larger hands to hold the money his club-foot won for him this year. Five wins in 13 starts. Enter $4,656 plus bonuses (about $6,000 in all) in his bank account.

Lucre came into other hands in different ways . . .

- Sandown enjoyed its fifth straight record-breaking season at the windows. The 17-day total was $1,739,263—a gain of $30,235 over last year—for a daily average play of $102,309.
- Freddy Fisher took leading trainer honors with 13. In replacing Sid Martin, the king in 62-63, Fisher had his schnozz photographed four times with In Advance, the last time on Saturday.
- Freddy Finley buttoned down the leading jockey crown with 27. Russ Combs, another apprentice, was second with 24. Jack Phillips, though invited to be idle the last two days, was third with 17, making it truly the year of the bug-boy.

. . . Like Finding Money on the Street

As he did a week ago, Lochead dazzled them with his snap brim brain in the main event. . .

After naming Charlie Ulrich on Lord Renraw and Ventrella on Vernon, the second half of his entry, Lochead went to the jocks' room after the first race.

"Charlie," he told Ulrich, "you fit a front-running horse and that's Vernon. You take him and go as far as you can. Al (Ventrella) will take the old horse."

Ulrich balked, then yielded. He did his job excellently—he turned the half in 46:4, taking the starch out of Sir Max.

Back in the pack, Ventrella was in a little trouble—"I was in tight and had to move sooner than I wanted." But when he moved the others were in trouble. They didn't see which way The Lord went.

Coming into the stretch Lord Renraw was five on top. Ventrella took him out from the rail where the porridge wasn't so thick and just whispered softly the rest of the way. Even at a mere $4.20 for $2 it was like finding money on the street.

* * *

TACK TALK . . . Mrs. John Wallace decorated the winner . . . Finley, a bright prospect if his head and body don't balloon, concluded the meet in dazzling fashion—three (consecutive winners, two seconds and a third) . . . Hardluck Barney was the unofficial master of the marathoners . . . He took his second mile and three-eighths canter in five days, scoring Saturday by eight lusty lengths . . . Indian Springs, around the track longer than some horse-players, gave his all in the marathon, but the old fire wasn't there . . . Now 11 it was his swan-song, worth a few bars of "Auld Lang Syne" from Jack "Sentimental" Short . . . Form chart on left.

Bold Lad Hauls In Champagne

NEW YORK (AP)—Bold Lad, heir-apparent to the two-year-old U.S. horse-racing championship, scored one of the easiest triumphs of his brief career Saturday as he rolled to a seven-length victory in the $176,825 Champagne at Aqueduct for his seventh successive triumph.

Royal Gunner, from the Ford Stable, closed fastest of the others for second money to $30,000. He was 4½ lengths in front of M. H. Silver's Philately.

Bold Lad paid $2.50, $2.20 and $2.10. Royal Gunner paid $3.20 and $2.10 and Philately $2.10.

LEADING JOCKEY at Sandown Park meeting was apprentice Fred Finley (above), who scored three times on final day Saturday to wind up with total of 27 winners. Final standings of jockeys are:

ONE-SIDED ROMPS

Juvenile Clubs Flex Muscles

Perhaps trying to impress each other, Oak Bay Farmer Construction and James Bay Mustangs flexed their muscles in different parts of the city Sunday.

Mustangs and Farmers, who tangle in a Vancouver Island Juvenile Football League battle next weekend, both had power to spare.

Farmers held on to second place by thumping Campbell River Raiders 55-0 at Carnarvon Park and Mustangs galloped roughshod over the inexperienced Victoria Hornets 73-0 at Macdonald Park.

Quarterback John Porter, appearing to improve with every game, was the big man for Mustangs, directing a balanced attack that moved coach Bob Coutts to remark, "I think now I have the depth I've been looking for."

Porter passes set up several scoring plays and Porter went over for a pair of touchdowns. Doug Gregory and John Clemens also scored two TDs. Stacey Harris collected one touchdown and kicked six converts, long-punting Harvey Stephenson added a touchdown and single, and Harry Wegwize collected one touchdown.

Farmers, helped by an alert defence that kept getting them the ball, had four players—Mike Maloney, Dave Young, Jim Forward and Hugh McDonald—with two TDs each. Cam Crofton got another on a 76-yard pass-and-run play and Young kicked one conversion.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Harry Walker was named field manager of Pittsburgh Pirates today to succeed Danny Murtaugh, who resigned at the end of the season for health reasons.

The 45-year-old Walker played in the major leagues for St. Louis Cardinals, Philadelphia Phillies, Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds.

At the same time, in Cincinnati, Fred Hutchinson, a cancer sufferer, resigned as manager of the Reds and Dick Sisler, who had been a coach and acting manager, was named to succeed him.

Columbus Slips Off the Ropes To Edge United

VANCOUVER — Victoria United had Vancouver Columbus on the ropes in the closing stages here Sunday but couldn't swing the knockout punch.

As a result, the Italians made a first-half goal stand up for a 1-0 decision before 1,749 fans and stepped into sole possession of first place in the Pacific Coast Soccer League.

Troubled by the speed of Columbus forwards Bobby Smith, Errol Crossan and Barry Ihaski, United waged a defensive battle through most of the first half.

It was a different story after the intermission and the Victorians stormed to the attack but couldn't find a way to complete their scoring thrusts.

JEERED BY FANS

Under continued pressure, Columbus backs were booting the ball out of play in the final 10 minutes and were jeered by spectators for their time-killing desperation tactics.

Smith, moved to centre forward from his usual wing position, fired the winning goal three minutes before the half. He connected from a scramble in front of Victoria goalie Larry DeCosta, who turned in a steady game.

Centre half Bill Hamilton and right half George Paul were standouts for United, which remained in a fourth-place tie with University of B.C.

PLAY TO DEADLOCK

Firefighters and Canadians failed to break a first-place deadlock as they battled to a 1-1 draw Saturday and skidded into second place Sunday with the Columbus triumph. Canadians took an early lead on a goal by rookie Jack Jones and Bob Babcock pulled Firefighters even in the second half on a blazing first-time drive.

UBC had an unhappy debut on their home field Saturday. The students attracted fewer than 100 fans to UBC Stadium and were trimmed 5-1 by New Westminster Royals.

Metro Gerela (two), Sigi Gohringer, Don Wilson and Rob Goodheart counted for Royals. Harvey Thom scored for UBC.

DECISION MADE

Keane's All Set To Join Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press learned Saturday that New York Yankees' new manager will be Johnny Keane, who guided St. Louis Cardinals to a spectacular world series win.

The information was given to The Associated Press by a person close to the Yankees, American League pennant winners, said the official announcement would be made Oct. 20 at a press conference.

The naming of Keane to succeed the ousted Yogi Berra is no 11th-hour decision although the gray-haired Texan did not announce his resignation as manager of St. Louis Cardinals until the day after they won the world series, which ended Thursday.

The decision to hire Keane as the third Yankee manager since Casey Stengel was fired in 1960 was made Sept. 25. Three days later Keane had his wife, Lela, write a letter of resignation to Cardinal owner August A. Busch Jr. It was not handed to him until three weeks later — Friday.

The Yankees' decision to fire Berra was made early in September. The morale of the club was then at a low point. The team had been split into two factions. Some players openly opposing Berra, others supporting him.

Vets Spark JBAA To Win Over Uvic

James Bay Athletic Association made experience pay off for its second straight first division victory in the Victoria Rugby Union season.

Veteran performers set the pace at Macdonald Park Saturday as the Oarsmen scampered to an 11-3 win over a hard-hitting University of Victoria crew.

University fared much better in the second division, running up a 21-3 triumph over Cowichan.

Brian White, with two trys and three converts, and Bill Carpenter, John Hooke and Roe Archibald, each with a try, scored for Uvic. Richard Bevan notched a try for Cowichan.

In a junior exhibition, trys by Ron Postings, Larry Paul and penalty goal by Bob Hewlett gave JBAA Specials and 9-0 win over Oak Bay Wanderers.

In other second division matches, Oak Bay Wanderers downed Naval Apprentices 16-13 and Navy whipped JBAA 18-9.

Bill Lennox (two trys and a penalty goal) and Ryan Campbell (three trys) handled the Navy scoring. JBAA replied with three trys, by Tim Spelman, Mike Eckhart and Stan Emerick.

Shutout Road Leads to Top

Price and Smith unwrapped the whitewash brush Sunday and climbed back into first place in the Victoria and District Soccer League's first division.

Tumbled out of the top spot Saturday when Kickers turned Jim Schultz loose and walloped Navy 8-1 to step into the lead, the Clothiers were loaded for bear Sunday when they tackled Esquimalt at Heywood Avenue.

Price and Smith kept its unbeaten streak intact and handed Esquimalt a fourth straight setback by performing a 3-0 whitewash job on goals by Alan Holgate, Duncan Campbell and Jim McGhee.

GORGE BLANKED

Brodies Bakery also travelled the shutout route, scoring a 4-0 victory over Gorge Molsons, who had yielded but two goals in their first three matches. Alan Glen set the victory pace with three goals and Ted Smith added the other tally.

Victoria West faded in the home stretch and fumbled a chance to tie for second place in Sunday's other match. Canadian Scottish charged from behind with four goals in the final 20 minutes and nipped the Wests in a 4-3 upset.

Schultz scored the only goal of the opening half Saturday and then added four after the intermission to lead Kickers' rout of Navy. Jack Bruecker added a pair and Tony Bourbijn tacked one onto the total.

SECOND DIVISION

In the second division Sunday, Oak Bay Marina continued its winning ways by downing University of Victoria 4-1 on two goals by Norm Pite and singles by B. Wallis and D. Bainbridge. Ken Stubbs counted for the students.

Roy Speller notched the big goal as Gorge defeated Wanderers 1-0 and D. Sampson handled all the scoring for Kings Hotel in a 3-1 triumph over Oak Bay. S. Edgar scored for the Oaks.

IT'S PTA WEEK

FIRST OF A SERIES

36,000 Voices in the Laymen's Chorus

This is P-TA Week throughout British Columbia. To mark the occasion in Victoria, four leading P-TA officials and a high school principal have written special articles for the Times. The first appears below.

By MRS. MAUDE STEVES
President, B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation

There are no groups which wield greater influence and power over future education policy than the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation, the B.C. Teachers' Federation and the B.C. School Trustees' Association.

Working together constructively, they can influence legislatures, mould public opinion to the need for changes, and bring public opinion to the point where it will be prepared to pay any additional costs.

We are all familiar with the leading part P-TAs play in helping to win approval for new school referendums.

The Parent-Teacher Federation is the largest dedicated volunteer organization in the province. Its major purpose is the study and improvement of education for children and youth.

520 ASSOCIATION

The federation is composed of 520 associations in B.C. and 36,000 members. It is the legislating body to which the local associations go for ruling and instruction about their work.

The directors of the federation are elected from active and experienced parent-teacher members. The province is divided into 18 regions with 42 boards.

The local associations are the grass roots of the federation. It is through them the parents of school children learn to know more of their school system, and the needs of all children. children.

Each local association becomes a member of the provincial and national federation by payment of a per capita fee.

The national federation, or the Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation, is composed of the all provincial federations in Canada.

Its purpose is to unify and strengthen federation activities throughout Canada. A portion of the per capita fee is paid to the national federation, and the provincial presidents are automatically on the board of directors with full voting privileges.

MRS. STEVES
. . . united action

Resolutions are formulated in the local associations and after careful consideration by the board and approved by the annual convention, the policy of the P-T federation is established.

All resolutions pertaining to the department of education, or the provincial government are presented by the board in the form of a brief. Resolutions to the federal government are presented by representatives of the national federation.

P-TAs like schools and homes, differ in quality. Every school needs a P-TA to build constructive relationships with parents.

Parents and teachers share responsibility for maintaining a creative P-TA, but they look to the principal, teachers and trustees for guidance and leadership.

MANY FIELDS

As a provincial federation we are recognized and work effectively in many fields along with other provincial organizations, keeping in mind education is the prime concern.

It is impossible to enumerate the many achievements of the federation during the past years, but with help of P-TA members much can be done to stimulate the students by providing scholarships.

The Parent-Teacher magazine is the official publication of the federation. Through this media many parents are alerted to the changes in the school curricula. Work of other associations is reported. Book reviews, recommended reading lists, film guides and many articles pertaining to the welfare of children are also in the magazine.

GRASS ROOTS

The [illegible]re of the federation [illegible]ds on the grass roots. [illegible] good need for a strong voice is when we present resolutions and briefs to the provincial government.

'Collective Bargaining Soon'

Collective bargaining rights will come to B.C. civil servants "in the not too distant future," the new president of the B.C. Government Employees' Association predicted today.

Dave Lyttle said he understood the federal government, Ontario and Manitoba are considering forms of collective bargaining for their civil servants.

"Collective bargaining would be a great benefit to employees. They would get a morale lift by enjoying something common to all others," he said.

At present, B.C. civil servants don't have collective bargaining rights in the real sense, he said.

Presentations are made to the Civil Service Commission and the government petitioned through the provincial secretary.

Council Meets

NEW RUSS REGIME LASHES CHINA

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda published renewed blasts at Communist China Saturday, clearly authorized by the new party leadership.

The reaffirmed criticism appeared to rule out any immediate attempt by the successors of Nikita Khrushchev to work out a reconciliation with Peking.

At the same time, the Communist party paper said the new Soviet leadership intends to go ahead with plans for a world Communist meeting that the Chinese have denounced.

Der Spiegel Men Charged With Treason

KARLSRUHE (Reuters)—The West German federal prosecutor has charged the publisher of the weekly news magazine Der Speigel, Rudolf Augstein, deputy editor-in-chief Conrad Ahlers and an army officer with treason, it was announced here Friday.

The charges come two years after "the Spiegel affair" blew up into a major crisis in former chancellor Konrad Adenauer's cabinet and led to the dismissal of defence minister Franz Josef Strauss.

Security agents swooped on the Hamburg headquarters of Der Spiegel and its bureau in Bonn Oct. 26, 1962 — nearly three weeks after the magazine had published a critical article on West Germany's defence preparedness.

The officer charged with Augstein and Ahlers was named as Col. Alfred Martin, of the general staff, who now is under suspension. He is one of two army colonels suspected of having supplied information to the magazine.

Der Spiegel had published a cover story of the NATO manoeuvre Fallex 62, saying West Germany was inadequately prepared for defence.

Beef production in British Columbia was formerly limited to the Interior. However, increased per-acre production of milk in the Fraser Delta has led to the elimination of some farms from the fresh milk area and beef cattle are replacing dairy herds.

PLAY IT SAFELY AND DON'T BE A PUMPKIN HEAD!

"Trick or treat, anything for Halloween."

The B.C. Safety Council offers these suggestions to help keep Halloween safe:

- If your child wears a flimsy costume or one made of paper, make sure it is fire-resistant. Do not provide a fatal torch for the wearer.
- Use light-colored materials to ensure your child will be seen by motorists. Don't have costumes that are too loose or too long. They may cause the wearer to trip or they may catch on protruding objects such as hedges or fences.
- Masks hamper vision. It is much safer to use cosmetics than to let your child wear a mask. Dime-store cosmetics and a little imagination can go a long way. A thin film of cream should be applied before the makeup and used in removing it.

* * *

- Tinted hair-sprays make a fast, effective disguise, but the child's eyes should be carefully protected during spraying.
- Costumes which require play weapons should be checked to make sure that no real guns or knives are taken along.
- A small battery-operated candle or flashlight should be used. The grin of a jack-o-lantern should never be lit by a burning candle; fire danger is too great.

* * *

Know where your child is going—if supervised, and for how long. Neighborhood or community parties are good fun—why not go along?

- Be extra careful of cars. Keep porch lights on to make sure your street is well lighted, and minimize the danger of accidents from cars, tripping and falling.
- Home Parties: Home decorations should be flameproof. Wrap treats to keep them clean. Young children should not be exposed to "scary" games.

Use your head. There are two types of heads common at Halloween: one is the pumpkin head, the other is your head.

Judge Recommends DEW Wage Boost

(Times Ottawa Bureau)

OTTAWA—A total of a 25 per cent increase in wages for the DEW line workers spread over a period from July 1, 1964 to Nov. 1, 1965, has been fixed by the federal government-appointed arbitrator Judge J. C. Anderson of Belleville.

Judge Anderson brought down his report late last week and it has been presented to the Federal Electric Corporation and to the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (CLC).

Judge Anderson was appointed by the feedral government to arbitrate the wage increase question, the final outstanding issue in the dispute between the operators of the DEW line and their Canadian employees.

ROYAL TRAIN FOR SALE —£1,000

LONDON (Reuters)—One of Britain's few remaining privately-owned railway companies advertised Monday for a buyer willing to pay £1,000 for a royal train. The engine and coach used by King Edward VII and King George V—who both autographed the driver's cab—are being sold by the Romney, Hythe and Dymchurch Railroad, which runs miniature trains along a stretch of the English south coast. The engine, built in 1895, still works.

Man Held Illegally By Cabinet—Lawyer

VANCOUVER (CP)—Gordon Dowding, a Vancouver lawyer, told the B.C. Supreme Court Friday that the provincial cabinet is forcibly holding a man in prison even though he was acquitted by reason of insanity.

Mr. Dowding was seeking a write of habeas corpus to release Gerry Kleinys from Oakalla Prison farm. The claim was opposed by George Murray, acting on behalf of the attorney-general's department.

Mr. Dowding said Kleinys was originally charged with wounding with an offensive weapon and was committed to Essondale Mental Hospital for treatment prior to his trial.

When released, he was declared cured of his illness. At his subsequent trial he was acquitted on grounds that he was insane at the time of the alleged offence.

However, Mr. Dowding said that Kleinys now is confined to Oakalla on a cabinet order and "is serving a punishment term as though he had been found guilty."

The hearing was continuing.

Underground A-Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States detonated an underground nuclear test of low yield Friday at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site. A low-yield explosion has a blast force of less than 20,000 tons of TNT.

URGENT WARNING
CARPET BUYERS
from the Better Business Bureau

BEWARE OF UNETHICAL CARPET SALES FIRMS!

It has come to the attention of the Better Business Bureau that certain firms are selling carpet in an unethical and misleading fashion in British Columbia. The method of operation is usually a heavy direct mail or telephone solicitation followed by a personal call—or a door-to-door selling campaign. Extravagant claims are made as to possible savings (by-passing the middleman, etc.) and the quality of the carpeting which will be supplied. The salesmen claim to represent firms with names similar to or which could conjure association with large reputable business firms in Canada. In many cases unsuspecting householders or building contractors are signing a conditional sales contract to purchase inferior carpeting at an inflated price supposedly "guaranteed" by a firm that may no longer be in business in the next few months. In most instances the guarantee has applied to installation only.

The Better Business Bureau takes this opportunity to warn householders that if they are approached they should take the following steps.

HERE IS WHAT YOU SHOULD DO:

1 Make sure that you are dealing with an established reputable retail store whose integrity you are sure of. The reputable carpet mills in Canada stand solidly behind the ethical established Retailer to assure customer satisfaction.
2 Demand and retain a sample of the floor covering offered and take the time to check quality and price with any reputable established carpet dealer—before signing a purchase contract.
3 Do not be rushed into signing a contract simply because "This is your last opportunity," etc.
4 Do not accept any salesman's statements or promises unless written into and forming part of the contract.
5 Ask the salesman to show you a tradesman's licence for your area.
6 If in doubt, phone the Better Business Bureau at 386-6348.

This advertisement is sponsored by the Better Business Bureau of Vancouver Island, B.C., as a public service in co-operation with many of the floor covering retailers in the Vancouver Island Area, but is not to be construed as a recommendation or endorsement of any particular firm.

WORTHINESS DOUBTS BLAMED ON EDUCATORS

Poet Scores 'Guilty' Complex in Women

By VIVIAN BROWN

WESTON, Conn. (AP) — Women have been so brainwashed in the last 10 years they feel guilty if they are "only" housewives, says Pulitzer prize winning poet Phyllis McGinley.

"Women are so wonderful, they can do just about anything—combine a career and home, work part-time out of the home or become dedicated housewives," she says, "but what's wrong with being a housewife? Should women be conscience stricken because they want to stay home and have children?"

Miss McGinley's poetry (in private life she is Mrs. Charles Hayden) frequently extols virtues of homemaking, motherhood and the joys—and frustrations—of raising children. Her latest book of verse is called Sixpence in Her Shoe.

She blames what she says is the current restlessness among housewives directly on college deans and writers who implant doubts about the worthiness of being a housewife and mother.

"Are we going back to the medieval thesis that education unfits a woman to change diapers or make lemon meringue pies? Does appreciation of good poetry or languages cripple a girl's talent for making chocolate brownies?" she asked in an interview.

CAN'T QUIT

"Miss McGinley considers herself a "part-time worker whose premarital impetus has sent me jogging along in two jobs because I don't know quite how to stop."

Her formula for doing everything one must as a woman, seems to be as foolproof as the recipe for pie crust she offers: Keep it light and everything will come out rainbows.

She has managed since her marriage in 1937 to write verse, essays and children's books while feeding her husband a "diet of pure affection" and planning family celebrations for daughter Julie, and Patsy who now is married.

Miss McGinley regrets that many girls of this generation can't run up a hem or cook a meal, although they have been taught to ski, typewrite and sail a boat.

"Being a housewife is a true profession, 'ancient, honorable and unique'. Compared to it, all other careers are upstarts," she says.

POPE PAUL

RC Leader 'Apostle On The Move'

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Preparations have begun for Pope Paul to visit India in early December. It will be the longest journey ever planned by a pontiff.

Terming himself "the apostle on the move," the Pope announced Sunday that he would make the 4,100-mile plane trip to Bombay to attend the International Eucharistic Congress. The major spiritual gathering, held every four years, is scheduled Nov. 28-Dec. 6.

Vatican sources said the Pope would probaby leave Rome Dec. 3, the feast day of St. Francis Xavier, and return Dec. 6 after addressing the congress.

"Yes, the Pope is becoming a missionary," the pontiff said in St. Peter's Basilica. He said the trip "is not foreign to the nature of the requirements of the apostolic ministry" and would "be a sign of love and esteem for all the people of the earth."

Pope Paul broke papal precedent last January with his trip to The Holy Land, the first time a pope had been outside Italy in 150 years. His flight to India will be a further dramatization of Roman Catholicism's recent moves toward the non-Christian world.

In Bombay, Valerin Cardinal Gracias told a press conference the pontiff also would probably visit New Delhi, the Indian capital 700 miles north of Bombay, to call on President Sarvepall Radhakprishnan. He indicated the Pope might also go to Goa, the former Portuguese colony 250 miles south of Bombay where St. Francis Xavier is buried.

Tom Toms Proclaim New Saints

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul proclaimed Sunday the canonization of 22 Uganda martyrs as the first black saints of modern times in an unprecedented ceremony in St. Peter's Basilica.

Native tom toms drummed the news of the canonization from village to village across the vastness of equatorial Africa where the 22 sainted Bantu tribesmen lived and died for their faith in the late 19th century.

The 22 martyrs were burned alive, beheaded, cut to pieces, speared or clubbed to death at the orders of pagan tribal King Mwanga of Uganda between 1885 and 1887.

The canonization ceremony here had strong overtones of emphasis on racial equality.

The canonization rites, accompanied by the native-beat music of a new African oratorio in the presence of colorfully robed African delegations, make it possible for African Negro Roman Catholics to have their children baptized in the names of people of their own blood and traditions.

The saints include a court jester, a herdsman, four musicians, a cloth maker, a dugout canoe builder and a potter.

FIRST CANONIZED

The Uganda martyrs are the first saints canonized under Pope Paul VI. They had been beatified—declared blessed—by Pope Benedict XV in 1920. That meant they could be cenerated locally in their native land.

With canonization, the Roman Catholic Church declares that they ascended to heaven upon death, and prescribes that they not only can receive public honor, but must receive it. An annual feast day will be set aside for them, churches can be named for them. Prayers can be said to them publicly throughout the Catholic world.

The relay of the news of their canonization by native drums throughout equatorial Africa was arranged by African bishops of the eight dioceses of Uganda where 2,000,000 Catholics now make up a third of the population.

MANITOBA HIGH SCHOOL DRINKING SURVEY

Only 25% of Students Abstain

WINNIPEG (CP)—The findings of a study of 7,848 Manitoba high school students on attitudes, practices and knowledge relating to the use of alcohol indicate that only about 25 per cent could be strictly classed as abstainers.

A report on the study shows that 5 per cent of the students said they drank alcoholic beverages once a week or more, 10 per cent four or five times a month, 33 per cent four or five times a year, 24 per cent once a year and 25 per cent never.

The study, which consisted of a 49-question questionnaire distributed to high school students, was made by Robert Holloway, Winnipeg, educational secretary of the Alcohol Foundation Service (Manitoba).

IMPERFECT

In his report, Mr. Holloway stressed the questionnaire was an imperfect instrument for gathering data and the survey claims only to provide some general observations and conclusions concerning the drinking practices and attitudes of Manitoba high school students.

His report showed a close correlation between drinking frequency and age levels. At 14, more than 39 per cent of respondents to the questionnaire considered themselves as non-drinkers but by 19 this percentage dropped to 10 per cent.

Of the 19-year-old students, almost 15 per cent said they drank once a week or more, seven times the percentage of 14-year-olds who drank that often.

The report said 23 per cent of the students reported that they had been drunk at least once. Thirty-two per cent of the boys and 13 per cent of the girls listed themselves in this category.

In giving reasons for drinking, 23 per cent said they did so because their families did. Thirty-three per cent said they drank with friends without their parents knowledge.

Sixty-two per cent of the students disagreed with a questionnaire statement that drinking was wrong.

Mr. Holloway said the study indicated that alcohol use was involved in problematical behavior for about 5 per cent of the high school population.

POOR RECORDS

He said poor scholastic ability seemed to be associated with liberal attitudes and practices with respect to drinking.

The study, said to be the first serious investigation of this aspect of students' affairs undertaken in Canada, indicated students did not appear to be well informed about alcohol. A majority of the sample group was able to answer correctly only three out of eight questions relating to factual knowledge of alcohol.

WHEATON BID LOWEST ON SCHOOL

Low bid last week for additions to Hampton Elementary School was made by G. H. Wheaton Ltd.

The city firm bid $56,908.

Other bids: H. E. Fowler and Sons, $57,235; E. J. Hunter and Sons, $58,578; Wakeman and Trimble Contractors Ltd., $59,894; Myers and Hill-Tout, $61,309.89.

The job comprises two new classrooms, and an extension of the activity room and washroom.

Bishop Set Up 'Peace Corps' To Build Prince George College

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—Four years ago plans for Prince George College were announced by Most Rev. Fergus O'Grady, an energetic Roman Catholic bishop.

Two years ago the first students were admitted.

This September the official opening ceremonies were held.

The procedure may appear unorthodox but so were the methods employed by Bishop O'Grady to get the college built.

As head of the apostolic vicariate of Prince Rupert, he originated what he calls his "peace corps" to build and staff the college and schools in Prince Rupert and eight other communities in this part of British Columbia.

The "peace corps" is made up of volunteers—"not all RCs either"—who received free room and board and "cigarette money" while helping in construction of the schools.

The corps was formed when it was found there was no provincial money available for the schools.

OPERATE COLLEGE

And the major result of the efforts is the non-denominational college here operated by the Oblate Order. With a two-storey classroom block, hostel-type accommodation for 150 students, a chapel and plans for expansion, it now has 300 students ranging from Grade 9 through the first two years of university.

As for the decision to delay the official opening, Rev. Lawrence MacLennan, the principal, explains:

"We didn't want to hold the formal opening ceermonies last year because the grounds and buildings were still unfinished and there was mud everywhere."

FIRST LOOK

Jobs Needed 'As Never Before'

Priority should be given to promoting growth and full employment, "not on cradle-to-grave social security,' says the B.C. Chamber of Commerce.

In the next six years, there is need to create almost as many new jobs as created in the last eight or nine years, says the chamber's October bulletin.

By 1970, the post-war baby boom will hit the labor market in full force and new jobs will have to be created "as never before."

The prosperity of all Canadians "very clearly depends" on meeting "fierce" international competition, the bulletin says.

The country must increase its scientific training programs, specialize still more in international trade and work out marketing agreements on a more closely co-operative basis with the United States.

Birth Control Change Urged By Catholic

BOSTON (AP) — A Roman Catholic doctor urged last week that the birth control law in Massachusetts be repealed.

Rt. Rev. Francis J. Lally, editor of The Pilot, weekly newspaper of the Boston Catholic archdiocese, said in a foreword to the article by Dr. Joseph L. Dorsey of Boston in the current issue of the New England journal of medicine:

"Most people in the community, in my judgment, feel with him (Dorsey) that the time is ripe for reconsidering the question in the light of the claims of a plural society."

OPEN MIND

Richard Cardinal Cushing, Archbishop of Boston, said: "In no way will I feel it my duty to oppose amendments to the law."

Massachusetts prohibits the sale, distribution or advertising of contraceptive devices or methods.

Dorsey, father of a daughter, said the law is "an albatross around the neck of Catholics whenever religious liberty is brought up."

Road Work Begins

The right-of-way should be complete in February. Clearing and sub-grading would follow and the $40,000 road should be completed later in 1965.

SISTER CITIES SAY 'I DO' WITH FEELING

Campbell Promises Clear Road For Amalgamation of Albernis

"WE'VE DONE IT AT LAST" is the sentiment expressed by Port Alberni Mayor Les Hammer (left) and Alberni Mayor Fred Bishop after they heard their bid to amalgamate had succeeded Saturday. (Flett photo).

The provincial government will start immediately to draw up formal documents to complete amalgamation of the Albernis, Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell said today.

Mr. Campbell said Saturday's yes-vote for the merger of Alberni and Port Alberni was "first-class."

"It's a pretty good example of giving people the facts first, letting them vote, and they'll come up with the right answer," he said.

Mr. Campbell said the next step is for the government to draw up new letters patent—the official documents setting the boundaries.

Effective date of the amalgamation will be Oct. 31, 1967.

"We'll move right away," Mr. Campbell said.

MAYORS JUBILANT

Today, the two mayors were jubilant over the strong support given by voters to the merger.

Said Mayor Les Hammer in Port Alberni: "This is an historic occasion. It shows many of the people in Port Alberni are truly good neighbors.

In Alberni, Mayor Fred Bishop was equally enthusiastic.

He said: "It's just too good to be true. We couldn't have hoped for a better turnout in our favor than this."

SAD BUT . . .

He said that while it was sad to come to the end of an era he saw the new City of Port Alberni as one second to none in the province.

"Nothing but good can come of this.

About half the 6,562 eligible voters in the twin cities turned out to vote to give an overall 80 per cent approval.

Alberni voted 995 for merging, 68 against.

In Port Alberni, which returned a 72.5 per cent "yes" vote, there were 1,557 in favor, 596 against.

SALTAIR BACKS MERGER WITH N. COWICHAN

NORTH COWICHAN — The Saltair Ratepayers' Association voted 41 to 25 Saturday night for merger with North Cowichan rather than Ladysmith.

After the vote, some ratepayers protested that they were not given a chance to vote on whether to merge with Ladysmith, stay unorganized or create a new municipality.

Association chairman W. W. Wyllie said the vote made no other motions necessary, since the outcome would have been the same.

TWO FEARED DROWNED

TOFINO (CP) — The search was to continue today for two men missing and feared drowned off this west coast Vancouver Island community.

The troller disappeared after bringing a sick man to Tofino from Hot Springs Cove. The trip was in vain, as the patient, William Jones, 74, died shortly after being admitted.

An RCMP search plane Sunday sighted wreckage of the troller and the overturned skiff belonging to the missing boat was found washed ashore at Boulder Point, near Estevan Point.

RITES TUESDAY FOR VICTIM OF ROCK FALL

CAMPBELL RIVER — Funeral services will be held Tuesday from the United Church here for Russell Davis who was killed by a rock fall last Thursday.

COWICHAN PROJECTS

School Votes Approved

MRS. TARLTON
. . . pleased but

DUNCAN — Cowichan school board was given the green light Saturday to forge ahead with an $844,653 building program.

Trustee Wilf Peck said today top priority will be given to the provision of additional elementary class rooms in the immediate Duncan area.

A $135,000, six-room annex will be built at Duncan Alexander School, where students are housed in a subdivided activity room.

80% IN FAVOR

Owner-electors in the school district voted 80 per cent in favor of a $785,000 referendum for capital construction work to be shared on a cost basis with the provincial government.

They voted 77 per cent in favor of a $59,653 referendum for maintenance work.

Mr. Peck said the light vote—only one-eighth of those eligible—indicated there was no strong opposition to the continuing school-building program.

Trustee Mrs. Isobel Tarlton was not so pleased.

While expressing pleasure that the referendums were passed, she criticized the fact only 970 of the 8,217 eligible voters cast their ballot.

MEETING WEDNESDAY

The board's next meeting Wednesday will decide when to start all parts of the approved expansion program.

There has to be a waiting period of one month before tenders can be called.

Altogether, the referendums will provide 22 classrooms, two activity rooms, three gymnasium extensions, equipment and purchase of new sites.

Landymore Feted By Comox Officers

COMOX — Rear Admiral W. M. Landymore, who will shortly leave his position as flag officer, Pacific Coast, was honored at a mess dinner here Friday.

Admiral Landymore, who is leaving to become Atlantic flag officer, was met by Comox commanding officer, Group Captain E. G. Ireland.

During dinner, the admiral was presented with a 407 squadron plaque, given him by Wing Commander K. O. Moore, the squadron's commanding officer.

Sooke Man Asks, Gets Longer Term

A 38-year-old Sooke man who was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for a sex offence has won his plea for a longer term.

Donald Edward Ellis was sentenced in Victoria County Court Friday to two years less a day after pleading guilty to having sexual intercourse with a 15-year-old girl on Sept. 19 without her consent. This sentence would have placed him in Oakalla prison.

But later he appeared before Magistrate Eugene Murphy in provincial magistrate's court and pleaded guilty to cashing two $25 forged cheques in Hope, B.C., last year.

Ellis asked the magistrate for a penitentiary term.

He said he would not get the psychiatric help he needed in Oakalla.

Legion to Double Nanaimo Premises

Tenders have been called for extension work and officials hope to have it finished by the New Year.

Officials also announced the 1964 poppy campaign will be held Thursday, Nov. 5.

Canvassers, who should be signed up already, will begin at 6 p.m. and cover 15 areas in the city.

Branch members will hold a parade from Simpsons-Sears parking lot to St. Paul's Church Nov. 8. The parade will be followed by a service at 11 a.m.

PRIVATELY-OWNED BOATS IDLE

Herring Offer Rejected

VANCOUVER (CP)—Negotiations continue this week in attempts to reach agreement between companies and B.C.'s 640 herring fishermen on this season's prices.

The fishermen overwhelmingly rejected the latest company offer in a weekend vote.

The Fisheries Association of B.C., representing seven fishing firms, had offered the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (Ind.), $14 a ton for an eight-man crew and a medical plan operated on a 50-50 basis covering the herring fishing season plus two months.

The union seeks $14.88 a ton and a year-round medical plan financed from payment of 25 cents for each ton of herring caught.

Some 100 fishboats, owned by the companies are continuing to fish. But the captains of 30 privately-owned boats said Sunday night they will not leave port until a settlement is reached.

Timothy Cameron, secretary-manager of the Vessel Owners' Association, said the boats couldn't work "because we haven't a market for our product."

15 CENTS MORE

He said the captains had been offered $4.50 a ton for landed herring, an increase of 15 cents a ton over last year's charter price. The captains seek $6 a ton. Negotiations will continue today.

The 640 fishermen—who man both private and company boats—voted Saturday 94.7 per cent against the herring price offer and 95.7 per cent against the medical plan. Last year they received $14.96 a ton for herring.

Wally Paulik, union general organizer, said fishing in company boats will continue until Thursday when negotiations will continue between the union and the company.

A special membership meeting is scheduled Saturday at which time strike action could be taken, Paulik said.

SEA WATER INFILTRATES NAVY MAINS

An investigation began today to discover how salt water entered the Dockyard's water supply which serves about 3,000 residents.

Officials said none of the consumers had been affected by the sea water.

The fresh water supply was checked and flushed out over the weekend when it was discovered Friday sea water had penetrated it.

Bullets Hit Youth's Car; Courtenay Driver Charged

Lum Draws Forum Post Position

First speaker at an all-candidates election forum Tuesday night, will be Ed Lum, one of three candidates for the reeveship in the Saanich byelection Saturday.

Order of speaking was determined today when Times editor Brian Tobin drew the names from the hat held by Digby Kier, co-chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce civic affairs committee which is sponsoring the forum.

It will start at 8 p.m. in Mount View High School auditorium, 3814 Carey Road. It will be the first public forum to be sponsored by the Junior Chamber since the 1960 provincial election.

Candidates for the reeveship will be allowed 10 minutes each, with Hugh Curtis speaking second and Lewis Haut, third.

A question period will follow the hour of speeches and moderator will be Jaycee Alan Wilson.

'He Aimed Rifle . . . I Didn't Wait'

By DON DINGWALL

Three teen-agers escaped death by inches Sunday when a bullet ripped into the dashboard of their car during a 60-mile-an-hour chase down the Trans-Canada Highway.

This is the story Palynchuk told the Times shortly after the incident:

"I was doing the speed limit on the highway just north of Chemainus cutoff when I noticed this truck trying to get past.

HIT DASHBOARD

"I didn' see any reason to let him pass but the next second my dashboard splintered in front of me.

"At first we thought something had gone wrong with the engine but then realized it was a bullet.

"I didn't think it could be happening. . .

"I pulled off the road and the truck pulled in behind us. I got out to see what had happened.

SECOND SHOT

"But when a man got out of the truck and aimed a rifle right at me from 50 feet, I didn't wait around.

"He fired a second shot which hit the car but then we made for Duncan as fast as we could."

'THROUGH HEADS'

He ripped off the car registration slip and said to a bystander, Ian Brown: "Tell them the next one will go through their heads."

Police dashed down the highway through busy traffic and arrested the man.

TRIAL MONDAY

The trial was set by Magistrate D. K. McAdam for next Monday afternoon at Chemainus.

Fugitive Drives In Style

A Regina man is believed fleeing across the United States in an expensive sports car from lawmen armed with several warrants — one of them issued in Saanich.

Sought is Reginald Howard, 24, who has apparently been cleared by an autopsy of a direct connection in the death of a Regina woman found in a Saanich trailer abandoned in Burnaby.

THEFT CHARGE

Saanich police issued the trailer theft warrant.

The false pretences charges were laid in Regina, and the other warrant was issued by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the United States.

Mrs. Swanson and Howard stayed at a motel here on September 15.

After the trailer lay on the motel grounds for four weeks, the owner contacted the Burnaby RCMP.

They called Tolmie Home Service co-owner Gerry Coad to Burnaby to pick up the trailer, and he discovered Mrs. Swanson's body when he tried to take the trailer away.

From Burnaby, Howard apparently went south.

TRADED U-DRIVE

ARMED

Police say he is armed.

RCMP said the woman's body was deteriorated to such a point that they could discover no signs of violence.

It had been suggested she might have died as the result of an illegal abortion.

RCMP say there may have been "contributing factors" to the pneumonia death indicated by the autopsy, and Howard is wanted for questioning in that connection.

Moving Fever On Rise At City Hall

City council will hold its last meeting in its temporary home of the past 13 months Tuesday afternoon.

The week's schedule for aldermen posted this morning set 3 p.m. Tuesday for the meeting in the old Bastion Square Courthouse which became the temporary civic headquarters in September, 1963.

While aldermen hold this meeting in the third-floor chamber that used to serve as a courtroom, workmen will be moving various departmental files out of the floors below to the redeveloped City Hall.

Next council meeting will be held in the new, carpeted and teak-panelled chamber in the new civic building.

CLOSED FRIDAY

Meanwhile, all City Hall offices will be closed Friday for the moving of staff and large pieces of equipment from Bastion Square to the Douglas Street building.

An inspection of the new wing indicated that it won't be completely finished by Friday but city manager Dennis Young said the move will be carried out as planned.

TUESDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Kiwanis Club: Empress Hotel, noon; Rudy Pilous, "Hockey—Past, Present and Future."

Council Sets 'Big Think' On Tourism

A new drive to improve B.C.'s tourist business will be launched here Wednesday.

Members of government and industry will hold a two-day meeting to thresh out problems and try to come up with new ideas to promote business.

It will be the first conference of a new group called the Provincial Tourist Advisory Council.

Recreation Minister Kenneth Kiernan said the council will advise the government's travel bureau on policy.

The council is composed of 20 representatives from nine regions of the province, 10 spokesmen from the tourist industry generally and government officials.

THREE FOR V.I.

Vancouver Island has three representatives: Alan Maclean, director of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau; Oak Bay Coun. Fred W. Hawes, and D. C. Corbett, Campbell River.

Wednesday there will be a closed "beef session" and election of a council chairman.

Thursday there will be open meetings, panel discussions, a luncheon addressed by Deputy Recreation Minister D. B. Turner and a speech by Recreation Minister Kiernan at a banquet.

The conference will be at the Empress Hotel.

New Phone Books Delivered Late Next Month

New telephone books will be delivered to subscribers late next month, B.C. Telephone district manager Alan Higinbotham said today.

The books will come out two months later than last year.

The reason, he said, was that production schedules for all phone books were being put on an annual basis and late November was the assigned time for Greater Victoria.

Effective date for change of some numbers has been set for Dec. 6 and he said it would be a good idea not to use the directory before then.

The new book won't be much bigger than the present one but there will be "quite a few" new numbers due to the new exchange at Cordova Bay and installation of automatic dialling in the Gulf Islands.

Five Charges Laid After Wild Chase

A motorist who was clocked at almost 100 mph eluded police after a wild chase through city streets early Sunday morning.

The driver was first spotted on the parking lot at Mayfair Shopping Plaza. He was later seen by police who gave chase along Hillside.

Police said the driver ran red lights at Rose and Quadra and went through two stop signs. He was clocked between 80 and 90 on Hillside and then later at between 90 and 100 mph.

TWO CHARGES

In court this morning, Kenneth Henderson, 250 Douglas, was charged with two counts of dangerous driving by Saanich police. City police laid a charge of criminal negligence against him.

Henderson is also charged with being a minor in unlawful possession of liquor and with speeding over 15 mph on the parking lot at Town and Country Shopping Plaza.

He was remanded to Thursday for plea and election on the charges.

Topics of the Day

Saanich firemen said a cigarette butt probably started the blaze in the back seat. Mr. Good was at 921 Cowper helping to clean up after a recent fire at that address.

Stephen Howe, 1310 Clayton Road, Sidney, was remanded for sentence to Oct. 27 when he pleaded guilty in city court today to impaired driving.

Evidence was that he told police he had three bottles of beer half-an-hour earlier. A Breathalyzer test showed he had a blood alcohol count of .24 per cent.

Two Oak By burglaries within a few blocks Friday night netted the prowlers a total of $2.50.

Entered were the homes of H. D. Dawson, 2001 Lansdowne, and W. B. Lang, 3278 Henderson.

The Lang home was partly ransacked, but nothing was taken. A bedroom and study at the Dawson home were rifled and yielded $2.50 in coins.

Colored slides of Yugoslavia will be shown by Mrs. Norma MacDonald in the second of a series to be seen this year in the Georgia Room of the Empress Hotel. Slides will be shown at 6:30 and 8:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Work began this morning to rebuild the fire-damaged McDonald's Furniture block at the corner of Pandora and Broad Streets.

A crane began lifting materials for reconstruction of the roof and third floor that were destroyed in the July blaze that also destroyed the working stock of Goodwill Enterprises which rented storage space in the building.

The $22,000 reconstruction contract, awarded to Dillbough and Luney, ends speculation that the building would be demolished.

A 4½-month-old baby who died Friday was accidentally suffocated in a blanket, a coroner's inquiry has found. Coroner Edmond Jorre de St. Jorre made the finding after looking into the death of John Wood, 1168 Oscar Street.

A demonstration in ceramicr will be given at a meeting of the George Jay Home and School Club, Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Ask The Times

Q. Has Thanksgiving ever been held on a Sunday? I understand we hold it on the second Monday in October. Is it always held on a Monday? R.D.J.

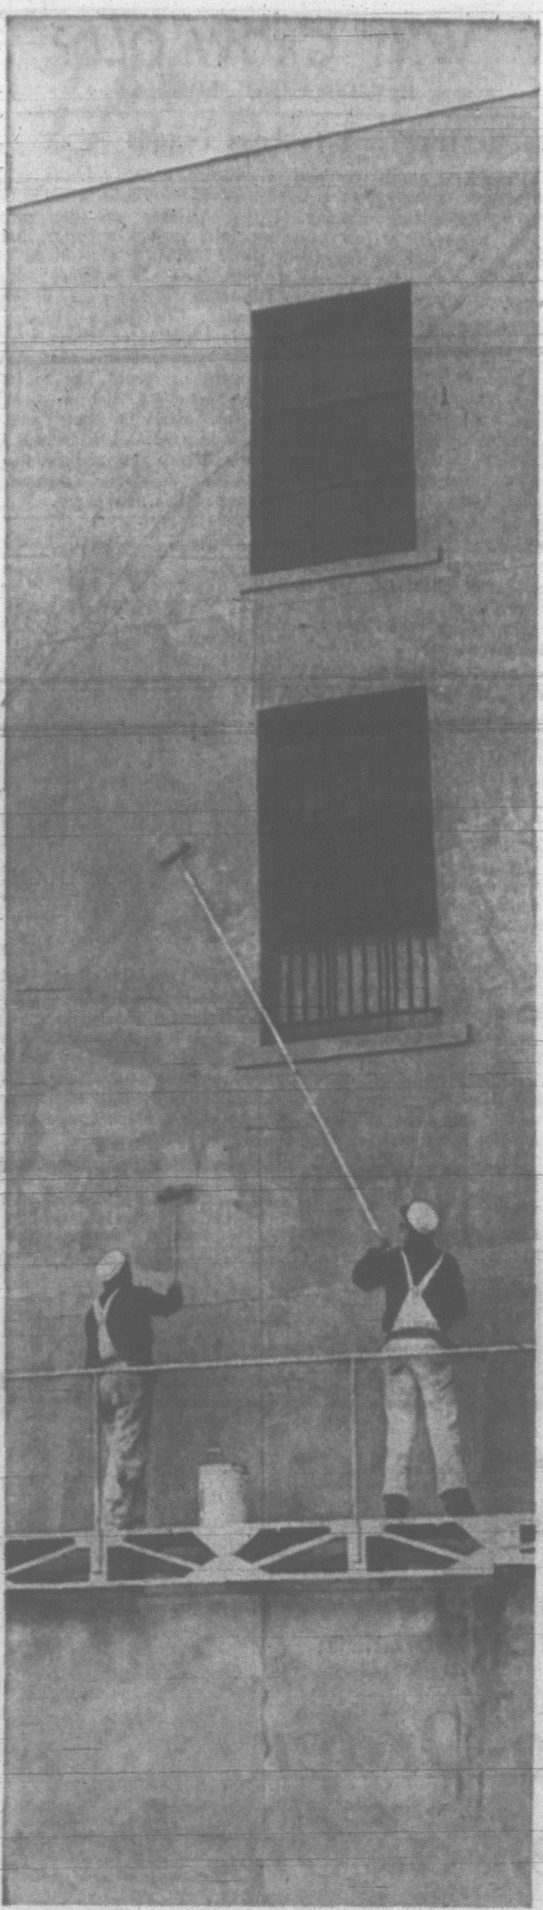
A. Thanksgiving Day, an annual statutory holiday in Canada, was first proclaimed in 1879 when it was observed Nov. 6.

Both later and earlier dates were tried in subsequent years. For many years preceding the end of the First World War, it was on the third Monday in October.

After the war it was proclaimed for the Monday of the week in which Armistice Day occurred and then, in 1921, Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day were merged; until 1931 both were observed on Monday of the week in which Nov. 11 occurred.

In 1931, the two days were made separate holidays again (Armistice Day was changed to Remembrance Day) and since then Thanksgiving Day has been proclaimed annually for a Monday—usually the second—in October.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve [illegible] undrums or legal problems [illegible] will be published [illegible]



"MUTT AND JEFF" paint rollers were pressed into service today as these workmen began repainting the Mc and Mc Building at Government and Pandora. Long-handled roller, along with the shorter model for close-in work, really speeded the job outside as other workmen continued renovating the interior into a block of individual stores and offices and a government liquor outlet. Rollers spread a beige-colored coat over the grey stucco surface, to complement the civic square color plan across the street.

BNA 'Homecoming' In Spring: Bonner

Canada should win control of its own constitution next spring, Attorney-General Robert Bonner predicted today.

He said he expects Canada's parliament will submit a bill to Britain's parliament by spring which would bring about the "repatriation."

The result will be that Canada can amend the constitution without approval from the British parliament.

A draft of the bill was approved at conferences attended by Mr. Bonner and Premier W. A. C. Bennett in Ottawa last week.

"I think it is the best possible agreement that can be reached," Mr. Bonner said.

SENATE EXPANSION

The only worry that B.C. has, he said, is restriction of membership in the Senate.

However, Mr. Bonner said he believes there is sufficient flexibility in the draft bill to ensure what he called "the evolution of Canadian government."

Mr. Bonner said some provinces want to get a resolution from their Legislature formally approving the bill, but he does not anticipate any opposition.

B.C. has not decided about a resolution, he said, but he expects the issue to be debated at the legislative session which starts Jan. 21.

Mr. Bonner said he doubts there will be any opposition in either the Canadian or British Parliaments.

UNITED FUND WORKERS 41.9% DONE

Victoria United Appeal campaign neared the halfway mark today as canvassers started on the last leg of their bid to raise $410,000.

By noon the figure was $172,028—41.9 per cent of the final goal.

Latest group to receive an Award of Excellence from the campaign is the Victorian Order of Nurses.

83-Year-Old Pedestrian Injured As Learner Loses Control of Car

An 83-year-old woman pedestrian was injured Sunday afternoon when she was hit by a car driven by a learner-driver.

Mrs. Laura Scott, Glenshield Hotel, was detained at Royal Jubilee Hospital where she is reported in fairly good condition.

City police said Mrs. Scott was walking on the Quadra Street sidewalk just north of McClure. A car driven by Mrs. Cecilia Morrison, 1241 Haultain, went out of control and mounted the curb hitting Mrs. Scott.

Mrs. Morrison, a learner-driver, was accompanied by a licenced driver. Mrs. Scott received leg and ankle injuries.

Disney Makes Bid for City Author's Story

Walt Disney, the master creator of animal films, has made a bid for a nature story by a Victoria author.

The story he wants is The Wise One—the tale of a big black beaver written by 71-year-old Frank Conibear of 1177 Fort Street and already published in four countries.

Lean, grey-haired Mr. Conibear today confirmed that a Walt Disney agent has made him an offer for the story—for use either as a TV feature or a full-length movie production.

"The contract is still in the negotiation stage," he said. "I have been offered a certain sum to have the book produced on TV plus a larger sum if it is made into a theatre film.

"I cannot say yet what the outcome will be, but I am, of course, very happy over the recognition."

HUMANE TRAP

Mr. Conibear is also famed for his humane trap for fur-bearing animals, now widely used in Canada, the United States and other countries.

His book, The Wise One, was written in 1948 and has since been published in England, Canada, the United States and Germany. It has sold well in all four countries.

"The German translation, a soft-covered book, seems to be doing very well," Mr. Conibear said. "It was translated by a Swiss firm."

The story is presented as the biography of a black beaver, but the actual narrator is Mr. Conibear himself, and is drawn from his long experience as a trapper near Great Slave Lake.

He invests the beaver with almost human interest as he tells of its courtship and marriage, and the building of lodges that grew constantly larger as the family grows.

The narrative is set in a background of Northern forests, rivers and lakes, and the long winters and resurgent springs are graphically pictured.

CUNNING

The beaver hero is unusual in color, and the size and glossiness of his skin make him the prey of Indian hunters whom he eludes with persistent cunning.

"If there is a better animal story than this in Canadian literature I have yet to find it," one reviewer wrote.

A former president of the Victoria branch, Canadian Authors' Association, Mr. Conibear has written other successful books on animal life.

At 15 he started trapping in the Canadian Northwest Territories and continued for a number of years. It was from this experience that he developed his humane trap.

The trap is made of wire which slams shut on the neck or chest of an animal, causing instant death.

DEAR ABBY . . .

In Doubt!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if a woman with a tainted reputation moved into your neighborhood and decided to make you her bosom buddy just because your son and hers became playmates? She's never done me any harm, but everyone keeps warning me not to have anything to do with her because she seems to attract men—married and single—without even trying. My husband is no dream boat or woman chaser, but I'd die if he ever got interested in another woman. With these friendly warnings I have my fears, even though I trust my husband and I like the woman. She seems lonely and I'd gladly give her my friendship if it isn't my husband she's after. What should I do?

PUZZLED.

DEAR PUZZLED: If the woman has never done you any harm and you like her, I say nuts to the "friendly warnings." They sound like so much cat meowing. You can't go through life suspecting every attractive woman of trying to steal your husband.

DEAR ABBY: In answer to Cold Tomato, we in the restaurant business place our customers' comfort above all else. We set the temperature to 72 degrees at the peak hours. This is what the engineers say should be a comfortable average. I have been summoned to a customer's table to hear the complaint that it is "freezing." And in less than five minutes someone in the same dining room will ask me why our air-conditioning is not working. When this happens, I walk to the controls, which are in evidence to all, move my hand over them, change nothing, and in 10 minutes, everybody is happy.

"SOME LIKE IT HOT
SOME LIKE IT COLD,"
IN WHEELING, W.VA.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young mother expecting her second child. I nursed my first and I intend to nurse this one, too. My problem: Mealtime in public. I see nothing wrong with nursing my baby in public, but it seems to be a source of embarrassment for many people. Although I am by nature a very modest person, I just can't work up any feeling of shame about this. I have tried going into public rest rooms, but I am not very happy in there all alone. If I don't nurse this second baby I will feel that I am cheating him. What do you suggest?

DEAR EXPECTING: I suggest that you nurse your baby in private. While there is nothing to be "ashamed" of, you are unwise to make yourself conspicuous in public and embarrass others, as well as your relatives and friends.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NOT WELL": No one said it better than Ella Wheeler Wilcox in her poem "Optimism" and I quote:

"Talk health. The deary, never-ending tale
Of mortal maladies is worn and stale;
You cannot charm or interest or please
By harping on that minor chord, disease.
Say you are well, or all is well with you,
And God shall hear your words and make them true."

Is Ugly Lint on Suits Your Problem, Men?

By PENNY SAVER

Penny absolutely shudders every time she sees a man wearing a suit or sports jacket which is literally ruined by ugly hair or lint. To offset these hysterical vibrations, Penny went in search of a solution to the problem.

Store I was in has a new idea for removing unsightly lint. It is a roller covered with masking tape. The tape catches dust, pet hairs and dandruff and is wonderful for bits of fuzz on sweaters or other woollen articles.

Not only does it remove lint, but also renews suede, velvet, cord, cotton and felt to their original pile. When the cleaner's surface gets clogged, tear along the perforated line and you have another cleaning surface ready to use. A roller contains 240 square feet of tape and it sells for $1.

To complement the tapered style of suits men are wearing this year, slim ties are still topping the popularity poll.

Tie I found is of polyester fibre and is completely washable—no dry-cleaning necessary. In fact, this store guarantees that after laundering, this tie will look as good or better than it did when new. It requires no ironing. Simply run your fingers down the length of the tie while it is still damp and pressing is complete.

The synthetic it is made of gives the tie a natural, silky look and it comes in numerous patterns and colors. Ties range in price from $2 to $3.

These products will be a great addition to any man's wardrobe. It's a good gift idea, too. If you want to know where to get them, give Penny a call at 382-3131 and she'll tell you.

Parents Have A Champion In New York Psychologist

"Don't blame the parents for their children's misdemeanors," she says. "It takes two to tangle."

Miss Goodman explains that when a child misbehaves you have an explosion coming from an interpersonal relationship between child and parent.

"I can't see this automatically blaming the parent. Every parent does his best by his children. Some are not cut out to do so well. The reason some don't do better is because they don't know how."

Miss Goodman, a consultant at Roosevelt Hospital in New York, taught a summer school course at the University of British Columbia in psychology of childhood.

She says there are two main problems with teen-agers: their growing sense of independence and their lack of moderation. But she advises against worrying about the kooky kid — the Beatle screamer, the way-out dresser—worry about the quiet ones.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It's Time to Lose Pounds

Here it is almost the end of October! We've just enjoyed the Thanksgiving holiday. If you are even a few pounds overweight, why not lose them?

Those of us who gain weight very rapidly are almost certain to pick up a few pounds with each fiesta season. Unless we lose them promptly they accumulate surprisingly.

Lowman

This week I am bringing you my Trick and Treat Diet which gives you a loss of about five pounds in seven days.

Here are the menus for tomorrow.

MENUS FOR TUESDAY

BREAKFAST

Six ounces orange juice, one poached egg on toast (one tablespoonful of chili sauce on egg or sprinkling of grated cheese), coffee with one teaspoonful sugar.

LUNCHEON

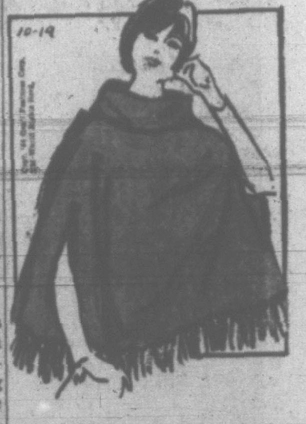
Toasted cheese sandwich (two thin slices of bread and a thin slice of American cheese—the equivalent of two heaping tablespoons of the same), one eight-ounce glass skim milk, one-half cup cole slaw.

DINNER

One cup consomme (canned), four ounces of lean beef (broiled), sliced tomato, one baked potato, seasoned with onion salt and parsley, two small pieces of hard candy.

Notice a few of the tricks used here! There is onion salt and parsley on the baked potato, instead of butter, and a little chili or cheese on the egg. You are allowed a teaspoonful of sugar in your coffee. The sugar gives you only about 15 calories.

If you missed yesterday's menus or would like to have the complete diet in booklet form, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.



There's more to country in the fall than bright-colored foliage and singing around an autumn bonfire—but should you fancy either of these, for heaven's sake bundle yourself smartly in this bright brushed mohair poncho with a black fringe border and keep warm.

To Orient

Mr. and Mrs. Gervase Chamber are leaving by jet plane on Tuesday for a two-month trip to the Orient, stopping in Honolulu, Japan, Hong Kong, Thailand and Malaysia. During their absence, their home will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Garry Mills of Seba Beach, Alta. The Chambers will return home in January.

From Alberta

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Mast travelled from Lacombe, Alta., Friday evening to attend the marriage of their son, Mr. Kenneth Mast, and Miss Betty Tyson. High School Students Should Be Taught How to Plan Budgets

Laura C. Pepper, who has been chief of the agriculture department's consumer section for the last 25 years, says:

"Today's consumers have a better knowledge of food products and other consumer goods than they did 25 years ago. But I do not think young married couples are really properly equipped to manage their incomes.

"The tremendous growth of consumer credit, which I think is a very unhealthy trend, has made consumer buying a complicated business. I feel young people should be prepared for it through courses in high school."

Miss Pepper, who retired in June, said in an interview there is a great deal more to be done in the field of consumer education. That's why she agreed to be an active member of the education committee of the Consumers' Association of Canada. The committee is exploring ways in which consumer education might be combined with secondary school subjects.

A sprightly, blue-eyed woman with a lively enthusiasm for her life's work, Laura Pepper has spent 33 years helping educate consumers about Canada's agricultural products.

Miss Pepper says she thinks producers today spend too much time and money on fancy packaging and gimmicks to sell food.

Guest speaker at the meeting will be Archdeacon Patrick Ellis, superintendent of the Columbia Coast Mission. His topic will be the work of the mission. Slides will also be shown.

Tyler, 4168 Dalmeney Road. The wedding will take place next Saturday in St. Michael and All Angels Church, Royal Oak, at 7:30 p.m. (Chapman Photography)

Salt Spring Island Church Setting For Marriage of Sally Alexander

A wedding of interest to many Victorians took place in Our Lady of Grace Catholic Church at Ganges, Salt Spring Island, when Sally Marie Alexander exchanged marriage vows with Roger Spencer Brigden, Chemainus.

Parents of the principals are Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Alexander, of Ganges Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brigden of Fulford Harbor.

Fr. W. Mudge officiated at the ceremony and J. Nickerson was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a classic floor-length gown of nylon sheer over taffeta. The full skirt was highlighted with clusters of nylon sheer at the hip, held with bands of appliqued embroidery. Embroidery also trimmed the rounded neckline of the fitted Elizabethan bodice which was styled with tapering sleeves. Her veil misted to chapel length from a pearl-studded coronet. Pink rapture roses and stephanotis formed her bouquet.

Mrs. Patrick Parker, Duncan, was matron of honor for her sister. Bridesmatron was Mrs. R. J. Thomas, Victoria, and bridesmaid was Miss Beth Brigden, sister of the groom. They chose identical sheath dresses of turquoise satin and toning whimsies. Pink carnations formed their bouquets.

Little Teresa Alexander, niece of the bride, wore a pink nylon frock. Her headpiece was a circlet of pink and white flowers and she carried a matching posy.

Best man was Stephen LaFortune. Ushers were Bernard Reynolds and J. Rumley, Chemainus.

At a reception held in the Harbor Hotel Shamrock Room, the bride's table was centred with a three-tier pillared wedding cake, decorated by Mrs. W. Hobday, Victoria. The cake was set in a mist of tulle.

Cpl. Roy Whitehead, RCMP, Chilliwack, proposed the toast to the bride and Mr. Hobday was master of ceremonies.

NEW CANDLELIGHT COMPLEXION

If you have seen a woman with a complexion so perfect, so flawless, and yet so utterly without a made-up look, it would be only natural for you to envy her good fortune. Yet you, in no more than a minute may have a complexion so perfect and beautiful, people will think you suddenly and by some mysterious means, have grown an entirely new and flawless skin. Even such lines as you may have will vanish into forgetfulness. You should look much younger right away. Wonderful as this may seem, it is not a miracle, just the easy result of using a totally new kind of liquid make-up that absorbs instead of reflecting light. This is an improvement over the matte make-up . . . because it absorbs light it cannot reflect and emphasize blemishes and other skin imperfections that are so dismaying. This same principle of light absorption creates the candlelight illusion of naturalness much preferred to artificial appearing make-up. 2nd Debut Liquid Make-Up (with CEF 600 — known to reduce facial lines and wrinkles) is the distinguished new advancement in facial appearance. 2nd Debut Liquid Make-Up (with CEF 600) is prepared in 5 exquisite shades of natural origin. You'll be sure one is yours the instant you see it. Better cosmetic counters now have 2nd Debut Liquid Make-Up with (CEF 600).

Autumn-Toned Decor For Recent Wedding

First United Church was decorated in gold and bronze when Rev. Robert Morris officiated at the ceremony that united Brenda Joan Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Robinson, 3389 Cook Street, and William Wayne Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Wright, 667 West Burnside Road.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length full-skirted gown of white lace. It was fashioned with a tiered skirt and slight train. Her shoulder-length veil misted from a pill box headpiece and she carried a bouquet of pink Rapture roses.

Matron of honor, Mrs. William Robinson, sister-in-law of the bride, wore an A-line gown of peacock blue peau de soie with shoes and pill box headpiece en tone. Bell-skirted gowns in tones of aqua and gold peau de soie with matching jackets were worn by bridesmaids, the Misses Gloria Southron and Carolyn Speakman. Matching shoes and pill box headpieces completed their ensembles. All carried cascade bouquets of white carnations with ribbon en tone with their gowns.

Flower girl, Miss Helen Robinson, niece of the bride, wore an A-line frock of pink peau de soie with a matching pill box circlet in her hair. Her bouquet was similar to those of the senior attendants.

Robert Watson was best man and ushers were William Robinson and Lloyd Wright, brothers of the principals.

A three-tier wedding cake and arrangements of pink roses decorated the bride's table at a reception in War Amputations Hall. Toast was proposed by Les Bradley.

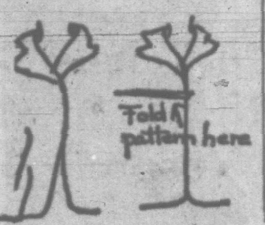
The bride's going-away outfit was a gold wool walking suit with antique brown accessories and dark brown gloves. A white gardenia corsage completed the ensemble.

SEW SIMPLE WITH Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice:

Every time I make a suit, the front edges swing to the side instead of hanging nice and straight. I love to sew, but am getting discouraged.

MRS. W. H.



Dear Mrs. W. H.:

You didn't mention your figure measurements, but I imagine the pattern you have chosen is styled for someone with a larger bust than you have. This could also happen if you didn't walk erect or were slightly round shouldered.

The front of your pattern is too long between the shoulders and the waist. Make a fold in your pattern at the bust line, tapering the dart or fold to nothing at the underarm. (It would be a good idea if you would make a muslin pattern with this correction and check it carefully before cutting your garment.)

BANNING—In loving memory of a beloved husband and father, Raymond K. Banning, who passed away October 19, 1963.

A light is from our household gone
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home

Though on earth you are no more;
But in memory you are with us
As you always were before.

PENDLEBURY—In loving memory of my husband and father, Frank, who passed away Oct. 19, 1963.

BRIDGE LESSON

By OSWALD JACOBY

When you open the bidding with one of a suit and your partner responds with one of a higher suit, the rebid to one no-trump should give your partner a tremendous amount of information about your hand.

South	West	North	East
1♣	Pass	1♠	Pass
1N.T.	Pass	3N.T.	Pass

Opening lead—♦4

It should show no-trump distribution (5-3-3-2; 4-4-3-2 or 4-3-3-3) and less high card strength than for an opening no-trump bid. In other words, a maximum of 14 high card points. In addition, it should deny ability to bid a second suit at the one level or to raise your partner's suit, and in almost all instances should promise a stopper in both unbid suits.

South's hand is a perfect example of the one no-trump rebid. He cannot raise spades. He can't bid another suit at the one level, and he has no-trump distribution. The hand also has stoppers for both unbid suits.

This one no-trump rebid should solve all problems for North, who has 15 high card points. He knows South holds 13 or 14, so that the hand belongs in game, but not in a slam. He also has been told that South cannot raise spades, so the game contract should be three no-trump.

South has no trouble making his contract and two overtricks. He wins the diamond opening, knocks out the ace of clubs and winds up with two spades, four hearts, two diamonds and three clubs.

FRONTIERS OF SCIENCE

TRAFFIC CONTROL BY COMPUTER - Part 1

ONE OF THE PARADOXES OF MODERN LIVING IS THAT WHILE THE MOST USEFUL INVENTION OF THE INDUSTRIAL AGE — THE AUTOMOBILE — BECOMES SAFER, MORE EFFICIENT AND FASTER . . .
. . . THE AVERAGE SPEED OF TRAFFIC IN CITIES IS FALLING TOWARD THE POINT WHERE IT WILL SOON BE FASTER TO WALK!
IN HIGHLY DEVELOPED COUNTRIES LIKE THE U.S. AND WESTERN EUROPE, DESPERATE CITY PLANNERS ARE TURNING MORE AND MORE TO SCIENTIFIC METHODS TO HELP THEM SOLVE THE PRESSING PROBLEM OF CONGESTION.
ALREADY ONE CITY, TORONTO IN CANADA, HAS ACHIEVED REMARKABLE SUCCESS BY PLACING ITS TRAFFIC CONTROL IN THE HANDS OF A COMPUTER.

Two Drivers Caught While Disqualified

Two motorists who appeared in city court this morning pleaded guilty to driving while disqualified.

Both were caught within an hour of one another by the same policeman.

Lloyd Gale of Duncan was remanded to Tuesday for sentence. He told the court he was convicted of a similar offence two months ago.

FINED $150

Garry Morgan, 2324 Blanshard, was fined $150 and given a further licence suspension. His licence was suspended two months ago for dangerous driving.

Constable Bud Curry said he stopped Morgan on Broad Street late Saturday night. He admitted to driving while disqualified after extensive questioning.

An hour later, Cons. Curry said, he saw Gale driving on Fisgard Street. The officer said Gale turned on to Store and then drove behind an E&N building.

Gale got out and ran away but was caught by Cons Curry with the assistance of two other officers. Magistrate William Ostler remanded Gale for sentence until his driving record is obtained.

New Officers Elected By Tory Women

Mrs. William Denham has been elected president of Victoria Women's Progressive Conservative Association.

Other officers are Mrs. D. F. C. McArthur, first vice-president; Mrs. James Kirkwood, second vice-president; Mrs. Charles Chisholm, secretary, and Mrs. R. C. Campbell, treasurer.

Members of the executive are Mrs. D. L. Coutts, Mrs. Isabella Mowatt, Mrs. Rosalind Wells, Mrs. M. A. Muskett, Miss Marion Fawdry and Mrs. C. E. Richards.

Mrs. John Diefenbaker, wife of the national Conservative leader, and Mrs. E. Davie Fulton, wife of the provincial leader, were made honorary presidents.

NOTICE is hereby given that an application will be made to the Director of Vital Statistics for a change of name, pursuant to the provisions of the "Change of Name Act," by me, Dan Metro Ewasuik, of 1011 Hillside Ave., in Victoria, in the Province of British Columbia, as follows:

She Ain't Like She Used to Be As New U.S. Ship Goes Modern

By RON SUDLOW

More than 1,600 Victorians got a glimpse of gracious living at sea when they inspected the USS Waddell Saturday and Sunday at the Naden Jetty.

The U.S. guided missile destroyer held an open house both days while anchored here on a recreational visit for its crew of 22 officers and 319 men.

Most of the ship's comfort conveniences are located on the mess decks where a cup of coffee is available 24 hours a day.

HUGE OVEN

Tables on the mess decks, which also house a library and television set, are covered with red and white checkered table cloths.

"All these conveniences are new for U.S. ships. If the chow is good, the morale of the men is good," said Lt. James Kulesz, the Waddell's gunnery and public information officer.

"We also show the latest movie releases every night. The ship is also fully air-conditioned which is another recent trend because of the heat caused from the tubes of all the electronic equipment we have on board."

The Waddell, which has an overall length of 440 feet and a beam of 47 feet, is roomier than Canada's destroyer-escorts.

You don't have to watch your head when scrambling up hatchway ladders. There is more deck space and more bunk space.

The missile ship, commissioned Aug. 28, is the last of a series of DDG-type destroyers to be built for the USN.

She differs from the DLG class USS Richmond K. Turner which visited here two weeks ago in that she is slightly smaller and has less fire power.

The R. K. Turner has missile systems fore and aft but the Waddell has only the less potent TARTAR short-range anti-aircraft missile mounted aft.

She also carries ASROC torpedo installations amidships which can kill submarines at extended ranges.

ASROC is capable of delivering either an acoustic homing torpedo or a depth charge to an enemy submarine thousands of yards away. Both explosive devices are rocket-propelled.

After three weeks of tests, the Waddell will join the cruiser-destroyer force, U.S. Pacific Fleet which has its home port in San Diego, Calif.

HOME GARDEN

Violets Thrive In Sunny Spots

The humble and sweetly fragrant violet appreciates attention as much as its showier relatives, the pansies and violas.

Hilda

If the flowers on your plants have been getting fewer, and the plants themselves so overgrown that they are encroaching on neighboring plants, now is the time to rectify matters.

It is not generally known that violets thrive in open sunshine provided they receive sufficient moisture at their roots. In the violet-growing centres of France, violets are cultivated in open fields as other commercial crops, though allowance must be made for higher summer rainfall and less scorching sunlight in those areas than we enjoy.

A heavy soil is better suited to their needs than a sandy soil. Either will be improved by the addition of decayed manure or leaf soil.

If the bed is crowded, search around for healthy runners, some of which may already be rooted, and detach from parent plants.

Dig up and discard old, woody portions of roots, and thus clear the bed entirely. Make it up afresh with the above recommended soil mixture and replant the rooted runners.

The unrooted runners may be set six inches apart in a coldframe made up with screened compost, a little coarse sand and some blue whale-type of peat moss.

The leaves should be no further than a couple of inches below the glass of the coldframe or the plants will become drawn and useless. Keep the glass on until new growth indicates rooting has taken place, but be sure to allow air in for a few minutes each mild, rainy day.

After rooting, ventilate freely, and remove plants to permanent bed in late March or early April.

Student Guilty Of Impairment After City Chase

A 20-year-old university student pleaded guilty today to being impaired when he was chased by police from Fort and Richmond to the top of Mount Tolmie on Saturday.

James G. Helm, 3460 Bonair Place, was on the way down the other side of Mt. Tolmie when he was stopped.

Crown prosecutor Terry O'Grady asid the police used its red light and sirens all through the chase that reached speeds of 80 m.p.h. in places.

Magistrate William Ostler said he would like a pre-sentence report on the youth and remanded him to Oct. 27.

Mr. O'Grady said that Helm, who was driving his father's car, was weaving from side to side of the road at high speed during the chase along Richmond and Mayfair.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Thieves broke through a door in the lobby of the Drake Hotel overnight Sunday and entered the hotel and beer parlor section of the premises.

Youth Groups To Again Collect For Korea Fund

Sunday schools and youth groups throughout Vancouver Island will be collecting funds for the sick and starving children of Korea next week.

Mrs. W. W. McGill, Victoria director of the fund, asks that any groups which have not been enrolled should contact her at 3441 Mayfair Drive or telephone EV 4-4803.

"Sometimes we have difficulty contacting leaders who have changed their address," she said. "We would welcome, not only Sunday schools and youth groups, but individual collectors as well.

"This is a great international effort and we need all the help we can get."

Uvic Enrolment Zips Past 2,000 Mark

Registration at University of Victoria topped 2,500 last week.

Registrar Ronald Jeffels said today the number of students enrolled as of Oct. 1 was 2,494, but he placed the figure now at 2,510.

About 1,132 or freshmen, 875 of them in the faculty of arts and science.

Education faculty had 733 students Oct. 1, and arts had 1,761.

Old Gas Lamps From Over 'Ome

Four Edwardian-era gas lamps to help illuminate Bastion Square when it is completed have been donated by the T. Eaton Company.

COMEDIAN CANNED

Sullivan Show Ends in Anger

NEW YORK (UPI)—Producers for the Ed Sullivan show, shocked at what they called comedian Jackie Mason's "obscene gestures" during Sunday night's show, tore up the comic's contract for future appearances.

The "obscene gestures" consisted of Mason "thumbing his nose at Sullivan, the audience and the orchestra . . . and making a gesture with a finger," said Bernie Ilson, public relations representative for Sullivan Productions.

Producer Bob Precht said the contract also was being cancelled because of Mason's alleged "offensive conduct, insubordination, and gross deviation from material agreed upon in the telecast." The contract had called for six appearances on the television variety show, of which Sunday's was the first.

SULLIVAN

Mason's reaction was a mixture of bewilderment and anger, and he said he would sue Sullivan for libel. He told a UPI reporter:

"I did make some gestures but I didn't mean to do anything vulgar. It didn't enter my mind. He has no right to renege on a contract that he has with me for five more shows." He said he was getting $7,500 per show.

It all began in the closing minutes of the show, when Sullivan walked on stage, in view of the studio audience but not on camera, and signaled with one finger to Mason, to indicate he had one more minute to finish his act.

LAUGH? SHOCK?

Mason responded by thumbing his nose and making the other gestures. Ilson said the "audience and the entire staff were shocked." Bob Chartoff, Mason's manager, said they laughed.

Mason said Sullivan had distracted the audience, and that he was only trying to recapture it.

"I really think there's no reason in the world for him to take this arbitrary attitude to think that I was vulgar . . . to decide for himself that I was vulgar," Mason protested.

"The least he could do if he got that impression was to wait to see what I thought, what I intended to do, but he didn't even let me explain myself," he added.

Mason said that as soon as the show was over, Sullivan sent word that he wanted to see him.

'UNCONTROLLABLE'

"As soon as I walked in, he . . . started screaming and raving and yelling. He was uncontrollable. He was in a wild rage. He said 'I'll hurt you in this business in any way I can'," Mason said.

"I think he's doing it with every intention of hurting my career. I think he took the gestures as a personal affront or insult, and he decided to get even with me for it.

"I'm going to sue him for libel because this is slander and it will definitely hurt my career," he said.

Bonner Expects Quick Decision On B.C. Bank

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said today he expects a fairly quick decision from the Senate on B.C.'s bid for a bank.

He said he found the Senate Banking Committee more "hospitable" when he appeared before it last week than it had been in July when he and Premier W. A. C. Bennett went to Ottawa.

"I am generally optimistic," Mr. Bonner said.

He said there was "no strain in the discussions."

The Senators' reception was also good to his proposal to amend the bill of incorporation for the Bank of B.C. to prevent anyone from holding more than 10 per cent of the shares.

The B.C. government originally planned to hold up to 25 per cent of stock in the $100 million enterprise.

Mr. Bonner said it will not be necessary to make any further representations to the committee. B.C. now can only sit and await its decision.

Multiple Listing Sales Up 37% Over Last Year

Sales through the multiple listing service of Victoria real estate companies have increased 37 per cent compared with last year.

In the first nine months this year, sales here were worth $12,836,000 compared with $9,390,000 at the same time last year.

BILLION BY 1966

Across the country there was a 25 per cent increase to $542,561,000 in the first nine months.

At the present rate of increase, sales will top $700,000,000 at the end of this year, says the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards.

"Some time in 1966 we will leave the billion dollar barrier behind," said executive-secretary H. W. Follows of Toronto.

N. Ward Pupils Win Firemen's Poster Contest

Winner was Kenny Lee, who received $5, and Richard Bahan received $4 for second place.

The contest was sponsored by Victoria and Oak Bay Firefighters Union. Posters were judged on theme and art work.

Pressure Tank Ready At Esquimalt

Doctors asked Thursday the pressure chamber be readied when James Stewart, 45, Prince George, was brought to Vancouver apparently suffering from the dangerous infection.

Stewart suffered an injury to his right thigh in a traffic accident Sept. 25 and gas gangrene developed in the wound.

WOUND TOO HIGH

The wound is too high to amputate Stewart's leg. However, Vancouver doctors said Friday after a series of tests, he may be suffering a different, less serious infection.

Gas gangrene is an infection which spreads quickly like normal gangrene, but creates gas bubbles in the skin and can be fatal.

If the navy chamber is used, Stewart would be placed inside under oxygen pressure so his blood stream would absorb more oxygen than usual to kill bacteria spreading the infection.

K's OUSTER BRINGS MIXED REACTION

The party newspaper Nepszabdzag said "the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union and comrade Nikita Khrushchev have amassed great merits in shaping policies which express the basic historic needs of our time."

Romania's Communist regime, meanwhile, sent a cable of congratulations to the Kremlin's announced new leaders, Leonid Brezhnev and Alexei Kosygin.

In Paris, Humanite, official organ of the French Communist party, watered down criticism of Khrushchev as carried by Pravda, the newspaper of the Soviet Communist party.

Weedkiller Fatal

VANCOUVER (CP)—Maury Ouelette, 4, died after drinking weedkiller left on a garage shelf at a relative's home, laboratory tests discovered. Officials said the tests showed traces of an arsenic-based weedkiller in the boy's stomach, although a post mortem last week failed to establish the cause of death.

Opposition Expected On Rezoning

Opposition is expected to at least two of four Saanich rezoning applications going to a public hearing Tuesday.

A public outcry has already been raised about an application to have a government liquor store in a shopping centre planned for Borden Ave. and Reynolds Rd.

And ratepayers in the area have indicated they will oppose an application for a proposed $1,000,000 motel at Douglas and Ardersier.

Also scheduled for hearing Tuesday night are an application for a church at Glanford and McKenzie, and for an automatic telephone exchange at 1805 Feltham.

The liquor store application by Slegg Bros. Construction has had a stormy trip through council.

BOARD COMMITTED

Councillors found out the liquor control board was committed to leasing a store in the centre while council was still writing letters asking for information about the proposed store.

Council is on record as favoring a different area for the liquor store and although councillors approved all other commercial uses for the proposed shopping centre, they would not approve the liquor store use without a public hearing.

The motel application is from Diversified Management and Development Company Ltd., and the proposal is to build a tradition style motel to be called the Red Lion.

The application involving the telephone exchange includes an application to have the west property line setback requirement relaxed from five to three feet.

The hearing is to start at 7 p.m. in the council chamber at Saanich municipal hall.

Ceremony on Saturday was sponsored by pioneer recognition committee, chaired by James K. Nesbitt.

Unlisted Number Only Advice To Restrict Unsolicited Calls

The Better Business Bureau gets about 20 calls a week complaining of magazine selling over the telephone.

Bureau manager W. D. Tindall said today he also gets a lot of requests for persons wanting to know what can be done to stop the calls.

He felt there was not much that could be done to restrict such sales pitches because it was almost impossible to draw a line between legitimate and misleading calls.

One answer is switching to an unlisted telephone number, which costs slightly more than a listed one.

Some magazine solicitors give the impression of doing a television survey when they ask if a certain show has been watched.

TITLE ABBREVIATED

"In fact you are paying a set amount which is literally the cost of the magazine," he said.

Many solicitations are made from women working from their home on a commission basis. They read a prepared script and if the potential customer shows interest there is a follow-up call to the home.

CODE OF ETHICS

Mr. Tindall said all magazines belong to a central registry association which has drawn up a code of ethics.

Statements that magazines are "free" or available for "cost of postage" shall not be made.

"If you are misled, the association will take action on a complaint," he said.

The association has power to levy fines on the agent or seller and has done so "quite regularly."

Dope Addicts Among Teens Topic at Meet

Rev. Richard J. Simmons arrived in Victoria today to acquaint interested people in what has been done to help young people addicted to narcotics.

He will address a dinner meeting for men only at 6:30 p.m. and a public meeting at 8.

The meetings will be held in Glad Tidings Tabernacle, 842 North Park.

WORKED IN SLUMS

Mr. Simmons, as a Presbyterian cleric, spent three years in the slum area of New York and has recently spent some time in Vancouver, studying the problem of drug addiction.

In New York, he was closely associated with David Wilkerson, author of "The Cross and the Switchblade."

He assisted with the publication of this book which tells of the lives of crime and hopelessness of young people, many of them in junior high school.

Earlier this year, Mr. Simmons assisted in establishment of a Teen-Age Challenge Centre in Vancouver where youn addicts are now receiving help.

Eaton, Two Sons On Visit After Fishing Trip

A brief visit to Victoria was to be paid this afternoon by John David Eaton, president of T. Eaton Company Limited.

"It's basically a holiday trip," said G. M. Horton, assistant manager of Eaton's here.

He was accompanied by his two sons, John Craig and Fred, who work for the company.

He flew to Vancouver Island from Vancouver and spent the weekend fishing up-Island. It wasn't known what luck he had.

The Eatons were expected to leave Victoria late today or early Tuesday in their private airplane for Vancouver. They live in Toronto.

Bush Pilot, Guide Die in B.C. Crash

BELLA COOLA, B.C. (CP)—Richard Poet believed it was safer to be a bush pilot than a crop duster.

Six years ago, because statistics told him his dusting business in Oregon was dangerous to his health, he pulled out and with his wife set up Wilderness Airlines.

Mrs. Percy Sims of Kimberley, B.C., said her husband and Poet were good friends. Sims had chartered Poet's Beaver aircraft for a hunting trip.

The plane crashed Thursday into Fenton Lake, about 320 miles northwest of Vancouver. Holt, the guide, died instantly. Sims dragged Poet from the wreckage and they paddled ashore on a pontoon that had broken loose.

LAW INCONSISTENT, SAYS EX-JURIST

Abolish Bigamy as Crime

WINNIPEG (CP)—Bigamy should be abolished as a crime, Lord Devlin, chairman of the British Press Council and a former leading British jurist, said Saturday.

"Bigamy violates neither good manners nor decency. When it is committed without deception, it harms no one. Yet, in these days of easy divorce, bigamists do not arouse sympathy and no one is enthusiastic about altering the law in their favor," he said in a lecture marking the 50th anniversary of the Winnipeg Law School.

"We should not deal with the offence of bigamy. We should just say there was a false declaration made," he said.

Lord Devlin said there were two fundamental principles and eight specific crimes which, prima facie, were inconsistent with the principle that criminal law should be used only to protect others from harm to which they did not consent.

The first principle concerned the assessment of punishment, the second the function of consent in criminal law.

The crimes were bigamy and cruelty to animals, homosexuality, abortion, buggery in the form of bestiality, incest, obscenity such as the sale of pornography and offences connected with prostitution such as pimping, and brothel keeping.

Lord Devlin, a former lord of appeal in the House of Lords, said:

"We have now achieved, not without a great struggle, the sort of society in which a man's religion is his own affair. Ought not his morals to be his own affair too? Is there any greater need for a common morality than there is for a common religion?"

FAIR PROFITS DOWN; NEW SHOW PROMISED

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York world's fair closed its first year Sunday night with a promise of a "more or less new fair" and bigger attendance in 1965.

The fair lowered its sights, however, on expected profits from the two-year run, dropping its estimate from the original $53,000,000 to approximately $30,000,000.

Some 200,000 persons attended the fair on a bright, sunny and pleasantly cool closing day, but fair officials had hoped for more last-chance visitors. The record day's attendance set on a recent Sunday was more than 293,000. Since the April 22 opening day, 33,000,000 persons have seen the fair.

School 'Monkey War' Fought Again in Tex.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Educators who want the theory of evolution taught in public schools are the victors today in the Texas "monkey war."

The Texas State Textbook Committee has approved spending state money for three biology books which ministers had charged teach "atheistic evolution." Also approved were eight civics texts which had been blasted as left-leaning.

The three biology books that were criticized most strongly were a high school biology series written under National Science Foundation sponsorship. More than 300,000 students across the U.S. already use the books.

The protest against the biology texts was led by members of the Church of Christ. Reuel Lemmons of Austin, Tex., editor of the denomination's newspaper The Firm Foundation, said the three books "would indoctrinate this entire generation of youth toward a godless state."

PRESENTED AS FACT

Other witnesses at the committee's hearing Wednesday said the books presented Darwinian evolution as a fact, not as a theory. The publishers said the books made it clear that evolution has not been proven fact.

The committee's approval does not mean that all Texas schools are going to use the books. The state board of education, which appointed the textbook committee, has the power to remove the books from the committee's approved list.

Double Trouble Faces Two-Name Driving Offender

A pre-sentence report to be prepared for Saturday is expected to clear up the problem of the two-name driving offender.

It has been ordered in the case of James H. Fenner, 1149 Balmoral, who pleaded guilty in police court last Saturday to driving while under suspension.

He was identified by prosecutor Alan Bigelow as the same man who pleaded guilty Oct. 10 to impaired driving—in the name of Cecil G. Tomlinson, 1046 Mason.

So far, Fenner-Tomlinson has not been sentenced on either count. He is expected to be sentenced Saturday after the report clears up his unexplained two-name status.

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

ask Andy
HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is ther- something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to John Meyer, age 11, of Huntsville, Ala., for his question:

Is a Boa Constrictor Poisonous?

The giant boa constrictors are natives of the New World where they coil their huge bodies among the tropical trees of Central and South America. They can and do inflict nasty wounds with their toothy jaws, but no boa snake has venomous fangs. The danger of a large boa lies in the strength of his mighty coils.

In the whole world, there are about 3,000 different snakes and more than 2,400 of them can do no serious damage to a healthy human being. Of the 250 different snakes that enjoy life in North America, 36 have fangs that inject deadly venom with every bite. Our poisonous snakes include copperheads and cottonmouths, coral snakes and an assortment of deadly rattlers. None of these snaky characters are boa constrictors.

We share the western regions of our land with two small boa snakes. The rosy boa is a native of Southern California and his striped body may be three feet long. The dark brown rubber boa is no longer than two feet and he lives as far north as Canada. Like their giant cousins of the steamy jungles south of the border, our little boas capture their prey by striking and constricting their coils. But no boa snake, large or small, has poisonous fangs.

The bite of a boa, however, can deal a nasty wound in the flesh. A snake's jaws are crammed with needle-sharp teeth that slope backward like curved hooks. When a victim is grabbed, these teeth prevent him from escaping and force him in one direction—down the snake's slippery throat. They are useless for chewing and a snake must swallow his food whole.

Suffocates Captive

The boa snake senses his prey with special organs along the sides of his mouth. When ready, he rears up the front third of his body and strikes forward with sudden and deadly aim. He also strikes out when threatened. Though our small boas are shy characters who prefer to avoid trouble, when scared they can and do strike out and deliver ragged flesh wounds. Such snake bites must be treated promptly with antiseptics or they may become infected. But they are not treated with special anti-venom needed to save the life of a person bitten by the fangs of a poisonous snake.

The giant boa constrictor may be 10 to 14 feet long and strong enough to crush a 200-pound jungle cat in his mighty coils. Like all boas, he prefers to subdue his victim before swallowing. First he strikes. Then with rapid speed he flings several coils of his snaky body around his victim. The coils hold like strong steel and as the victim breathes out, they become tighter. The struggling captive is then unable to take in another breath. He suffocates, but his bones are not crushed. When the struggling stops, the boa constrictor uncoils and swallows his dinner, head first.

Andy sends a 15-inch World Book globe to Martha Fowler, age 14, of Newport News, Va., for her question:

Does the Gulf Stream touch our eastern shores?

This great current in the ocean first reaches the tip of Florida. Here it fingers its way among the keys as far as Cape Hatteras and comes very close to the shore. It sweeps northward keeping a few miles between itself and the shore line. Eddies from the mighty stream wash outward toward the land, and through the ages these swirling offsprings of the Gulf Stream have carved patterns in the shore line. Cape Lookout and Cape Fear, Cape Kennedy and Cape Hatteras itself were whittled from the land by eddies from the passing Gulf Stream.

North of Cape Hatteras, the sweeping current begins to leave the shore and turn seaward. Off Newfoundland, where it clashes with the cold Labrador Current from the Arctic, it is many miles from the land. Here it curves eastward and begins its ocean-going journey from the New World to the Old.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

PARIS — Howard Hughes introduced a whole new way of life when he put movies on planes . . . he also gave husbands and wives a new reason for quarreling.

"We're going to make that Paris trip Saturday night," I said to the Beautiful Wife.

"Fine, I'll get my hair done Friday," she said back. "By they way, what's the movie?"

Not "What's the weather?" or "What kind of a plane?" or "What time do we get there?" but "What's the movie?"

I didn't know, naturally, but I knew somebody who knew somebody, so I found out the movie was "Tom Jones."

"But I saw 'Tom Jones'," the B.W. said. "Couldn't we go Sunday?"

I reminded her of the purpose of our trip. We were chaperoning seven Playboy Bunnies from different parts of the U.S. to Cologne to witness the grape and wine harvest.

"The Bunnies are going Saturday night and if we are going to chaperone them, we perhaps should go on the same trip," I said.

"But maybe," I sarcasmed, "we could go to Hong Kong instead of Paris, as they probably have a different picture on that flight. Anyway," I said, "I never saw 'Tom Jones' and I'm going to love this flight."

"You won't even see it if I know you," the B.W. said.

"Of course I'll see it. What do you mean?" I demanded.

Well, here we are in Paris. I suppose I'll catch up with "Tom Jones" some other time. By the time the stewardesses had wined and dined us much too hospitably, I was sound asleep and I slept right through the movie.

The Bunnies are often characters, I've found. One of them is a beauty from Phoenix's Playboy Club, who uses the name "Doris Karloff." Her real name is Doris McKinley but she changed it to Doris Karloff, believing people would remember her with that name. She's right of course.

And that brought to my BW's mind another tale. In the picture, "One, Two, Three," my name was mentioned. There was a line referring to people having titles in America, such as "Nat (King) Cole, Duke Ellington and the Earl of Wilson."

I was never able to see that movie in a movie house. But, wonder of wonders, there came a time when it was being shown on a plane I was on.

Tug Skipper Gets Year For Attack

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP) —Tugboat skipper Ronald Hugh McDonald, 37, was sentenced to one year in jail Friday for an attack on a North Vancouver schoolboy.

Magistrate A. D. Pool said the tugboat captain's own testimony had indicated no feelings of repentence for the serious results of the Aug. 29 attack that left Phillip Pearce, 13, lying in the front yard of his home with his right leg broken in two places.

The boy, his leg still in a cast, testified in court about an attack that followed a name-calling dispute among neighborhood children.

Soviet Arms Chief Killed In Yugoslavia Air Crash

28 Others Die On Mountain

BIRYUZOV
. . . war hero

Biryuzov, the Soviet chief-of-staff, was named deputy defence minister only three months ago by ousted premier Nikita Khrushchev.

He had been considered close to Khrushchev and accompanied him on a trip to Czechoslovakia in July. Killed with him were seven top army officers.

The Yugoslav civil aviation department said the Ilyushin 18, a four-engine turboprop plane, hit Mount Avala 10 miles from Belgrade while flying a delegation here for Yugoslavia's 20th anniversary celebration of its liberation from the Nazis.

PREPARING TO LAND

The plane struck the 1,700-foot high mountain at the 1,312-foot level near the tomb of Yugoslavia's unknown soldier. It was preparing to land.

The seven officers killed with Biryuzov were veterans of the fighting which drove the Nazis out of Belgrade. They were to have been guests of honor, but all performances and festivities were cancelled.

Biryuzov was chief-of-staff of the Soviet armed forces and first deputy minister of defence. He also was a member of the central committee of the Soviet communist party.

Biryuzov was an aide to Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, the Soviet defence minister. But he was top military officer through his post as chief-of-staff of the armed forces. Khrushchev named him head of the strategic rocket forces in 1962.

RADIO CONTACT

The Tanjug News Agency said the IL18 was to have flown over Mount Avala at an altitude of 3,600 feet. It was in regular radio contact with the Belgrade Airport at Surcin but at 11:34 a.m. it disappeared from a radar screen.

Rescue teams, including members of a fire brigade and the Yugoslav people's army and ambulances, rushed to the scene but all were dead.

Biryuzov, a veteran of the Battle of Stalingrad, was named chief-of-staff early last year, replacing Marshal Matvei Kakharov who had held the posts since 1959.

MANY DECORATIONS

Biryuzov was the holder of many decorations, including the Order of Hero of the Soviet Union.

He was one of the Soviet army leaders who rose to heights during the Second World War. He became a lieutenant-general in 1943 and a colonel-general a year later but it was not until March 12, 1955, that be became a marshal.

Biryuzov once boasted that Soviet nuclear power was the

House Urged to Bar Queen 'Sit-Downer'

OTTAWA (CP)—Robert C. Coates (PC—Cumberland) suggested in the Commons today that an MP who failed to rise last Friday when the Commons sang God Save the Queen should be denied access to his seat in the House.

No action was taken on the suggestion in which Mr. Coates implied that Lucien Plourde (Creditiste—Quebec West) violated his oath of allegiance as an MP.

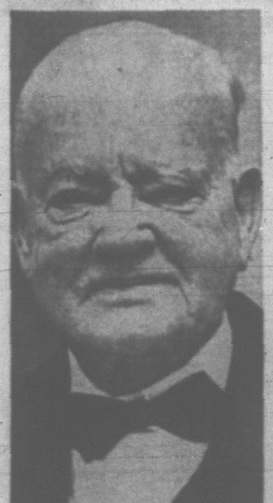
The incident involving Mr. Plourde occurred after the Commons approved a special message of loyalty and devotion to the Queen as a result of her visit to Canada.

He later told reporters "it would have taken O Canada to make me rise in the House." He said his action was not meant to be against the Queen.

Mr. Coates said MPs take an oath to be faithful and bear true allegiance. In standing to sing last Friday, MPs were displaying by their actions their adherence to this oath.

Johnson Urges China to Sign Test Ban Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told congressional leaders today that the United States has made a "good beginning" in relations with the new leaders of Russia and hopes the Kremlin will join in renewed efforts to block any further spread of nuclear weapons.



CLINGING tenaciously to life today is former U.S. president Herbert Hoover, 90. Doctors say Hoover has "slipped nearer to death." They claim the gastro-intestinal bleeding, which started Saturday, has stopped but that the loss of blood has resulted in toxic products in the blood stream.

Johnson stressed both these points Sunday night in a U.S.-wide television appearance in which he also spoke of the possible use by China of "nuclear blackmail" against other countries, now that it has exploded its first test bomb.

He warned, furthermore, that what he calls China's "expensive and demanding effort (to build nuclear weapons) tempts other states to equal folly—nuclear spread is dangerous to all mankind."

"We continue to believe," Johnson said, "that the struggle against nuclear spread is as much in the Soviet interest as in our own. We will be ready to join with them and all the world—in working to avoid it."

SUPPORTS TREATY

At the same time the president announced that Washington will continue to support the limited nuclear test ban treaty which the U.S., Russia, Britain and more than 100 other countries signed last year. France and Communist China did not sign.

"We call on the world—especially Red China—to join the nations which have signed that treaty," Johnson said.

Earlier Sunday, Johnson sent greetings to Russian Premier Alexei Kosygin and said he hoped "our governmets will work constructively in attempting to resolve the urgent international problems facing us."

Of Khrushchev's successors, Johnson said Sunday night they are younger men who may be "less rooted in their past," and they are said "to be realistic."

"We can hope that they will share with us our great objective; the prevention of nuclear war."

Republicans branded it a "no news" speech. GOP national chairman Dean Burch sent telegrams to the three television networks and the Federal Communications Commission, demanding equal broadcast time for Goldwater to reply.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The three major television networks turned down a Republican demand that Barry M. Goldwater be given equal time to answer President Johnson's broadcast on world affairs Sunday night.

Japanese Protesting Fallout

TOKYO (UPI)—Japanese scientists today reported sharp increases in radioactivity over Japan and blamed it on the fallout from Communist China's first atomic bomb test.

The government had announced earlier it planned to file a protest with Peking over last Friday's nuclear explosion. A spokesman disclosed that Chinese premier Chou En-Lai cabled Japanese Premier Hayato Ikeda to seek support for his government's call for a worldwide total ban on nuclear testing.

The spokesman said Chou insisted China was "forced" to develop the atomic bomb but emphasized it was for defensive purposes only.

Ho Hum, Flag Probers Can't Reach Decision

TORONTO (CP) — The Star says in an Ottawa dispatch that members of the special Commons flag committee, with its deadline less than two weeks away, "have all but despaired of producing a unanimous recommendation of a distinctive Canadian flag design."

The dispatch adds that there is even "some question whether it will be able to make a report at all, unanimous or otherwise," by the Oct. 29 deadline set out in its terms of reference.

The committee began closed-door sittings in mid-September and is reported to have examined some 1,200 designs submitted by the public.

The Star says the seven Liberal committee members, as well as representatives of the three minor parties, are understood to have agreed to scrap Prime Minister Pearson's favorite design of three red maple leaves on a white background between two vertical blue bars. But it adds they are united in insisting that the maple leaf be the central motif if the design is to be distinctively Canadian.

The Star says that at least four of the five Progressive Conservatives on the 15-member committee "have made it abundantly clear that they will not accept a design which does not display the Union Jack in a position of prominence."

REPAIR SINO-SOVIET RIFT

New Russian Leaders Reafirm Peace Plea

They asserted they had "boldly cast aside" deposed Premier Nikita Khrushchev because he hampered Russia's progress.

New Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin outlined the new regime's first policy statement at ceremonies welcoming the three cosmonauts who made a 24-hour "space bus" flight last week.

Kosygin said Khrushchev was swept out of power by the "great titanic force" of the Soviet Communist power. He said the party "has always inspired everything new and progressive and boldly cast aside whatever hampers our progress."

The new premier said the Soviets are ready "to make a practical start on disarmament."

"Outer space should not be used for military purposes," he said.

Brezhnev, in his first public appearance since the fall of Nikita Khrushchev, made no threats against the West. He rattled no rockets.

The new Communist party chief, speaking from Khrushchev's old spot atop Lenin's tomb, also refrained from making any attacks on the Chinese Communists. He promised, instead, to work to repair the rift that has embittered relations between Russia and Red China.

Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin appeared at a Red Square rally honoring the three cosmonauts who orbited the earth for 24-hours lats week in the Soviet "space bus" named Sunrise.

COSMIC OCEAN

Kosygin spoke, saying, "May the sixth ocean, the cosmic one, become an arena of international co-operation."

"The Soviet Union," Kosygin said, "will step up its efforts aimed at settlement of disputed international questions through negotiations, the development of mutual understanding and trust between states and economic and cultural co-operation between the peoples on the basis of complete equality and mutual benefit."

Khrushchev was nowhere to be seen during the festivities. While he was still in office last Monday, he had promised the three spacemen a Moscow welcome "greater than the force of gravity."

Brezhnev hailed the space bus flight as "remarkable." He said the cosmonauts landed on the ground as easily as if they had been in a conventional passenger plane.

Strike By Plumbers

DOCK STRIKE THREATENED

LONDON (CP) — Britain's new Labor government today faced the threat of a dock strike within a week of gaining power.

Longshoremen at two of London's busiest docks — Tilbury and the Royal Albert — voted to stage a token walkout Thursday for more pay and issued a call for support to all of Britain's 65,000 dockers.

Wilson In Fight Over Steel

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson, hamstrung by the narrowest of parliamentary majorities, must decide soon whether to risk the life of his government by pressing ahead with the controversial nationalization of steel.

The decision could set the whole tone of his administration.

Experts said, if Wilson goes ahead with nationalization, it would mean he will follow a bold course of action and reform. If he decides against nationalization, they said, it would signify a cool and cautious course aimed at protecting his Labor Party's four-seat majority in the 630-seat House of Commons.

The nine Liberal party members of Parliament were expected to help the Labor Party on most issues, but have said they will vote against any move to nationalize steel.

Steel nationalization would be a dramatic start of the "first 100 days" which Wilson has promised would "get this country moving again." But many political observers here said Wilson's narrow majority —and the fact that his party won only 44 per cent of the popular vote in last Thursday's election, gave him no mandate for such a move.

OWN PARTY SPLIT

The Labor Party government of 1945-51 nationalized Britain's powerful steel industry—traditionally a red flag to staunch socialists. The Conservative party government that followed it denationalized all but one steel firm. The Labor platform during the recent campaign rested firmly on a re-nationalization pledge.

Wilson, who has promised a "great reforming administration," was under cross pressures within his own party today. Many members wanted him to cement his power by shunning further nationalization. But such a course could stir a revolt by the Labor Party's strong left-wing.

U.K. Pledges To Back U.S.

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson's new Labor Party government informed the United States officially today it is anxious "to maintain the Anglo-American alliance."

Tax Cuts Urged On Ottawa

TORONTO (CP) — Saskatchewan Premier W. Ross Thatcher said today he will urge Finance Minister Gordon to consider major tax cuts in the next budget.

Speaking to the Canadian Club in Toronto, as part of his current drive to boost Saskatchewan's industrial development, he said the resurgence in the United States' economy since the major cut in taxes a short time ago warrants immediate consideration for tax cuts in Canada, particularly at the federal level.

He said: "In Canada, we are still tied to an antiquated tax system that grew up under conditions of depression or war.

"We seem to think that when we are confronted with problems, the first step is to raise taxes to give the government more money for pump priming.

"Surely, a more effective solution would be to create the economic climate that will encourage growth development and research, which in turn will result in greater productivity, employment, wages and profit."

He also said there is another threat to Confederation almost potentially as dangerous as separatism.

"At one Dominion-Provincial conference after another, the provinces faced with increasing costs are making even greater financial demands on Ottawa," he said. "And year by year, the federal authorities, for the sake of national unity, have been forced to give ground."

Surely the steady erosion of federal taxing powers must cause concern to all Canadians, he said. He added that in Saskatchewan they feel very strongly that the federal government has a job to do in ensuring stable economic growth.

LONDON (Reuters)—Millions of pounds sterling melted away from the market values of British companies today as the stock market reacted sharply to the new Labor government of Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

Share prices tumbled across the board.

SCRAPPY KOREAN REFUSED TO SURRENDER

Choh Said No, and Olympics 'Sit-In' Began

TOKYO (CP)—The Olympic boxing program had barely got under way tonight when it was halted by the stubborn refusal of a South Korean boxer to leave the ring after being disqualified.

Flyweight Choh Dong-kih waged his one-man strike for 50 minutes before two Korean boxing officials dragged him from the ring and the program went on.

Choh was disqualified by Australian referee Archie Tanner. Seconds after the bout started, Tanner warned Choh for persistently holding his head too low. Then he issued another warning, and with the round only 1:06 minutes old, disqualified Choh and awarded the verdict to his opponent, Stanislav Sorokin of Russia.

Said Tanner: "I stopped the fight because he refused to stop boxing every time I asked him to do so."

The Korean returned to his corner, sat on the blue - cushioned stool and refused to stand when the winner's hand was raised.

"The Russian was holding," said Fleischer, "and the Korean was trying to get away from him when he was cautioned by the referee for holding. The referee said 'break' but the Korean couldn't because the Russian was holding him. As far as I am concerned Sorokin was the guilty man and should have been disqualified."

"Choh will not leave the ring until that is granted,' 'said the coach.

After 50 minutes, Korean team officials entered the ring to try to persuade Choh to leave. Choh threw his stool into the middle of the ring and followed with his towel and sweater.

Finally two Koreans restrained him and escorted him from the ring.

The public address announcer read the Korean boxing federation's apologies for the long delay, announcing in Japanese and English that a formal protest had been lodged by Korea, which would be considered by the executive of the International Amateur Boxing Association Tuesday.

Then another flyweight quarter-final proceeded.

B.C. HOPES DAMPENED ON U.K. LUMBER SALES

VANCOUVER (CP)—A group of British home builders has dampened British Columbia hopes for a larger share of the United Kingdom market, now dominated by Russia and Finland.

The 25 builders and housing experts, in Canada for two weeks to study timber frame construction methods, indicated at a press conference that the Russians and Finns, biggest lumber suppliers to Britain, have taken a leaf from the Canadian promotion handbook.

They said timber trade missions have been wined and dined in Finland and that British building officials have been shown Russian methods.

Bruce P. Beckett, British housing official, said the Russians and Finns have their tenacious hold on the British market because they are the traditional suppliers. He said Russia offers large shipments of odd-sized lumber.

Steel Cost Hike Rumored in U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Talk of a possible steel price increase mounted in the United States this week.

In some quarters the discussion centred on when—before or after election—not if an increase will come.

Meanwhile, the General Motors strike droned into the fourth week with its effects beginning to spread to other industries.

The steel price-increase talk was spurred by a statement by Logan T. Johnson, president of Armco Steel Corp., that a need for a price increase exists.

He told a press conference even before the added cost of any new labor settlement "we have quite a few steel products on which our margin of profit isn't as good as it should be."

He mentioned some grades of plate, sheet and tar products. Products needing price increases cover more than half of Armco's line, he added.

Earlier, top executives of U.S. Steel Corp., Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Inland Steel Co. had expressed dissatisfaction with profit margins.

Prices of steel reinforcing bars were raised by four major producers, U.S. Steel, Armco, Inland and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. Bars account for about four per cent of over - all steel product shipments.

Crucible Steel Co. boosted by five to 10 per cent the price of certain special steels sold to farm equipment manufacturers for use in plows and harrows.

Some major producers raised the price of zinc one cent a pound to 14½ cents a pound. They included American Metal Climax, Inc., National Zinc Co. and U.S. Smelting, Refining and Mining Co.

This was the second boost in a year and the fifth in two years.

PRODUCTION UP

Steel production, already up to a 16-month high, posted a slight increase last week, totalling 2,371,000 tons against 2,563,000 the previous week.

Some GM dealers exhausted their supply of 1965 models and were laying off employees. Others laid off included railroad workers on trains carrying autos and parts, auto carrier firms, food operations which service GM plants and the like.

Lesage Gets Loan From U.S. Market

QUEBEC (CP)—Premier Lesage said Friday that approval through order-in-council has been given Hydro-Quebec to contract for a loan of $50,000,000 on the United States market.

The long-term loan of 25 years is at 4¾ per cent.

Mr. Lesage said he negotiated the loan which will serve to meet the capital needs of Hydro-Quebec and that he could not obtain better conditions on the Canadian market.

NEW OFFER BY THOMSON

LONDON (UPI) — The struggle by Canadian-born Lord Thomson for control of Scotland's oldest daily newspaper, The Glasgow Herald, moved into a new phase today when the press peer added nearly $2.8 million to his most recent offer to stockholders.

He was fighting off the latest bid to keep control of the newspaper in Scottish hands launched by millionaire Sir Hugh Fraser among whose interests include the famed Harrods departmental stores. The publishing firm owning the newspaper, George Outram and Co. has been working closely with Fraser.

Thomson's bid was worth $23.24 million in immediate cash terms compared with his original bid of about $14.56 million which sparked off the fight with Fraser.

Hydro Calls For Tenders On Arrow Dam

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority has called tenders for construction of Arrow Dam, second project under the Columbia River treaty.

A Hydro announcement said bids would be opened Jan. 12 and a contract awarded after study by Hydro engineers.

Under Columbia treaty terms with the United States, the high Arrow Dam must be completed by April 1, 1968.

The earth-fill and concrete dam, to be 170-feet high and 2,850 across, is the second of three to be built under the treaty.

Hydro has estimated total cost of the Arrow project will reach $130,000,000.

A contract for Duncan Dam, first of the three, has already been let to a consortium of Mannix Ltd. of Calgary, Standard General Construction International Ltd., also of Calgary, and Emil Anderson of Vancouver.

COMPLETE BY 1968

The group's low bid was $15,899,857 and the dam must also be completed by April 1, 1968.

High Arrow will be located five miles west of Castlegar in the Kootenay region and flood a reservoir extending 145 miles north to Revelstoke.

Gold Price Rises

NEW YORK (AP)—The price of gold has been rising again on the London market after a long levelling period and the U.S. government is taking steps to stave off any attempt of other nations to drain American gold reserves further.

During August when the price of gold was holding steady in London, the U.S. exchange stabilization fund added $28,000,000 to its gold holdings. And the treasury reserves (which don't include the fund's holdings) held almost unchanged.

In September the price of gold rose 3½ cents an ounce in London, where it can be bought and sold on the market. Recently the price climbed to $35.1125 U.S. an ounce. The official price at the U.S. treasury is $35 an ounce, with purchasers required to pay around eight cents more for handling charges.

The London free market is important because if the price mounts high enough to cover buying charges and shipping costs, the temptation rises for foreign central banks to cash in their American dollars for U.S. treasury gold. This happened in October, 1960, when the price of gold rose to $40 an ounce and U.S. reserves dropped sharply.

CAN BUY GOLD

Foreign central banks are permitted to buy gold from the U.S. treasury. American business concerns also can buy gold from the treasury for commercial and art purposes, but American citizens can't on their own.

On Sept. 25 the official treasury gold reserve was $15,460,841,203, compared with $15,583,057,607 the same date in 1963.

The success of the U.S. monetary authorities in protecting the treasury's official gold reserves, although the holdings of American dollars by other nations has been advancing, is due to a number of things.

One is the club of 10 of the principal financial nations, working together to prevent runs on members' currencies or reserves. This has held drains and fluctuations to a minimum.

Another is the workings of the International Monetary Fund. And it is this source of help which the United States is tapping again.

GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Grain prices generally moved in a narrow range in dull trading today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. There were indications some traders were still on the sidelines waiting political developments on the international scene.

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures were steady to firm in quiet trading late today on the Board of Trade.

Wheat futures were up about a cent a bushel most of the session but volume was light. Support was attracted to the bread grain as a result of a government decision to suspend sales of spring wheat for unrestricted domestic use from commodity credit corporation stocks.

Decline at London

With the investment outlook obscure, London stock markets were again extremely sensitive today and a steady trickle of small sales brought a general decline in prices.

AT LONDON the big investors and institution were not active and were inclined to wait to see how the new Labor government will deal with the economic situation.

Equities were the chief sufferers and the stocks threatened with nationalization were particularly affected.

Some steels declined more than 2s. Engineering shares weakened under the lead of tube investments and electricals were generally lower.

Banks, insurances and properties all lost ground.

In Canadian issues useful gains were recorded in Aluminium, BA Oil, Imperial Oil, Triad, Steep Rock and Massey-Ferguson. On the other hand losses were recorded in Consolidated Paper, Dome Petroleum, Nickels, Trans-Canada Pipe and Westcoast Transmission.

AT NEW YORK the stock market closed higher today with steels up and big three motors off. Trading was fairly active.

Anaconda gained 2 points and Kennecott held a gain of a point or so.

U.S. Steel and other major steelmakers held fractional gains.

Xerox was a soft spot, losing about 4. IBM slipped 3. Polaroid was a 3-point gainer.

Parke, Davis, Boeing and United Air Lines were up a point or so.

AT TORONTO most industrial gains were shy of ½-point. Chemcell, Burns and CPR each gained ⅜, while Algoma Steel, Bell Telephone, B.C. Telephone, Calgary Power and Dominion Electrohome each advanced ¼.

Brazilian Traction advanced 10 cents to $4.40 after touching a high of $4.50 in heavy trading.

Abitibi, Aluminium, Dominion Bridge and Argus Corp. each rose ⅛.

AT MONTREAL stocks climbed still higher in moderate trade today. Speculative mines were lower.

Utilities were higher. Bell and CPR gained ⅜ each.

Industrials also agined ground. CIL was up ¼.

Among senior oils Imperial added ½.

Trade and finance issues were firmer. Shop and Save picked up ¼.

AT VANCOUVER trading was moderate. Bethlehem Copper was up at $8 and Copper Ridge at .96. Copper Soo dropped to .30 and Van Metal to .38. Western Mines climbed to $4.80 and New Imperial to $1.47. Utica was up at $1.96 and McKinney Gold at .19½.

DOMCO Reports Operating Loss

MONTREAL (CP)—Dominion Coal Company, Ltd., and its subsidiaries operated at a loss of $1,297,076 for the year ended July 31, 1964, compared with a net income of $1,141,044 during the previous year, the company's annual report released Friday revealed.

Production of coal for the year amounted to 3,068,831 net tons as against 3,308,242 tons in 1963.

The company said the drop in production and in increase in production costs were the main factors contributing to the deficit.

"MUTT AND JEFF" paint rollers were pressed into service today as these workmen began repainting the Mc and Mc Building at Government and Pandora. Long-handled roller, along with the shorter model for close-in work, really speeded the job outside as other workmen continued renovating the interior into a block of individual stores and offices and a government liquor outlet. Rollers spread a beige-colored coat over the grey stucco surface, to complement the civic square color plan across the street.

BNA 'Homecoming' In Spring: Bonner

Canada should win control of its own constitution next spring, Attorney-General Robert Bonner predicted today.

He said he expects Canada's parliament will submit a bill to Britain's parliament by spring which would bring about the "repatriation."

The result will be that Canada can amend the constitution without approval from the British parliament.

A draft of the bill was approved at conferences attended by Mr. Bonner and Premier W. A. C. Bennett in Ottawa last week.

"I think it is the best possible agreement that can be reached," Mr. Bonner said.

SENATE EXPANSION

The only worry that B.C. has, he said, is restriction of membership in the Senate.

However, Mr. Bonner said he believes there is sufficient flexibility in the draft bill to ensure what he called "the evolution of Canadian government."

Mr. Bonner said some provinces want to get a resolution from their Legislature formally approving the bill, but he does not anticipate any opposition.

B.C. has not decided about a resolution, he said, but he expects the issue to be debated at the legislative session which starts Jan. 21.

Mr. Bonner said he doubts there will be any opposition in either the Canadian or British Parliaments.

UNITED FUND WORKERS 41.9% DONE

Victoria United Appeal campaign neared the halfway mark today as canvassers started on the last leg of their bid to raise $410,000.

By noon the figure was 172,028 — 41.9 per cent of the final goal.

Latest group to receive an Award of Excellence from the campaign is the Victorian Order of Nurses.

SEA WATER INFILTRATES NAVY MAINS

An investigation began today to discover how salt water entered the Dockyard's water supply which serves about 3,000 residents.

Officials said none of the consumers had been affected by the sea water.

The fresh water supply was checked and flushed out over the weekend when it was discovered Friday sea water had penetrated it.

All pipes and pumps used to provide fresh water to facilities and ships of HMC Dockyard were flushed and cleaned by this morning when final steps were taken to return the water supply system to normal.

Fugitive Drives In Style

A Regina man is believed fleeing across the United States in an expensive sports car from lawmen armed with several warrants — one of them issued in Saanich.

Sought is Reginald Howard, 24, who has apparently been cleared by an autopsy of a direct connection in the death of a Regina woman found in a Saanich trailer abandoned in Burnaby.

THEFT CHARGE

Saanich police issued the trailer theft warrant.

The false pretences charges were laid in Regina, and the other warrant was issued by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the United States.

Mrs. Swanson and Howard stayed at a motel here on September 15.

After the trailer lay on the motel grounds for four weeks, the owner contacted the Burnaby RCMP.

They called Tolmie Home Service co-owner Gerry Coad to Burnaby to pick up the trailer, and he discovered Mrs. Swanson's body when he tried to take the trailer aawy.

From Burnaby, Howard apparently went south.

TRADED U-DRIVE

ARMED

Police say he is armed.

RCMP said the woman's body was deteriorated to such a point that they could discover no signs of violence.

It had been suggested she might have died as the result of an illegal abortion.

RCMP say there may have been "contributing factors" to the pneumonia death indicated by the autopsy, and Howard is wanted for questioning in that connection.

Bullets Hit Youth's Car; Courtenay Driver Charged

By DON DINGWALL

Three teen-agers escaped death by inches Sunday when a bullet ripped into the dashboard of their car during a 60-mile-an-hour chase down the Trans-Canada Highway.

This is the story Palynchuk told the Times shortly after the incident:

HIT DASHBOARD

"I didn' see any reason to let him pass but the next second my dashboard splintered in front of me.

"At first we thought something had gone wrong with the engine but then realized it was a bullet.

"I didn't think it could be happening. . .

"I pulled off the road and the truck pulled in behind us. I got out to see what had happened.

SECOND SHOT

"But when a man got out of the truck and aimed a rifle right at me from 50 feet, I didn't wait around.

"He fired a second shot which hit the car but then we made for Duncan as fast as we could.

'THROUGH HEADS'

TRIAL MONDAY

The trial was set by Magistrate D. K. McAdam for next Monday afternoon at Chemainus.

Bullivant pleaded guilty to a second charge of having possession of an offensive weapon. Sentence was deferred until next week.

Lum Draws Forum Post Position

First speaker at an all-candidates election forum Tuesday night, will be Ed Lum, one of three candidates for the reeveship in the Saanich byelection Saturday.

It will start at 8 p.m. in Mount View High School auditorium, 3814 Carey Road. It will be the first public forum to be sponsored by the Junior Chamber since the 1960 provincial election.

Candidates for the reeveship will be allowed 10 minutes each, with Hugh Curtis speaking second and Lewis Haut, third.

Moving Fever On Rise At City Hall

The week's schedule for aldermen posted this morning set 3 p.m. Tuesday for the meeting in the old Bastion Square Courthouse which became the temporary civic headquarters in September, 1963.

While aldermen hold this meeting in the third-floor chamber that used to serve as a courtroom, workmen will be moving various departmental files out of the floors below to the redeveloped City Hall.

Next council meeting will be held in the new, carpeted and teak-panelled chamber in the new civic building.

CLOSED FRIDAY

Meanwhile, all City Hall offices will be closed Friday for the moving of staff and large pieces of equipment from Bastion Square to the Douglas Street building.

An inspection of the new wing indicated that it won't be completely finished by Friday but city manager Dennis Young said the move will be carried out as planned.

83-Year-Old Pedestrian Injured As Learner Loses Control of Car

Mrs. Laura Scott, Glenshield Hotel, was detained at Royal Jubilee Hospital where she is reported in fairly good condition.

City police said Mrs. Scott was walking on the Quadra Street sidewalk just north of McClure. A car driven by Mrs. Cecilia Morrison, 1241 Haultain, went out of control and mounted the curb hitting Mrs. Scott.

Mrs. Morrison, a learner-driver, was accompanied by a licenced driver. Mrs. Scott received leg and ankle injuries.

Council Sets 'Big Think' On Tourism

A new drive to improve B.C.'s tourist business will be launched here Wednesday.

Members of government and industry will hold a two-day meeting to thresh out problems and try to come up with new ideas to promote business.

It will be the first conference of a new group called the Provincial Tourist Advisory Council.

Recreation Minister Kenneth Kiernan said the council will advise the government's travel bureau on policy.

The council is composed of 20 representatives from nine regions of the province, 10 spokesmen from the tourist industry generally and government officials.

THREE FOR V.I.

Vancouver Island has three representatives: Alan Maclean, director of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau; Oak Bay Coun. Fred W. Hawes, and D. C. Corbett, Campbell River.

Wednesday there will be a closed "beef session" and election of a council chairman.

Thursday there will be open meetings, panel discussions, a luncheon addressed by Deputy Recreation Minister D. B. Turner and a speech by Recreation Minister Kiernan at a banquet.

The conference will be at the Empress Hotel.

New Phone Books Delivered Late Next Month

New telephone books will be delivered to subscribers late next month, B.C. Telephone district manager Alan Higinbotham said today.

The books will come out two months later than last year.

The reason, he said, was that production schedules for all phone books were being put on an annual basis and late November was the assigned time for Greater Victoria.

Effective date for change of some numbers has been set for Dec. 6 and he said it would be a good idea not to use the directory before then.

The new book won't be much bigger than the present one but there will be "quite a few" new numbers due to the new exchange at Cordova Bay and installation of automatic dialilng in the Gulf Islands.

Five Charges Laid After Wild Chase

The driver was first spotted on the parking lot at Mayfair Shopping Plaza. He was later seen by police who gave chase along Hillside.

Police said the driver ran red lights at Rose and Quadra and went through two stop signs. He was clocked between 80 and 90 on Hillside and then later at between 90 and 100 mph.

TWO CHARGES

In court this morning, Kenneth Henderson, 250 Douglas, was charged with two counts of dangerous driving by Saanich police. City police laid a charge of criminal negligence against him.

Henderson is also charged with being a minor in unlawful possession of liquor and with speeding over 15 mph on the parking lot at Town and Country Shopping Plaza.

He was remanded to Thursday for plea and election on the charges.

Topics of the Day

Saanich firemen said a cigarette butt probably started the blaze in the back seat. Mr. Good was at 921 Cowper helping to clean up after a recent fire at that address.

Stephen Howe, 1310 Clayton Road, Sidney, was remanded for sentence to Oct. 27 when he pleaded guilty in city court today to impaired driving.

Evidence was that he told police he had drank three bottles of beer half-an-hour earlier. A Breathalyzer test showed he had a blood alcohol count of .24 per cent.

Two Oak By burglaries within a few blocks Friday night netted the prowlers a total of $2.50.

Entered were the homes of H. D. Lawson, 2001 Lansdowne, and W. B. Lang, 3278 Henderson.

The Lang home was partly ransacked, but nothing was taken. A bedroom and study at the Dawson home were rifled and yielded $2.50 in coins.

Colored slides of Yugoslavia will be shown by Mrs. Norma MacDonald in the second of a series to be seen this year in the Georgia Room of the Empress Hotel. Slides will be shown at 6:30 and 8:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Work began this morning to rebuild the fire-damaged McDonald's Furniture block at the corner of Pandora and Broad Streets.

A crane began lifting materials for reconstruction of the roof and third floor that were destroyed in the July blaze that also destroyed the working stock of Goodwill Enterprises which rented storage space in the building.

A 4½-month-old baby who died Friday was accidentally suffocated in a blanket, a coroner's inquiry has found. Coroner Edmond Jorre de St. Jorre made the finding after looking into the death of John Wood, 1168 Oscar Street.

Ask The Times

Q. Has Thanksgiving ever been held on a Sunday? I understand we hold it on the second Monday in October. Is it always held on a Monday? R.D.J.

A. Thanksgiving Day, an annual statutory holiday in Canada, was first proclaimed in 1879 when it was observed Nov. 6.

Both later and earlier dates were tried in subsequent years. For many years preceding the end of the First World War, it was on the third Monday in October.

After the war it was proclaimed for the Monday of the week in which Armistice Day occurred and then, in 1921, Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day were merged; until 1931 both were observed on Monday of the week in which Nov. 11 occurred.

In 1931, the two days were made separate holidays again (Armistice Day was changed to Remembrance Day) and since then Thanksgiving Day has been proclaimed annually for a Monday—usually the second—in October.

Disney Makes Bid for City Author's Story

Walt Disney, the master creator of animal films, has made a bid for a nature story by a Victoria author.

The story he wants is The Wise One—the tale of a big black beaver written by 71-year-old Frank Conibear of 1177 Fort Street and already published in four countries.

Lean, grey-haired Mr. Conibear today confirmed that a Walt Disney agent has made him an offer for the story—for use either as a TV feature or a full-length movie production.

"The contract is still in the negotiation stage," he said. "I have been offered a certain sum to have the book produced on TV plus a larger sum if it is made into a theatre film.

"I cannot say yet what the outcome will be, but I am, of course, very happy over the recognition."

HUMANE TRAP

Mr. Conibear is also famed for his humane trap for fur-bearing animals, now widely used in Canada, the United States and other countries.

His book, The Wise One, was written in 1948 and has since been published in England, Canada, the United States and Germany. It has sold well in all four countries.

"The German translation, a soft-covered book, seems to be doing very well," Mr. Conibear said. "It was translated by a Swiss firm."

The story is presented as the biography of a black beaver, but the actual narrator is Mr. Conibear himself, and is drawn from his long experience as a trapper near Great Slave Lake.

He invests the beaver with almost human interest as he tells of its courtship and marrage, and the building of lodges that grew constantly larger as the family grows.

The narrative is set in a background of Northern forests, rivers and lakes, and the long winters and resurgent springs are graphically pictured.

CUNNING

The beaver hero is unusual in color, and the size and glossiness of his skin make him the prey of Indian hunters whom he eludes with persistent cunning.

"If there is a better animal story than this in Canadian literature I have yet to find it," one reviewer wrote.

A former president of the Victoria branch, Canadian Authors' Association, Mr. Conibear has written other successful books on animal life.

At 15 he started trapping in the Canadian Northwest Territories and continued for a number of years. It was from this experience that he developed his humane trap.

The trap is made of wire which slams shut on the neck or chest of an animal, causing instant death.

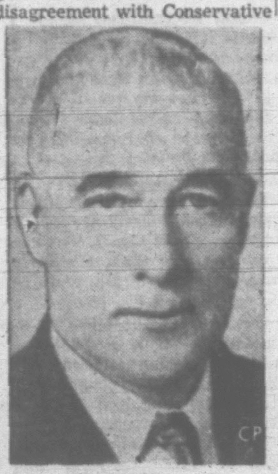
NEW U.K. CABINET

Former Tory Foe Returned to UN

LONDON (CP) — A British diplomat who resigned as a delegate to the United Nations in disagreement with Conservative government policy Sunday was named as Britain's permanent UN representative under the new Labor government.



FOOT

Sir Hugh Foot, 57, was appointed minister of state for foreign affairs by Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who spent the day at his office in 10 Downing Street interviewing prospective office holders.

Foot, former Governor of Cyprus, was serving as British representative at the UN in 1962 when he resigned in protest over the Conservative policy on Southern Rhodesia. He said it could not be defended against attacks by African and Asian nations.

In his new post he will join the government as a minister of cabinet rank. Wilson intends to make him a life peer to avoid finding him a seat in Parliament through a byelection.

Foot's brother, Dingle, 59, a leading barrister who has specialized in defending African and Asian nationals, also joined the government. He will be solicitor-general, the government's No. 2 law officer.

WOMAN NAMED

Margaret Herdison, 57, a former Glasgow school teacher, was appointed minister of pensions and national insurance. She is the second woman of cabinet rank in the Labor administration.

Charles Pannell, 62, who has specialized in organizing plans for modernization of the Houses of Parliament, was named minister of public buildings and works.

Kenneth Robinson, 53, former insurance agent and party spokesman on health during its years in opposition, was named minister of health to administer Britain's socialized medicine system.

Sunday's list was the third to be issued since the Labor party won power from Sir Alec Douglas-Home's Conservatives in Thursday's general election.

Both Sides In Satellite Spy Game?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defence experts said today they are sure Russian Cosmos satellites are being used to spy on the United States.

The Soviet Union last Wednesday launched the 48th in a series of Cosmoc satellites which the Russians describe as unmanned, scientific spacecraft probing radiation belts and other phenomena.

The Russians have been sending Cosmos satellites aloft since March, 1962. Some still are in orbit, following paths that take them over the United States at altitudes ranging from about 120 miles to nearly 300 miles.

U.S. reconnaissance satellites —about which the air force and defence department are silent — are believed to operate at some 300 miles altitude while passing over Russian and Chinese territory.

Information from these U.S. Samos reconnaissance satellites may have played a part in alerting the United States weeks ago to the iminence of Red China's first atomic test blast, which occurred last Friday.

Space agency officials say the United States knows little about Cosmos hardware — the rocket that launches it, the satellite itself or its equipment.

'Sack Sir Alec' Move Hinted in U.K.

LONDON (UPI) — Newspapers from both sides of the political fence said today former prime minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home's position as head of the Conservative party was shaky.

The Conservative Express said a "sack Sir Alec" movement had begun at the weekend, even as he was moving out of No. 10 Downing Street.

But, the newspaper said, the action had no support as yet from former ministers in his cabinet.

The Express said only Reginald Maudling, former chancellor of the exchequer, was being mentioned as a possible successor.

The Daily Mirror, which supports Labor, also said a movement was under way to find a new Conservative leader. It said a number of leading Conservatives agreed with former Tory member of Parliament Gerald Nabarro.

Nabarro wrote in The Sunday News of the World that the Conservatives could win the next election only if "they drastically reform their top leadership."

Intimidation Chinese Goal

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — Industrially weak and 20 years late, China could not overtake the United States as a nuclear power for many years. Why, then, did it explode an atom bomb?

There are two answers, one military, the other political.

Lacking long-range missiles or other delivery capabilities, the apparent military aim of the fledgling Chinese nuclear program is to develop tactical atomic weapons to beef up already powerful conventionally-armed ground forces.

Their purpose: To deter the United States from moving troops into South Viet Nam or Laos, or into any other regional conflicts in which Peking is directly or indirectly involved.

Secret Chinese army bulletins released by the U.S. reveal that three years ago the Chinese high command looked forward to the use of tactical nuclear weapons but made no references to strategic weapons, whose usefulness would depend on missiles or aircraft.

A study of the secret Chinese papers suggests that Peking is fully aware of the dangers involved in atomic weapons and, despite its public stance of recklessness and billigerence, is not likely to embark on nuclear adventures.

OFFERED ASSURANCE

President Johnson immediately assured Asian nations that the U.S. would come to their assistance if they were menaced by China. But India and other nations may reason that it would be more prudent to reach an agreement with Peking now than to rely on American retaliation that might come too late.

The Chinese also presumably hope through this display of power to influence the underdeveloped nations of Asia, Africa and South America they are courting. So far, there has been no cascade of congratulatory messages from any of these countries, most of which have signed the nuclear test ban treaty.

If China hoped to win converts to its policies in neighboring Japan, it has been disillusioned by a socialist delegation that attacked the test publicly in Peking Saturday.

Tomomi Narita, secretary-general of the Japanese Socialist Party, said at a banquet in the Chinese capital:

"Our anti-bomb movement is making great efforts to oppose nuclear tests by any country and is supported in its earnest desire for peace by the Japanese people, the only nation to suffer an atom bombing.

"Today, before the banquet, we expressed our opposition to the test and at the risk of being impolite, we repeat our opposition now."

DEAR ABBY . . .

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if a woman with a tainted reputation moved into your neighborhood and decided to make you her bosom buddy just because your son and hers became playmates? She's never done me any harm, but everyone keeps warning me not to have anything to do with her because she seems to attract men—married and single—without even trying. My husband is no dream boat or woman chaser, but I'd die if he ever got interested in another woman. With these friendly warnings I have my fears, even though I trust my husband and I like the woman. She seems lonely and I'd gladly give her my friendship if it isn't my husband she's after. What should I do?

PUZZLED.

DEAR PUZZLED: If the woman has never done you any harm and you like her, I say nuts to the "friendly warnings." They sound like so much cat meowing. You can't go through life suspecting every attractive woman of trying to steal your husband.

DEAR ABBY: In answer to Cold Tomato, we in the restaurant business place our customers' comfort above all else. We set the temperature to 72 degrees at the peak hours. This is what the engineers say should be a comfortable average. I have been summoned to a customer's table to hear the complaint that it is "freezing." And in less than five minutes someone in the same dining room will ask me why our air-conditioning is not working. When this happens, I walk to the controls, which are in evidence to all, move my hand over them, change nothing, and in 10 minutes, everybody is happy.

"SOME LIKE IT HOT
IN WHEELING, W.VA.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young mother expecting her second child. I nursed my first and I intend to nurse this one, too. My problem: Mealtime in public. I see nothing wrong with nursing my baby in public, but it seems to be a source of embarrassment for many people. Although I am by nature a very modest person, I just can't work up any feeling of shame about this. I have tried going into public rest rooms, but I am not very happy in there all alone. If I don't nurse this second baby I will feel that I am cheating him. What do you suggest?

DEAR EXPECTING: I suggest that you nurse your baby in private. While there is nothing to be "ashamed" of, you are unwise to make yourself conspicuous in public and embarrass others, as well as your relatives and friends.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NOT WELL": No one said it better than Ella Wheeler Wilcox in her poem "Optimism" and I quote:

"Talk health. The dreary, never-ending tale
Of mortal maladies is worn and stale;
You cannot charm or interest or please
By harping on that minor chord, disease.
Say you are well, or all is well with you,
And God shall hear your words and make them true."

Give yourself something to dance about and win more than your share of compliments. This is the dress for flouncing, swishing and flirting. The story begins with a rustle of circular ruffle that ripples down the front and circles 'round the lower edge of the dress. It really makes you feel saucy when walking. This deep curved heart-shape neckline is a challenge to you and your bra! This sleeveless sheath dress has a smooth waist that slims into an empire line. It was originally in black crepe, but chiffon velvet is rich. Also charming in shantung, peau de soie, satin, cottons, linens and sheer wool, all of them plain or printed. Spadea's exclusive ready-to-wear sizes produce a better fit. See chart for size best for you.

Is Ugly Lint on Suits Your Problem, Men?

By PENNY SAVER

Penny absolutely shudders every time she sees a man wearing a suit or sports jacket which is literally ruined by ugly hair or lint. To offset these hysterical vibrations, Penny went in search of a solution to the problem.

Store I was in has a new idea for removing unsightly lint. It is a roller covered with masking tape. The tape catches dust, pet hairs and dandruff and is wonderful for bits of fuzz on sweaters or other woollen articles.

Not only does it remove lint, but also renews suede, velvet, cord, cotton and felt to their original pile. When the cleaner's surface gets clogged, tear along the perforated line and you have another cleaning surface ready to use. A roller contains 240 square feet of tape and it sells for $1.

To complement the tapered style of suits men are wearing this year, slim ties are still topping the popularity poll.

Tie I found is of polyester fibre and is completely washable—no dry-cleaning necessary. In fact, this store guarantees that after laundering, this tie will look as good or better than it did when new. It requires no ironing. Simply run your fingers down the length of the tie while it is still damp and pressing is complete.

The synthetic it is made of gives the tie a natural, silky look and it comes in numerous patterns and colors. Ties range in price from $2 to $3.

These products will be a great addition to any man's wardrobe. It's a good gift idea, too. If you want to know where to get them, give Penny a call at 382-3131 and she'll tell you.

Parents Have A Champion In New York Psychologist

"Don't blame the parents for their children's misdemeanors," she says. "It takes two to tangle."

Miss Goodman explains that when a child misbehaves you have an explosion coming from an interpersonal relationship between child and parent.

"I can't see this automatically blaming the parent. Every parent does his best by his children. Some are not cut out to do so well. The reason some don't do better is because they don't know how."

Miss Goodman, a consultant at Roosevelt Hospital in New York, taught a summer school course at the University of British Columbia in psychology of childhood.

She says there are two main problems with teen-agers: their growing sense of independence and their lack of moderation. But she advises against worrying about the kooky kid — the Beatle screamer, the way-out dresser—worry about the quiet ones.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It's Time to Lose Pounds

Here it is almost the end of October! We've just enjoyed the Thanksgiving holiday. If you are even a few pounds overweight, why not lose them?

Those of us who gain weight very rapidly are almost certain to pick up a few pounds with each fiesta season. Unless we lose them promptly they accumulate surprisingly.

Lowman

This week I am bringing you my Trick and Treat Diet which gives you a loss of about five pounds in seven days.

Here are the menus for tomorrow.

MENUS FOR TUESDAY

BREAKFAST

Six ounces orange juice, one poached egg on toast (one tablespoonful of chili sauce on egg or sprinkling of grated cheese), coffee with one teaspoonful sugar.

LUNCHEON

Toasted cheese sandwich (two thin slices of bread and a thin slice of American cheese—the equivalent of two heaping tablespoons of the same), one eight-ounce glass skim milk, one-half cup cole slaw.

DINNER

One cup consomme (canned), four ounces of lean beef (broiled), sliced tomato, one baked potato, seasoned with onion salt and parsley, two small pieces of hard candy.

Notice a few of the tricks used here! There is onion salt and parsley on the baked potato, instead of butter, and a little chili or cheese on the egg. You are allowed a teaspoonful of sugar in your coffee. The sugar gives you only about 15 calories.

If you missed yesterday's menus or would like to have the complete diet in booklet form, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

There's more to country in the fall than bright-colored foliage and singing around an autumn bonfire—but should you fancy either of these, for heaven's sake bundle yourself smartly in this bright brushed mohair poncho with a black fringe border and keep warm.

9 IN MEMORIAM

BANNING—In loving memory of a beloved husband and father, Raymond K. Banning, who passed away October 19, 1963.

A light is from our household gone
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
Some may think you are forgotten
Though on earth you are no more;
But in memory you are with us
As you always were before.

McCALL—In loving memory of David Moore McCall who passed away October 18, 1955.
—His Family

MacNEILL—In loving memory of Mother, Daisy Emma Collie MacNeill, who passed away October 19, 1963.

"God calls our loved ones, but we lose not wholly what He hath given.
They live on earth in thought and deed, as truly as in His Heaven."

—Always remembered by her family.

PENDLEBURY—In loving memory of my husband and father, Frank, who passed away Oct. 19, 1963.

Not dead to us who loved him,
Not lost, but gone before;
He lives with us in memory
And will forever more.

BRIDGE LESSON

By OSWALD JACOBY

When you open the bidding with one of a suit and your partner responds with one of a higher suit, the rebid to one no-trump should give your partner a tremendous amount of information about your hand.

It should show no-trump distribution (5-3-3-2; 4-4-3-2 or 4-3-3-3) and less high card strength than for an opening no-trump bid. In other words, a maximum of 14 high card points. In addition, it should deny ability to bid a second suit at the one level or to raise your partner's suit, and in almost all instances should promise a stopper in both unbid suits.

South's hand is a perfect example of the one no-trump rebid. He cannot raise spades. He can't bid another suit at the one level, and he has no-trump distribution. The hand also has stoppers for both unbid suits.

This one no-trump rebid should solve all problems for North, who has 15 high card points. He knows South holds 13 or 14, so that the hand belongs in game, but not in a slam. He also has been told that South cannot raise spades, so the game contract should be three no-trump.

South has no trouble making his contract and two overtricks. He wins the diamond opening, knocks out the ace of clubs and winds up with two spades, four hearts, two diamonds and three clubs.

REPAIR SINO-SOVIET RIFT

New Russian Leaders Reaffirm Peace Plea

They asserted they had "boldly cast aside" deposed Premier Nikita Khrushchev because he hampered Russia's progress.

New Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin outlined the new regime's first policy statement at ceremonies welcoming the three cosmonauts who made a 24-hour "space bus" flight last week.

Kosygin said Khrushchev was swept out of power by the "great titanic force" of the Soviet Communist power. He said the party "has always inspired everything new and progressive and boldly cast aside whatever hampers our progress."

The new premier said the Soviets are ready "to make a practical start on disarmament."

"Outer space should not be used for military purposes," he said.

Brezhnev, in his first public appearance since the fall of Nikita Khrushchev, made no threats against the West. He rattled no rockets.

The new Communist party chief, speaking from Khrushchev's old spot atop Lenin's tomb, also refrained from making any attacks on the Chinese Communists. He promised, instead, to work to repair the rift that has embittered relations between Russia and Red China.

Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin appeared at a Red Square rally honoring the three cosmonauts who orbited the earth for 24-hours lats week in the Soviet "space bus" named Sunrise.

COSMIC OCEAN

Kosygin spoke, saying, "May the sixth ocean, the cosmic one, become an arena of international co-operation."

"The Soviet Union," Kosygin said, "will step up its efforts aimed at settlement of disputed international questions through negotiations, the development of mutual understanding and trust between states and economic and cultural co-operation between the peoples on the basis of complete equality and mutual benefit."

Khrushchev was nowhere to be seen during the festivities. While he was still in office last Monday, he had promised the three spacemen a Moscow welcome "greater than the force of gravity."

Brezhnev hailed the space bus flight as "remarkable." He said the cosmonauts landed on the ground as easily as if they had been in a conventional passenger plane.

Russ Army Chief Killed in Crash

BIRYUZOV
. . . war hero

Biryuzov, the Soviet chief-of-staff, was named deputy defence minister only three months ago by ousted premier Nikita Khrushchev.

He had been considered close to Khrushchev and accompanied him on a trip to Czechoslovakia in July. Killed with him were seven top army officers.

The Yugoslav civil aviation department said the Ilyushin 18, a four-engine turboprop plane, hit Mount Avala 10 miles from Belgrade while flying a delegation here for Yugoslavia's 20th anniversary celebration of its liberation from the Nazis.

PREPARING TO LAND

The plane struck the 1,700-foot high mountain at the 1,312-foot level near the tomb of Yugoslavia's unknown soldier. It was preparing to land.

The seven officers killed with Biryuzov were veterans of the fighting which drove the Nazis out of Belgrade. They were to have been guests of honor, but all performances and festivities were cancelled.

Biryuzov was chief-of-staff of the Soviet armed forces and first deputy minister of defence. He also was a member of the central committee of the Soviet communist party.

Biryuzov was an aide to Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, the Soviet defence minister. But he was top military officer through his post as chief-of-staff of the armed forces. Khrushchev named him head of the strategic rocket forces in 1962.

RADIO CONTACT

The Tanjug News Agency said the IL-18 was to have flown over Mount Avala at an altitude of 3,600 feet. It was in regular radio contact with the Belgrade Airport at Surcin but at 11:34 a.m. it disappeared from a radar screen.

Rescue teams, including members of a fire brigade and the Yugoslav people's army and ambulances, rushed to the scene but all were dead.

Biryuzov, a veteran of the Battle of Stalingrad, was named chief-of-staff early last year, replacing Marshal Matvei Kakharov who had held the posts since 1959.

MANY DECORATIONS

Biryuzov was the holder of many decorations, including the Order of Hero of the Soviet Union.

He was one of the Soviet army leaders who rose to heights during the Second World War. He became a lieutenant-general in 1943 and a colonel-general a year later but it was not until March 12, 1955, that be became a marshal.

Biryuzov once boasted that Soviet nuclear power was the

House Urged to Bar Queen 'Sit-Downer'

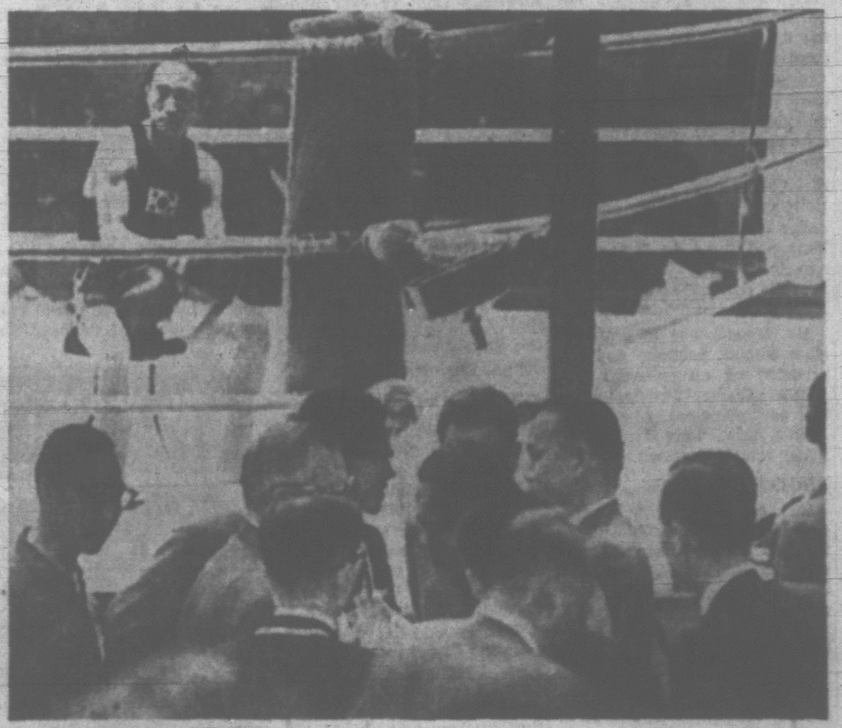
OTTAWA (CP)—Robert C. Coates (PC—Cumberland) suggested in the Commons today that an MP who failed to rise last Friday when the Commons sang God Save the Queen should be denied access to his seat in the House.

No action was taken on the suggestion in which Mr. Coates implied that Lucien Plourde (Creditiste—Quebec West) violated his oath of allegiance as an MP.

The incident involving Mr. Plourde occurred after the Commons approved a special message of loyalty and devotion to the Queen as a result of her visit to Canada.

He later told reporters "it would have taken O Canada to make me rise in the House." He said his action was not meant to be against the Queen.

Mr. Coates said MPs take an oath to be faithful and bear true allegiance. In standing to sing last Friday, MPs were displaying by their actions their adherence to this oath.



OLYMPIC SITDOWN was staged by Korean flyweight boxer Dong-Kih Choh in Tokyo today. Irked by decision, he stayed put until he was ousted. (AP Wirephoto)

WHEN CHOH SAID NO . . .

Olympics Sit-In Began

TOKYO (CP)—The Olympic boxing program had barely got under way tonight when it was halted by the stubborn refusal of a South Korean boxer to leave the ring after being disqualified.

Flyweight Choh Dong-kih waged his one-man strike for 50 minutes before two Korean boxing officials dragged him from the ring and the program went on.

Choh was disqualified by Australian referee Archie Tanner. Seconds after the bout started, Tanner warned Choh for persistently holding his head too low. Then he issued another warning, and with the round only 1:06 minutes old, disqualified Choh and awarded the verdict to his opponent, Stanislav Sorokin of Russia.

Said Tanner: "I stopped the fight because he refused to stop boxing every time I asked him to do so."

"The Russian was holding," said Fleischer, "and the Korean was trying to get away from him when he was cautioned by the referee for holding. The referee said 'break' but the Korean couldn't because the Russian was holding him. As far as I am concerned Sorokin was the guilty man and should have been disqualified."

"Choh will not leave the ring until that is granted,' 'said the coach.

After 50 minutes, Korean team officials entered the ring to try to persuade Choh to leave Choh threw his stool into the middle of the ring and followed with his towel and sweater.

Finally two Koreans restrained him and escorted him from the ring.

The public address announcer read the Korean boxing federation's apologies for the long delay, announcing in Japanese and English that a formal protest had been lodged by Korea, which would be considered by the executive of the International Amateur Boxing Association Tuesday.

Then another flyweight quarter-final proceeded.

Japanese Protesting Fallout

TOKYO (UPI)—Japanese scientists today reported sharp increases in radioactivity over Japan and blamed it on the fallout from Communist China's first atomic bomb test.

The government had announced earlier it planned to file a protest with Peking over last Friday's nuclear explosion. A spokesman disclosed that Chinese premier Chou En-Lai cabled Japanese Premier Hayato Ikeda to seek support for his government's call for a worldwide total ban on nuclear testing.

The spokesman said Chou insisted China was "forced" to develop the atomic bomb but emphasized it was for defensive purposes only.

Johnson Urges China Sign Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told congressional leaders today that the United States has made a "good beginning" in relations with the new leaders of Russia and hopes the Kremlin will join in renewed efforts to block any further spread of nuclear weapons.

Johnson stressed both these points Sunday night in a U.S.-wide television appearance in which he also spoke of the possible use by China of "nuclear blackmail" against other countries, now that it has exploded its first test bomb.

He warned, furthermore, that what he calls China's "expensive and demanding effort (to build nuclear weapons) tempts other states to equal folly—nuclear spread is dangerous to all mankind."

"We continue to believe," Johnson said, "that the struggle against nuclear spread is as much in the Soviet interest as in our own. We will be ready to join with them and all the world—in working to avoid it."

SUPPORTS TREATY

At the same time the president announced that Washington will continue to support the limited nuclear test ban treaty which the U.S., Russia, Britain and more than 100 other countries signed last year. France and Communist China did not sign.

"We call on the world—especially Red China—to join the

Worked in U.S. Says Thatcher

TORONTO (CP)—Saskatchewan Premier W. Ross Thatcher said today he will urge Finance Minister Gordon to consider major tax cuts in the next budget.

Speaking to the Canadian Club in Toronto, as part of his current drive to boost Saskatchewan's industrial development, he said the resurgence in the United States' economy since the major cut in taxes a short time ago warrants immediate consideration for tax cuts in Canada, particularly at the federal level.

He said: "In Canada, we are still tied to an antiquated tax system that grew up under conditions of depression or war.

"We seem to think that when we are confronted with problems, the first step is to raise taxes to give the government more money for pump priming.

"Surely, a more effective solution would be to create the economic climate that will encourage growth development and research, which in turn will result in greater productivity, employment, wages and profit."

He also said there is another threat to Confederation almost potentially as dangerous as separatism.

"At one dominion - provincial conference after another, the provinces faced with increasing costs are making even greater financial demands on Ottawa," he said. "And year by year, the federal authorities, for the sake of national unity, have been forced to give ground."

Surely the steady erosion of federal taxing powers must cause concern to all Canadians, he said. He added that in Saskatchewan they feel very strongly that the federal government has a job to do in ensuring stable economic growth.

DOCK STRIKE THREATENED

LONDON (CP) — Britain's new Labor government today faced the threat of a dock strike within a week of gaining power.

Longshoremen at two of London's busiest docks — Tilbury and the Royal Albert — voted to stage a token walkout Thursday for more pay and issued a call for support to all of Britain's 65,000 dockers.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Donald Burt, 24, described in court as an unemployed American, was given a seven-year prison sentence today on two counts of armed robbery.

Ho Hum, Flag Probers Can't Reach Decision

TORONTO (CP) — The Star says in an Ottawa dispatch that members of the special Commons flag committee, with its deadline less than two weeks away, "have all but despaired of producing a unanimous recommendation of a distinctive Canadian flag design."

The dispatch adds that there is even "some question whether it will be able to make a report at all, unanimous or otherwise," by the Oct. 29 deadline set out in its terms of reference.

The committee began closed-door sittings in mid-September and is reported to have examined some 1,200 designs submitted by the public.

The Star says the seven Liberal committee members, as well as representatives of the three minor parties, are understood to have agreed to scrap Prime Minister Pearson's favorite design of three red maple leaves on a white background between two vertical blue bars. But it adds they are united in insisting that the maple leaf be the central motif if the design is to be distinctively Canadian.

The Star says that at least four of the five Progressive Conservatives on the 15-member committee "have made it abundantly clear that they will not accept a design which does not display the Union Jack in a position of prominence."

SISTER CITIES SAY 'I DO' WITH FEELING

"WE'VE DONE IT AT LAST" is the sentiment expressed by Port Alberni Mayor Les Hammer (left) and Alberni Mayor Fred Bishop after they heard their bid to amalgamate had succeeded Saturday. (Flett photo)

The provincial government will start immediately to draw up formal documents to complete amalgamation of the Albernis, Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell said today.

Mr. Campbell said Saturday's yes-vote for the merger of Alberni and Port Alberni was "first-class."

"It's a pretty good example of giving people the facts first, letting them vote, and they'll come up with the right answer," he said.

Mr. Campbell said the next step is for the government to draw up new letters patent—the official documents setting the boundaries.

Effective date of the amalgamation will be Oct. 31, 1967.

"We'll move right away," Mr. Campbell said.

MAYORS JUBILANT

Today, the two mayors were jubilant over the strong support given by voters to the merger.

Said Mayor Les Hammer in Port Alberni: "This is an historic occasion. It shows many of the people in Port Alberni are truly good neighbors.

In Alberni, Mayor Fred Bishop was equally enthusiastic.

He said: "It's just too good to be true. We couldn't have hoped for a better turnout in our favor than this."

He said that while it was sad to come to the end of an era he saw the new City of Port Alberni as one second to none in the province.

"Nothing but good can come of this.

About half the 6,562 eligible voters in the twin cities turned out to vote to give an overall 80 per cent approval.

In Alberni alone the vote went almost 94 per cent in favor.

Alberni voted 995 for merging, 68 against.

In Port Alberni, which returned a 72.5 per cent "yes" vote, there were 1,557 in favor, 596 against.

SALTAIR BACKS MERGER WITH N. COWICHAN

NORTH COWICHAN — The Saltair Ratepayers' Association voted 41 to 25 Saturday night for merger with North Cowichan rather than Ladysmith.

After the vote, some ratepayers protested that they were not given a chance to vote on whether to merge with Ladysmith, stay unorganized or create a new municipality.

Association chairman W. W. Wyllie said the vote made no other motions necessary, since the outcome would have been the same.

Sooke Man Asks, Gets Longer Term

A 38-year-old Sooke man who was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for a sex offence has won his plea for a longer term.

Donald Edward Ellis was sentenced in Victoria County Court Friday to two years less a day after pleading guilty to having sexual intercourse with a 15-year-old girl on Sept. 19 without her consent. This sentence would have placed him in Oakalla prison.

But later he appeared before Magistrate Eugene Murphy in provincial magistrate's court and pleaded guilty to cashing two $25 forged cheques in Hope, B.C., last year.

Ellis asked the magistrate for a penitentiary term.

He said he would not get the psychiatric help he needed in Oakalla.

U.K. Pledges To Back U.S.

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson's new Labor Party government informed the United States officially today it is anxious "to maintain the Anglo-American alliance."

nations which have signed that treaty," Johnson said.

Earlier Sunday, Johnson sent greetings to Russian Premier Alexei Kosygin and said he hoped "our governmets will work constructively in attempting to resolve the urgent international problems facing us."

Of Khrushchev's successors, Johnson said Sunday night they are younger men who may be "less rooted in their past," and they are said "to be realistic."

"We can hope that they will share with us our great objective; the prevention of nuclear war."

Republicans branded it a "no news" speech. GOP national chairman Dean Burch sent telegrams to the three television networks and the Federal Communications Commission, demanding equal broadcast time for Goldwater to reply.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The three major television networks turned down a Republican demand that Barry M. Goldwater be given equal time to answer President Johnson's broadcast on world affairs Sunday night.

GOLD MINE SUNK MIKE

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson, a one-time newspaper delivery boy in Toronto, was presented with a gold membership in the newspaper boys' hall of fame in a brief ceremony Saturday.

Mr. Pearson used the occasion to clear up a story which he said was "misconstrued" last year. He denied that his clergyman father kept the $50 which he earned one winter delivering newspapers.

"I naturally gave it to him to look after," Mr. Person explained. "He invested it for me in a gold mine in which there wasn't any gold. So I did lose the money."

TWO FEARED DROWNED

TOFINO (CP) — The search was to continue today for two men missing and feared drowned off this west coast Vancouver Island community.

The troller disappeared after bringing a sick man to Tofino from Hot Springs Cove. The trip was in vain, as the patient, William Jones, 74, died shortly after being admitted.

An RCMP search plane Sunday sighted wreckage of the troller and the overturned skiff belonging to the missing boat was found washed ashore at Boulder Point, near Estevan Point.

Wilson In Fight Over Steel

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson, hamstrung by the narrowest of parliamentary majorities, must decide soon whether to risk the life of his government by pressing ahead with the controversial nationalization of steel.

The decision could set the whole tone of his administration.

Experts said, if Wilson goes ahead with nationalization, it would mean he will follow a bold course of action and reform. If he decides against nationalization, they said, it would signify a cool and cautious course aimed at protecting his Labor Party's four-seat majority in the 630-seat House of Commons.

The nine Liberal party members of Parliament were expected to help the Labor Party on most issues, but have said they will vote against any move to nationalize steel.

Steel nationalization would be a dramatic start of the "first 100 days" which Wilson has promised would "get this country moving again." But many political observers here said Wilson's narrow majority—and the fact that his party won only 44 per cent of the popular vote in last Thursday's election, gave him no mandate for such a move.

OWN PARTY SPLIT

The Labor Party government of 1945-51 nationalized Britain's powerful steel industry—traditionally a red flag to staunch socialists. The Conservative party government that followed it denationalized all but one steel firm. The Labor platform during the recent campaign rested firmly on a re-nationalization pledge.

Wilson, who has promised a "great reforming administration," was under cross pressures within his own party today. Many members wanted him to cement his power by shunning further nationalization. But such a course could stir a revolt by the Labor Party's strong left-wing.

FORT ST. JAMES (CP)—Four men involved in a railway route survey escaped serious injury today when a helicopter struck a building on takeoff and landed on its back in a shallow part of Stuart Lake.

The four crawled from the $80,000 helicopter and waded through three feet of water to the shore of the lake near this Northwestern B.C. community.

Police identified them as pilot Eiliv Hammer, 32, and passengers Dixon Prinze of Fort St. James and Thomas Graham and Alex Ballas, both of Prince George.
